

Harleton Police Chief Under Investigation

Harleton Police Chief Donald Zerbe, who has been chief since 1980, is now under investigation for alleged theft by extortion.

Investigators allege the Chief offers traffic violators a choice of either paying the fine or getting out of being issued a ticket if they make a donation of $150 to a fund that helps maintain the community park. Harleton currently has a police force consisting of four part-time officers and the chief.

In December, State Police searched Zerbe's department office which is located in his home and took traffic citations from 2008 to 2012.

According to a search warrant, Zerbe has been giving drivers this option for quite some time. At least two people told investigators that the Harleton Police gave them an option after being pulled over for speeding; either pay the fine or call Chief Zerbe. The exact number of traffic citations that ended up as donations to the Harleton community park.

Zerbe is still the chief of police in Harleton. The borough's mayor stated that until there is a proven violation, he will remain as police chief.

Wirth Sentenced 9 to 25 years for Fatal Accident

On Thursday, April 11, Christopher Wirth, 22, of Hartleton, was sentenced to 9 to 25 years for the January 2012 crash that killed his girlfriend Allison Von Neida, who is the mother of his child. Wirth and passenger Desiree Cronin, who was a witness in the trial, were both seriously injured in the crash on Route 235 in Hartley Township and were both flown to Geisinger Medical Center for treatment.

During the two hour hearing Wirth accused Cronin of lying, criticized his parole officer, and accused prosecutors of piling on charges. He gave a 30 minute speech blasting the courts and officials ending with him declaring he should be retried. Judge Louise O. Knight sentenced him to 9 to 25 years in prison.

Wirth continued to interrupt the judge and at one point Knight told him to listen to her before telling him he wouldn't be eligible for parole until he served 10 years.

The jury found Wirth guilty on felony counts of homicide by vehicle, and homicide by vehicle including driving while intoxicated; two felony counts of aggravated assault, one including a DUI; and one felony count of accidental death or injury while not properly licensed.

Von Neida was pronounced dead at the scene after being ejected from the speeding car after it struck trees along Route 235.

Before Wirth's statements, his attorney, Brian Ulmer, of Lewisburg, filed an oral motion for extraordinary relief, stating that the jury was misled by police to believe that Wirth twice claimed Von Neida was driving that night. Knight denied the motion.

During the trial, Ulmer challenged Cronin's testimony, specifically asking if she had bumped Wirth when she looked at the speedometer. She claimed she did not touch Wirth.

The statement that sticks with many in the courtroom was Wirth's statement about his and Von Neida's daughter. He stated this her eyes would sparkle when she saw her mother and knowing that she will never see that spark again and knowing that he was partially responsible for it.

District Attorney D. Peter Johnson, stated that Wirth's statements cements the idea that he has no remorse or idea of responsibility for the accident.

Knight told Wirth that there was no question that he was the driver of the vehicle and on probation at the time. "He knew the road. To go 89 mph through a small village, intoxicated with two people in the car ...you are a danger to the community. I am very concerned with your behavior here."

Flashback

In 1912, Devitt's Camp, started inauspiciously in a barn, treated tubercular patients. Through the generosity of Philadelphia physician William Devitt as well as local physicians and members of the community, the sanatoria treated, cared for and housed patients and their families. The approach to Devitt's Camp, as it appeared between 1912-1923, was the first in a series of at least 18 real photo postcards produced by the Swanger Studio of Milton. In the future, I may list more remedies, but I've been looking at the Glossary of this book and it is an "education" for me and so I thought you might enjoy some of the explanations also. Many of these are words and terms common to the housewife before the days of modern kitchens and convenience foods!

BAKING POWDER---A leavening superior to the previous products. Produced commercially in 1850, it did much to improve the quality and texture of cakes. (What did they use before this??)

BARREL---32 1/2 gallons (usually).

BLADDER--- Yes...animal bladders were used to cover crocks of preserves.

BRANDY PAPER---Paper saturated with brandy and used to cover preserved fruits.

BRUISE---To crush or to pound.

CAKE---Of all the entries in the old cookbooks, cakes outnumber everything else. This is especially true of those kept by Pennsylvania Dutch housewives, due in part to the lack of dialect words to differentiate between cakes and cookies. It's almost impossible in some cases to tell the difference, even after reading the ingredients.

CUP CAKE---A cake called this because measurements were given in cups rather than pounds and ounces. It can also refer to cakes baked in small cups.

DEMIJOHN---A bottle encased in wicker to prevent breakage.

DIP CAKE---A coffee cake or one that lends itself to "dipping" or dunking.

DO ---An abbreviated form for ditto.

DRAM. DRAHM--- A unit of measure; 60 grains or 1/8 of an ounce.

FLITCH--- A side of bacon.

FROTH--- To heat to boiling or to allow to brown.

GILL--- A unit of measure; 1/4 pint or 1/2 cup. (That's my mother's maiden name! I never knew it was a unit of measure!)

HARTSHORN (Salts) --- Ammonium bicarbonate derived from the horns of deer and other animals, used as a leavening agent. It's no longer used locally, but many European recipes call for it because of its ability to make cookies crisp.

HARTSHORN (Shavings) --- Shavings taken from the horns of animals; they possess a gelatinous quality useful for making jelly. Hartshorn flummery, an early gelatinous dessert, is found in most old cookbooks.

(From the Boyertown Area Cookbook, used with permission)

Several of these terms are completely new to me! How about you? "Flitch"... "Froth"... have you ever heard these words used as the descriptions state? And do you know of other terms that would fit into this group, alphabetically? Let me know! Jean Markley Keiser, 1133 Carolina Ave., West Chester, PA 19380 bjkeiser@cheerful.com

Bicentennial Bicycle Ride Kicks Off Union County 200 Passport Program

Cyclists can celebrate Union County's 200th anniversary by joining escorted bike rides through rural Union County and along the Buffalo Valley Rail Trail on Sunday, April 21, beginning at 1 p.m. The event, sponsored by the Merrill W. Linn Land & Waterways Conservancy as part of its Caring for Communities Earth Month Celebration, initiates Union County's UC200 Passport program that encourages residents to participate in events focusing on the County's communities, history and natural beauty during the bicentennial year.

"Participants can choose from two ride options—15 miles and 30 miles—geared to different fitness levels and biking experience," says biking enthusiast Tom Gibson, who leads the annual outing.

The Bicentennial Bicycle Ride will leave from the Dale/Engle/Walker (D/E/W) property located at 1471 Strawbridge Road off Route 192, 1.7 miles west of Lewisburg. Participants are asked to drive to the end of the lane, park in the old barnyard area, and then meet at the Dale's Ridge Trail parking lot. For more information about this event and other Earth Month Celebration events, go to www.linnconservancy.org or call 524-8666. For information about the UC200 Passport program visit www.UnionCounty200.com.

Is Your Child Safety Seat Installed Correctly? Get it Checked.

Amy Minnier, RN, Nurse Educator and Certified Child Passenger Safety Technician of Evangelical Community Health Education, looks over a child safety seat to make sure it is properly installed. Four out of five child safety seats are installed incorrectly.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for young children, but many of these deaths can be prevented if children ride in a properly fastened and secured car seat.

Four out of five child safety seats are installed incorrectly, attending this event will help make sure yours is not one of them.

Certified Child Passenger Safety Technicians will be available to instruct parents on how to properly install their child safety seat and demonstrate how to safely secure their child. Participants are asked to bring their vehicle, the owner's manual for the vehicle, and the instruction manual for the safety seat they are using. No appointment is required.

For more information about the Child Safety Seat event and other health and wellness programs offered by Evangelical Community Hospital, call the Evangelical Community Health Education Center at 570-768-3200.

Conservancy Celebrates Earth Month With Montandon Wetlands Tour

The Merrill W. Linn Land & Waterways Conservancy will sponsor a free, escorted tour of the Montandon wetlands on Saturday, April 20, beginning at 10 a.m. The walk, one of a series of Conservancy-sponsored events celebrating Earth Month, is a rare opportunity to explore this protected habitat, which contains sand dunes, vernal pools and animal and plant species of special concern in Pennsylvania. The site also features a unique geology created through glaciation and its proximity to the Susquehanna River.

The walk, which will extend on trails deep into the marsh area, will be led by Bucknell University biology and geology professors, who frequently use the site as an outdoor classroom, and Tony Markunas, III, of Central Builder Supply. Mr. Markunas, will talk about his company's role in protecting and preserving the wetlands. Nearly 80 acres of the wetlands is protected by a land trust agreement between the Linn Conservancy and Central Builders that permanently protects the land for generations to come, while keeping it in Central Builder's ownership and control.

Participants, who are urged to wear rubber boots, will meet at the Central Builders sand plant off Route 45. The gated entrance is 0.3 miles west of Route 405 and the Lewisburg Bridge. Visit www.linnconservancy.org or call 524-866 for more information about this and other events offered throughout April and early May during the Conservancy's Caring for Communities Earth Month Celebration.

Clear Steering Against Distracted Driving

As The Kidz4Education, a division of Kingdom Kidz Inc., has been introducing their innovative and interactive program for middle school students to administrators and businesses in the Central PA region, the momentum is growing. The "Clear Steering Against Distracted Driving" program is a high quality, serious, interactive 45 minute program using excellent coordinated puppetry, effective lighting, and videos. The scenes will involve distracted drivers eating while driving; putting on makeup; watching an incident; reaching for something on the floor; looking at a passenger, etc. Following each scene, a panel consisting of an insurance agent, community police officer and local parent/sibling of a teen involved in a driver distracted accident will share with the students. The program will be offered to approximately 32 public and private schools in a 3 year period. Steve Everitt (Lawton Agency, Lewisburg and Mifflinburg) was instrumental in the idea of such a program because of his desire to see young lives saved on our local highways.

Recently, Jeff Coup, President of The Coup Agency in Milton and Lewisburg, presented a $ 500.00 check to Donna Bridge, President/CEO, in support and sponsorship of the program. Julie Reedy (Coup Agency, Lewisburg) and parent of a middle school student has asked to be a panel participant because of the program's emphasis on educating students before they begin driving.

The Shaw Funeral Home in Milton and the Standard Journal have announced their sponsorship and support. Also, an anonymous donation of $ 500.00 has been offered. The "Clear Steering Against Distracted Driving" has been endorsed by the Business and Education Committee of the Central PA Chamber of Commerce.

For more information about the program, call 742-0379 or visit their website at www.hiskingdomkidz.org.

Esh Defeats Cisney In Exciting Port Royal Sprint Car Battle, Miller And Krape Take Stock Cars

By Shawn Brouse

Doug Esh survived the challenges of hometown driver Dylan Cisney to record his first regular event sprint car victory at Port Royal Speedway on Saturday night in an exciting, suspenseful race worth $3,000 to the winner.

In the late model main, it was Huntingdon's Jeff Miller scoring his first ever Port Royal victory, leading all 20 laps for the win while racing behind him in the top five was action packed.

The pro stock main went to Tim Krape for his first victory of the season at the track.

It was Race To Cure Cancer Night at the track with proceeds from portions of ticket sales as well as other donations going to the American Cancer Society.

More than $3,000 was gathered for ACS including $300 for the auction of a pink Susan G. Komen Race For A Cure VP Racing Fuels canister autographed by the drivers in competition.

Royersford's Steve Buckwalter and Fayetteville's Lance Dewease started on the front row of the 25-lap sprint car main and Buckwalter took control when the feature got underway. Last week's winner, Rick Lafferty dropped out of the event on just the second circuit and by that time, fifth starter Esh was already up to third behind the front row duo.

Esh drove by Dewease with four away and began running down Buckwalter as Cisney entered the top four.

The leader entered traffic on the seventh tour and that's when Cisney really began closing.

After driving by Dewease on the sixth lap, he began closing on the leaders while running the high line around the speedway as Esh continued to stalk Buckwalter.

All three drivers were within a turn of one another with 12 laps to go when Buckwalter's motor expired on the backstretch, causing the races first yellow flag period.

Esh inherited the lead and Cisney kept him close on the restart but couldn't quite pull the trigger for the lead but another chance for Cisney was in the offing.

With 10 laps to go, Mike Ruttkamp and Daryl Stimeling connected in the second turn and on the ensuing restart Cisney brought the fans up off their seats when he pounced on the low side entering the first corner.

A big old slide job netted Cisney the lead as he exited the second turn and headed down the backchute.

Not giving up, Esh surged onto his rear bumper as the pair headed for the third corner and Esh drove deep into turn three to return the favor and reclaim command.

Cisney quickly turned the car in an effort to shoot back in front as Esh composed himself to turn the car down the frontstretch but after getting back in front, it seemed Esh turned the wick up to drive off to the victory.

"Man, that kid wanted to win," Esh said in victory lane. "He's really good."

It was the Lancaster driver's third overall win at Port Royal.

Cisney finished a career best of second at age 20, some .771 seconds behind, followed by Mike Wagner, Chad Layton and Dewease.

Sixth through 10th went to Davey Sammons, Mike Erdley, Joey Hershey, Blane Heimbach and Cliff Brian.

Triple heats for the 22-car field went to Dewease, Buckwalter and Lafferty.

Miller started on the pole of the late model main and wired the field for the $1,500 victory.

His pace at the front was slowed quickly on the second lap when Brett Schadel fell out of the event, slowing on the track.

Third starter Sam Schaffer drove into second on the restart with Steve Campbell in tow and the race entered the backmarkers on the ninth tour.

Chris Casner raced with Campbell during the mid stages of the race and for a time secured third before last week's winner Matt Parks entered the fray after starting ninth.

A restart with six laps to go moved Parks into second but instead of being able to focus on Miller for the lead, Parks had to contend late in the event with a hard charging Tim Wilson, who started 10th.

Wilson bolted into fourth with three to go and blistered by Parks with two to go.

Wilson ran out of time to get to the leader by the finish however and Schaffer drove by Parks with two to go as well.

Miller took the win by .646 second over Wilson, Schaffer, Parks and Campbell.

Sixth through 10th went to Casner, Mike Lupfer, Chad Hollenbeck, Mitch Hack and Bryon Sipe.

Triple heats for the 25-car field went to Parks, Justin Kann and Derek Byler.

Andrew Shoop led on the first lap of the 15-lap pro stock main before Krape took over for the victory.

The event went non-stop with opening day winner Keith Garman driving into second on the fourth circuit but failing to close on the leader.

Dusty Baker was pressured for third by Nate Fisher at different times during the race but secured the spot at the finish.

Shoop ended up fourth followed by Fisher.

Sixth through 10th went to Kyle Rapp, Dave Kepner, Nate Stroup, Dave Berry and Scott Landis.

Twin heats went to Krape and Garman.

Rowdy Kyle Busch Owns Texas

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

FT. WORTH, TEX.---Kyle Busch is on a roll.

He won both the Nationwide and Cup races at Texas Motor Speedway this past weekend.

Busch started from the pole position in Saturday night's Cup race and remained in the top-three for most of the race. As the laps wound down, Busch was in second place and steadily chasing down leader Martin Truex Jr., when the caution flag waved at lap 315 of the 334-lap race. With just 19 laps remaining, all the leaders decided to bring their cars down pit road. A quick, four-tire pit stop by his pit crew put Busch back in the top spot for the final restart of the night, and he never looked back, taking the checkered flag.

"It's good, really good," said Busch, "We've had a good start to the season. It feels amazing to keep this roll going. It's so much fun to race with this group. We had a talk over the winter, Dave (Rogers, crew chief) and I had a talk a few weeks ago, and things have kind of jelled -- we've been doing really, really good."

Martin Truex Jr. finished .508 of a second behind Busch in the runner-up spot. His No. 56 Toyota failed the height-stick test and was deemed too low in the front. The car will be taken to NASCAR's research-and-development center in Concord, N.C. for further examination.

"We came in with the lead," Truex said. "I still feel like we should have been able to beat him out. I don't know what happened there, but it wasn't even close. I was three (car-lengths) behind, so it wasn't all pit position, it was other things on our end."

Carl Edwards, Greg Biffle and Joey Logano rounded out the top-five. Jimmie Johnson, Aric Almirola, Brian Vickers, Brad Keselowski and Newman comprised the remainder of the top-10.

Edwards looked like he was headed for a long night early in the race. First, his engine began sputtering and then his seat belts came unhooked under caution and he couldn't get them re-attached until after the restart. Incredibly, Edwards managed to hook his belts into place after taking the green flag and while racing at about 200 mph. Despite all that, Edwards rallied for an impressive third-place finish.

Trouble started early for the Penske Racing Fords of reigning series champion Brad Keselowski and Joey Logano. NASCAR confiscated the rear-end housings of both cars, forcing the teams to make a change before the race.

Keselowski made it to the grid in time for the start, but Logano's car was late presenting itself on pit road and had to start from the rear.

"It is just something that is not in the spirit of the rules," NASCAR vice president of competition told the Sporting News in explaining the violation. If penalties are forthcoming, they will be announced next week."

Keselowski remains second in the Cup standings, but he may be in trouble again for lambasting NASCAR with his post-race comments.

"I don't have a lot of good things to say right now," Keselowski said. "The things that I've seen over the last seven days have me questioning everything I believe in and I'm not happy about it. I don't have anything positive to say."

"There's so much stuff going on, you guys have no idea -- you have no (expletive) idea what's going on. I can tell you there is no team in this garage with the integrity of the 2 team."

"The way we've been treated over the last seven days is absolute shameful. I feel like we've been targeted over the last seven days more than I've ever seen a team targeted in my life. My guys keep their heads on straight and they showcased why they're a winning team and a championship team."

"We're not going to take it. We're not going to be treated this way."

Good luck Brad. Just remember that Tony Stewart found out several years ago, that, "It's NASCAR's way or the highway."

Two weeks after leading the standings, Dale Earnhardt's team seems to have reversed direction. He was running third when his car lost power, Earnhardt went to pit road instead of switching to the backup battery. He was nabbed for speeding on the pit stop and had to serve a pass-thru penalty. Then, crew chief Steve Letarte had him stop for four tires during the penalty stop, which is against the rules and cost them another pass-thru penalty. Earnhardt wound up three laps down and finished 29th on a day when he had a car that seemed capable of challenging for the win.

Kurt Busch, who started on the outside pole, had fuel pressure problems. He was able to run with the leaders, but lost 17 laps in the pits due to repairs.

"We need to get these problems rectified sooner than later," stated Busch, who also saw a strong run stymied due to a parts failure last week in Martinsville. "I feel confident that we'll get this accomplished and have another fast Furniture Row Chevrolet SS in Kansas next week."

After seven of 36 races, Busch is 24th in points.

Danica Patrick continues to struggle. She started 40th and finished 28th, three laps down.

Top-10 leaders after 7 of 36: 1. Johnson-269, 2. Keselowski-260, 3. Kyle Busch-251, 4. Biffle-239, 5. Edwards-234, 6. Earnhardt-234, 7. Kahne-232, 8. Bowyer-208, 9. Logano-207, 10. Menard-206.

Kyle Busch is on a winning streak in the Nationwide series. He won last weekend's race at Texas for his fourth win in six races this season, becoming the first driver in series history to win four of the first six.

Brad Keselowski had a straightforward assessment of Busch's dominance at Texas.

"If you put an elite driver in an elite car, you should get elite results," Keselowski said.

The victory was Busch's record sixth at Texas and his record 55th in the Nationwide Series. Brad Keselowski ran second, 2.272 seconds behind the winner. Austin Dillon was third, followed by Dale Earnhardt Jr., Kevin Harvick, Matt Kenseth, Regan Smith, Kasey Kahne, Brian Vickers, and Justin Allgaier.

Top-10 points leaders after 6 of 33: 1. Hornish-221, 2. Smith-219, 3. A. Dillon-213, 4. Allgaier-212, 5. Scott-212, 6. Kligerman-186, 7. Sadler-185, 8. Bowman-183, 9. Vickers-182, 10. Bayne-181.

KYLE LARSON WINS AT THE "ROCK"

Kyle Larson held off a hard-charging Joey Logano to win Sunday's Truck race at Rockingham, NC. Brendan Gaughan was third, followed by Johnny Sauter, Chase Elliott, Matt Crafton, Jeb Burton, Ryan Blaney, Erik Jones, and Miguel Paludo.

The SEDA-COG Joint Rail Authority (JRA), provider of five short line railroads to four of the five Focus Central PA partner counties is giving back to the community with an investment of $3000.00 to Focus Central PA.

Focus Central PA (Focus) will use these funds to further its business attraction marketing program, which proactively targets corporate real estate decision makers and site location consultants, who often influence a corporations' decision of where to expand or relocate. This is done in part by maintaining a powerful presence on the Internet and with Commercial and Corporate Site Location Selectors. According to Don Alexander, acting president of Focus and President /CEO of the Union County Economic Development Corporation, "the research shows that over 98% of commercial site searches are initiated on the internet. So, it is vital that Focus maintain a strong and dynamic Web-based presence in order to increase the likelihood of recruiting a business to our region." The JRA's investment helps Focus maintain their comprehensive inventory of available sites and buildings along with highly valuable supporting demographic, work force, and business information via their website at <http://www.focuscentralpa.org/Available-Properties.aspx>. "Our goal is to attract industries that will provide much-needed jobs to this area, jobs that will provide family-sustaining wages. We are thrilled the JRA has chosen to back the work Focus does. Having the endorsement of this organization is quite affirming. Additionally, through the JRA's advertising on our website, it helps demonstrate to Site Selectors our regions team-based approach to providing the services they need," said Focus Executive Director Meg Smith.

The American Legion Post 957 of New Berlin recently presented several local community organizations with charitable donations as part of their missions to mentor youth, sponsor wholesome programs in our communities, and do what they do best, serve others.

The Legion Post of New Berlin poured more than $30,000 back into non-profit organizations in New Berlin, Mifflinburg, and Lewisburg in the past weeks. Organizations were chosen based upon the Legion mission, organizational needs and the type of service they provide to the communities, military veterans & service members.

Those who benefitted in New Berlin included Boy Scout Troop 508 and the New Berlin Recreation Association, which sponsors Little League baseball in the community, each receiving $5,000, and the New Berlin Volunteer Fire Department, which received a check for $10,000.

New Berlin's Fire Captain, Brandon Ressigie, astonished with the sum of the donation, said "you have no idea what this means to us, to the department. We can't thank you enough." They plan to use the funds toward the refurbishment of a recently purchased brush truck for the company.

Boy Scout Troop 508 couldn't contain their excitement as the long-time dream of a much needed equipment trailer for the troop has now become a reality. The funds will also help the troop participate in more activities to foster Scout development.

The Legion also made donations to organizations in surrounding communities including M.A.M.M.A (Mifflinburg Area Military Moms Association), $500, The Herr Memorial Library, $1,100, The Union County Chapter of the American Red Cross, $5,000 and Evangelical Community Hospital's Hospice Program, which received a donation of $11,754. The Legion also made a sizable donation to a Pennsylvania based veterans organization that directly provides assistance to veterans.

Legion Commander Marty Russell said, "The organizations we chose really make a huge impact in our communities and our lives, more than you may realize. The opportunity to give back to them and helping them to keep doing what it is they do is such an incredible feeling and so very rewarding. I am so proud of my Post, my Legionnaires and so proud to be a Legionnaire."

The American Legion was chartered and founded on the premise of being a patriotic veteran's organization devoted to mutual helpfulness. It is the nation's largest wartime veteran's service organization, committed to mentoring youth and sponsorship of wholesome programs in our communities, advocating patriotism and honor, promoting strong national security, and continued devotion to our fellow service members and veterans. Hundreds of local American Legion programs and activities strengthen the nation one community at a time. The American Legion's success depends entirely on active membership, participation and volunteerism. The organization belongs to the people it serves and the communities in which it thrives.
