Local Athlete Lights Torch at Special Olympics

Athlete Seth Jarrett, of the Union County Special Olympics, had the opportunity to carry and light the torch at the Special Olympics Pennsylvania Summer games opening ceremony in June.

The ceremony was held at Medlar Field at Lubrano Park near the Penn State University campus. The torch began its journey at PNC Park in Pittsburgh with the "Be a Fan" Torch run, which is a 3-day, 150 mile run from Pittsburgh to Penn State. Hundreds of runners representing law enforcement officers from across the state participated in the run to kick off the 44th annual Summer Games. Seth was honored to have the opportunity to carry the torch!

Williamson Dies After Dirt Track Crash

Kramer Williamson, also known as the "Pink Panther", passed away on Sunday, August 4, at approximately 5:30 p.m. from injuries he sustained in a United Racing Company (URC) sanctioned 360 sprint car race at Lincoln Speedway in Abbotstown on Saturday, August 3.

Williamson, of Palmyra, PA, was injured in a crash in the first qualifying event on Saturday evening. He was air-lifted to York Hospital, where he later died from his injuries.

A press release from Lincoln Speedway describes the accident as his car rolled over the back wheel of another sprint car and into the second turn catch fence, falling onto all four wheels before overturning.

For most of his career he drove the "Pink Panther" No. 73. He began driving the "Pink Panther" car in 1968. He became a sprint car driving legend who won hundreds of races including Sprint Car Track Championships at Selinsgrove Speedway and Williams Grove Speedway. He won the Williams Grove National Open in 2008 and was recognized for his accomplishments when he was inducted into the National Spring Car Hall of Fame, in Knoxville, IA and in the URC's Hall of fame in 2010. In all, Williamson recorded 67 career wins and three championships with URC.

He is survived by his wife Sharon, son Kurt and daughter Felecia.

PA Power Elite Finishes 4th at the Eastern National Tournament

PA Power Elite Finishes 4th at the Eastern National Tournament held in Sterling VA July 25 to 28.

If you would have told coaches Mike Wolfe, Brad Longacre and Craig Hoffman at the beginning of the season that their team would finish 4th at this year's national tournament they may have had their doubts. They would all agree that there are many talented softball players on their team, 6 of them finished 2nd in last year's 10U Eastern National Tournament, but the fact remains that 9 of their 11 players are league age 11.

PA Power Elite is made up of players from Selinsgrove, Middleburg, Mifflinburg and Lewisburg and finished 4th at the tournament with a 5 and 3 record, losing only to the 1st and 3rd place finishers.

"We are so proud of this team" said Coach Hoffman, "we tell the girls all the time that defense wins games and our defense did a super job, we couldn't ask for more from them". Coach Wolfe adds, "it was great to see how the girls really came together as a team this weekend. It was not about 2 or 3 girls, it was about a team and a desire to do the best they could against the best competition they faced all year. I am truly honored to be a part of this team."

The team has a few more tournaments this fall and is looking forward to an upcoming try-out where they will try to fill the void in their roster left by Marlo Ptacin and Haley Grenfell (both of Selinsgrove) who must move to 14U next season. With 9 of their 11 players returning, PA Power Elite hopes to have as much success at next year's 12U Eastern National Tournament as they did this year.

Flashback

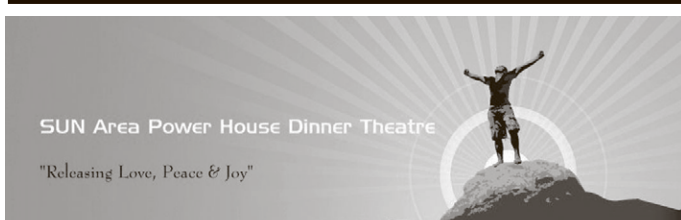

The Hartleton Lutheran Church was built in 1875. It is believed to have been one of Enoch Miller's earlier structures. In response to the drive for funds, at its dedication in June 1876, the sum of $1,600 was raised, canceling the debt. The building, located just west of 501 Main Street, was demolished in the late 1960s following the merger of Lutheran congregations. (Union County Historical Society)

Mediation Center to Train New Volunteer Mediators

Central Susquehanna Valley Mediation Center, Inc. will offer free Family Mediation Training for adults who want to volunteer to serve as mediators at the center.
"This is a great - and uncommon - opportunity for people seeking to make an important contribution to their community through volunteerism," said mediation training chair Barbara Skrivaneck. The center trains new volunteers about once each year.
The 40-hour training will be held over two weekends (Sept. 20-22 and 27-29) at the Snyder County East building at 713 Bridge Street in Selinsgrove. Each weekend, training is held Friday 5-9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Trainees must attend all sessions on both weekends to complete the required 40 hours of training.
Training is free to those who commit to serve as active volunteer mediators at the center for at least two years. A limited number of training slots are available for those seeking training without serving as volunteers; tuition for these trainees is $750.
Training will be conducted by Winnie Backlund, a respected mediator and trainer and Fellow of the Institute for the Study of Conflict Transformation, Inc. (which is associated with the Hofstra University Law School).
The non-profit center offers people in conflict the opportunity to discuss their differences in a safe and neutral setting, with mediators facilitating conversation. All mediators at the center are trained volunteers. Center mediators help people with disputes including child custody, eldercare, neighborhood, family, landlord/tenant and business.
Since the center opened in 2011, most of its nearly 600 cases have involved child custody. Snyder and Union County courts refer child custody litigants to the center for mediation orientation, giving parents the opportunity to discuss their dispute and often resolve it on their own terms.
Applications for training will be reviewed on a first come, first considered basis; potential trainees should submit applications as soon as possible, but no later than Sept. 1. Applications for mediator training are available by calling the center at 570-374-1718 or emailing info@csvmediation.org. For more information about the mediation center, visit csvmediation.org.

Kahne Outlasts Gordon At Pocono

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

POCONO, Penn.—Kasey Kahne seemed to have Sunday's Sprint Cup race in hand until a caution came out with nine laps to go in the 160-lap race. He lost the lead to Jeff Gordon on the restart. Four laps later, Matt Kenseth spun, bringing out the race's last caution.

Jeff Gordon lined up on the inside of the front row, while Kahne was on his outside. When the race went green, Gordon briefly took the lead, but Kahne regained it about one lap from the finish line, and held off Gordon for his second win of the year.

"I knew I had a good car, and it would have been a shame to have given this one away," said Kahne. "I knew that if I could ever get back in front, I could hold him off. Once I got to turn-2, and was ahead of him, I felt like we had it."

Gordon had a fast car, but seemed to lose some momentum on the last restart.

"What a disappointment," said Gordon. "It was certainly my fault. On that last restart, I tried to block the inside and he (Kahne) took off on the outside. He was gone, and there wasn't any way I was going to catch him."

Kurt Busch was third, followed by Ryan Newman, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Brad Keselowski, Joey Logano, Kyle Busch, Tony Stewart, and Greg Biffle.

Danica Patrick and three other cars got together in turn-2 during lap 109.

"Well, you know when you're racing close like that, going into corners, the car gets tight," said Patrick. "It went up the track on me, and then it just came around. I had no place to go."

Jeff Burton was one of the cars collected in the accident.

"I don't really know what happened," said Burton. "Everything happened a long way ahead of me. When I came along the track was blocked, and all I could see was a wad of cars across the track."

Jimmy Johnson had a right front tire blow, causing him to hit the outside wall. Despite a 13th-place finish, he increased his points lead.

Top-10 leaders after 21 of 36: 1. Johnson-772, 2. Bowyer-695, 3. Edwards-688, 4. Harvick-657, 5. Earnhardt-656, 6. Kyle Busch-646, 7. Kenseth-638, 8. Kahne-612, 9. Gordon-602, 10. Biffle-599.

PENSKE IS 1-2 AT IOWA

Brad Keselowski finished first and Sam Hornish came in second to give Penske Racing a sweep of the top-2 spots in Saturday's Nationwide race at Iowa.

It was Keselowski's first win at Iowa Speedway since 2009. On the way to victory, he had to overcome an early penalty that was assessed for a tire violation, forcing him to the rear of the field on the restart.

"As a driver, those are probably some of the most difficult moments, knowing you have a fast race car and circumstances are playing against you," Keselowski said. "There are two ways you can react to that. You can let the moment define you or you can define the moment."

Sam Hornish had a fast car, but could not catch Keselowski in the closing laps.

Brian Vickers finished third, followed by Austin Dillon, Kyle Larson, Drew Herring, Alex Bowman, Elliott Sadler, Ryan Gifford, and Trevor Bayne.

Top-10 leaders after 20 of 33: 1. Dillon-698, 2. Smith-684, 3. Hornish-684, 4. Sadler-679, 5. Vickers-670, 6. Larson-651, 7. Allgaier-648, 8. Scott-641, 9. Bayne-627, 10. Kligerman-617.

BLANEY GETS POCONO TRUCK WIN

Ryan Blaney pulled away from the rest of the field on the second attempt at a green-white-checkered finish to win Saturday's Truck race at Pocono Raceway.

"It was just a matter of being able to get close to make the move," Blaney said. "Once the final restarts came, I really had to be aggressive."

Blaney's truck owner Brad Keselowski missed the victory lane celebration because he was in Iowa preparing for Saturday night's Nationwide race.

Polesitter Miguel Paludo finished second, followed by German Quiroga, Joey Coulter, and Ross Chastain.

Top-10 leaders after 11 of 22: 1. Crafton-429, 2. Jeb Burton-377, 3. Blaney-367, 4. Buescher-365, 5. T. Dillon-361, 6. Gaughan-354, 7. Paludo-35, 8. Peters-350, 9. D. Wallace-347, 10. Sauter-345.

HOW MUCH LONGER FOR DALE JR.

The finish line might not be in sight for Dale Earnhardt Jr., but you can be sure he's thinking about life after his driving days are over.

"Yes, I've given it some thought," said Earnhardt in July, 2013. "I know that the day is coming when I won't be driving. At this time, I couldn't tell you what my plans are down the road, or when it's going to happen."

Earnhardt was born October 10, 1974. That means in two months he will turn 40.

That isn't a really ripe old age for NASCAR drivers. Ken Schrader (59) and Mark Martin (55) still continue to get behind the wheel of Cup cars on a part-time basis.

His current contract as driver of the No. 88 Hendrick Motorsports Chevrolet expires in 2017. By that time, he will have turned 44.

While Martin and Schrader have both won Cup races, they have not come close to reaching the elite status that Earnhardt has.

He has won the Most Popular Driver Award ten times (consecutively from 2003-2012), and has an estimated net worth of over $300 million.

He began his racing career at the late age of 17, competing in the Street Stock division at Concord, N.C.. His first race car was a 1979 Monte Carlo that he co-owned with his older half-brother, Kerry Earnhardt.

After two seasons, he began competing at other North and South Carolina short tracks, and the Nashville Fairgrounds, driving a No. 3 Chevrolet.

While driving a late model, he worked at his father's North Carolina Chevrolet dealership as a mechanic while he went to junior college, earning an associate's degree.

He went on to win consecutive Busch Series championships in 1998 and '99.

Some of his business interests include Hammerhead Entertainment, a media production company that creates and produces TV shows, two bars named "Whisky River", his own signature line of eyeglass frames, and a General Motors car dealership.

These are all in addition to his racing and Nationwide race team.

With his future secure outside of racing, the question is how much longer will Earnhardt stay behind the wheel on Sunday?

In conversations with him, I get the feel that he still loves what he's doing. I believe that he will be around until the end of his contract. He is one of those rare individuals that are secure in life.

He can pick and choose his moves.

I think he will stay at Hendrick Motorsports for the next four years. After that he will remain in racing in some form or capacity.

Weekend Racing: The Cup and Nationwide teams will be at the 2.45-mile Watkins Glen, New York, road course. The trucks have an off weekend.

Last Week's Question: Which Cup team will Kevin Harvick drive for in 2014? Answer: He will move to the Stewart-Haas Racing team.

Ryan Taylor Scores Big For Port Royal Dream Race Honors, Perkasio Driver Takes Home Biggest Win of Career

Ryan Taylor of Perkasio scored the biggest 410 sprint car win of his career Saturday night at Port Royal Speedway by first driving by Fred Rahmer for the lead and then later holding off a hard charging Chad Layton for the prestigious victory. At the end of the night, Taylor's total event financial take was $11,580 including lap money and his prize money for winning the Dream A Main itself and finishing second in his semi main.

The entire night's action was delayed at the start by one hour thanks to a pair of heavy but short downbursts of rain that hit the facility around 5:15 pm.

A near event record 45 super sprint cars entered the event that thanks to the rain produced electrifyingly exciting speed and a fast time set by Mark Smith that was just one-tenth of a second off of the track record. The event honored, declared and bestowed laurels upon car owner Patty Beam and driver Todd Shaffer as 2013 Living Legends.

In the revenge draw to set the front three rows of the Dream feature, Fred Rahmer pulled a number one and looked over the candidates available before handing off the pole to Taylor. As it worked out, Rahmer lined up on the outside of the front row to start the lucrative feature event and the Salfordville veteran took the lead when green came out over Taylor. But Taylor was strong and just as he did earlier in his semi when he drove from sixth to second on the nasty-fast oval by muscling past Mark Smith and Rahmer among others, he muscled Rahmer with what would be the race-winning move on the second circuit of the feature.

After completing lap one hot on Rahmer's tail, Taylor stuck his No. 20 to Rahmer's inside in the first corner and drove up off of the second corner side by side with him. And as the pair headed for the scoreboard, Taylor stayed even with Rahmer and began to nose ahead as a battle of wills developed as the pair saw the third corner coming up quick with something needing to give before they set their mounts into the turn. That's when Taylor got the best of Rahmer and surged ahead for control as Rahmer fell back to second.

The red flag then appeared on the seventh tour when Davey Sammons crashed in the third turn, collecting Logan Wagner. The restart had Taylor leading over Rahmer, third starter Layton, Lance Dewease and Doug Esh. As Taylor bit fast and drove away when action resumed Layton went to work on Rahmer and muscled by for second with 20 laps to go before a caution flag slowed the pace on the 12th tour. Laps 13 through 27 then went non stop and as the race moved into lapped traffic Layton began significantly closing the gap on Taylor and drew to within a car length as Taylor moved low in an effort to bypass slower cars. And in fact, Layton all but had the move made in heavy traffic, having already moved to Taylor's outside at another point when suddenly a final caution halted the break-neck pace that was being set on the lightning-fast and smooth oval with three laps to go. That occurrence cleared the track for Taylor, which played to any leader's advantage, and Taylor took the stroke of luck all the way to the bank for the checkers ahead of Layton by .898 seconds.

Layton also won his semi-main qualifying feature earlier in the night, making his total take on the night $7,280 including lap money. Rahmer ended the feature in third, 1.631 seconds behind Taylor with $2,760 for his combined semi and A Main event efforts. Brian Leppo, who was awarded one of the Packer's Concessions fast time awards as the quickest timer in the even-numbered qualifiers semi main, finished fourth in the Dream feature and took home a total of $2,800. Defending Dream winner Blane Heimbach started 10th in the feature and drove to fifth at the finish, pocketing $2,000 total. Brian Montieth rode home sixth with $2,000 in his pocket followed by semi main winner Doug Esh in seventh who garnered a total of $3,620 on the night including lap money. Mike Wagner was eighth in the Dream A after starting 19th with a $1,850 take including the A Main Hard Charger Award sponsored by Lelands.com and Big Daddy's Grill and Chill. Wagner was followed by Adam Wilt, $1,400; and an impressive night by Kyle Moody for $1,550 including an extra $100 as a lucky bonus finisher in the A sponsored by RE Davidson & Sons. As noted, Layton and Esh split the semi main qualifying races worth $2,000 each plus lap money. Taylor and Rahmer chased Layton to his semi win to earn a top six starting spot in the feature. Tyler Bear earned the Lelands.com Hard Charger in the first semi worth $125. Logan Wagner earned the $100 RE Davidson bonus position pay. Wagner was also voted the 25th feature fan-voted starter after drawing the most raucous response from the crowd during a roll call of non-qualifying B Main contestants.

Brian Leppo chased Esh to his semi victory with Lance Dewease finishing third to move to the front of the feature starting grid. TJ Stutts got the Lelands.com Hard Charger. Alan Krimes earned the $100 RE Davidson bonus position pay. Dan Shetler took a nasty backstretch flip in the first semi main but escaped injury. Brent Marks flipped violently into and onto the first turn outside wall in the second semi but escaped injury. Mark Smith won the B Main over Rodney Westhafer. Joey Hershey won the non-qualifiers feature worth $600 and a complete set of Penske Shocks.

Smith set the overall fastest time of the night and was the odd qualifiers quick timer with a lap of 15.478 seconds and took home $200 in fast time awards from Packers and Freeland Tool and Die. Leppo's fast time for the even-numbered qualifiers, which was second quick overall, came in at 15.501 seconds, worth $100 from Packers. Complimentary engine dynos valued at $500 each based on A Main finish went to Layton as the highest finishing Don Ott power plant while Rider Engines awarded dynos to Leppo as the highest finisher and Mark Smith as the lowest. Tim Krape won his seventh pro stock feature of the season over Scott Landis, Dan Berry, Andrew Shoop and Kyle Rapp.

"Change" the World, Dig a Well

As the patrons of the West End Library "Dig Into Reading" through the 10-week summer reading program, they are also given the opportunity to "change" the world by pitching loose change into the library's wishing well. These monies will be used to drill a well in one of the remote villages surrounding the city of Aurangabad, India.

Everyone needs water—water to drink, water to cook, water to bathe, and water to play—but, many families in the villages of India, as well as many other countries of the world, walk for miles each day just to collect enough water for their daily use. Not only is much of the water contaminated, it is simply not available.

In an effort to help children become more aware of how fortunate they are to have an abundance of clean, pure water, the West End Library is highlighting the well project as a cultural outreach effort this summer.

A Nazarene pastor from the Maharashtra State in Central India presented an eye-opening program to library patrons on Monday, July 15 explaining a typical day in the life of a family in India.

"Hospitality in the midst of hardship" would define the lifestyle of the Indian culture as the pastor explained how one villager invited him and five visitors into her grass hut for tea. Although she lacked enough teacups to serve them all, she boiled the water, milked a goat for cream, and served to those she had enough cups for. She then washed the cups and served the remaining guests.

For the cost of $500, a new well can be drilled, and lives can be changed. Pitch in and help the West End Library "change" the world.
