Martin Will Go To Jail for Rape Charge
Jorge Allen Martin, 25, of Mifflinburg, faces formal arraignment on November 4. He is charged with raping a 3-year-old girl several times over a four month period. Martin will remain in jail without bail.
Martin waived this right to a preliminary hearing last Tuesday in front of District Judge Jeffrey Mensch.

WIC Offices To Remain Open
Executor Director, Peggy Moser announced that WIC offices in Selinsgrove, Sunbury, and Lewistown will remain open after receiving funds to cover operating costs.
Department of Health spokeswoman, Aimee Tyszarczyk stated the reason behind the late payment of funds was due to a late submission of invoices and other paperwork during the state audit of the program.

Zebre Requests Jury Trial
Donald Zebre, suspended Hartleton Police Chief, refrained from entering a plea agreement on Thursday and decided to face a trial by jury. Zebre maintains what he did was not wrong. Jury selection is set to begin October 28.

New Events for Union County Historical Society

New events have just been planned for the Union County Historical Society's 18th-Century farm property. Rural Heritage Days will move to Saturday, July 12th in 2014 and will be held the second Saturday of July thereafter. The activities of "Children's Day" like the well-loved games, animal exhibits, corn dolly making, and pony rides, will be added to next year's Saturday agenda.
The Rural Heritage Day theme for 2014 will be "Learning" and will highlight apprenticeships; the traditions of passing down information by word of mouth and example; one-room school education and early academies; Chautauqua tent gatherings that came to the area and fairs; early Sunday school organizations as well as major institutions of learning such as New Berlin's Union Seminary and Central College. The "Learning" theme will be carried out in many ways at Rural Heritage Days including an exhibit at the Dale/Engle/Walker House in the summer and fall months of 2014. One factor in making the date change is that many of Rural Heritage Days student interns are called back to pre-fall school programs and are having a harder time participating in the popular mid-August event, according to event chair, Deb Wehr.
The current exhibits at the Dale house include an extensive one on "18th-20th-century water-powered gristmills in Union County" and a special "Bicentennial exhibit on items from the county's first century." The house is open Sunday afternoons through October. The first tour starts at 2 PM and the last tour at 3:30 PM.

Origins of Snyder County and the Bicentennial of Union County

In 1855, Snyder County was drawn from Union County. This division is the subject of a talk commemorating the bicentennial of Union County by Dr. Donald Housley, Professor Emeritus of History at Susquehanna University and President of the Snyder County Historical Society. The talk is entitled "The Origins of Snyder County in the Political Culture of the 1850s." In the 1850s political life revolved around the Whig and Democratic parties, local newspapers voicing party opinions and direct action measures such as petitions and mass meetings, both of which presented the opinions of voters and swayed elected officials. Each of these influenced the vote for Division of Old Union County which took place in 1855. This vote was initiated by the aspirations of residents in the eastern reaches of Old Union County and shaped by opposition to these aspirations by those in its western sections. A significant influence on this political event was the existence of "southern" and "northern" districts in the County which formed the boundaries of the new counties and encouraged their creation.
Housley is the author of Make It The Best: A History of the Geisinger Health System, 1912-2001 and Susquehanna University, 1858-2000: A Goodly Heritage and the principal author and editor of Snyder County, Pennsylvania: From Pioneer Days to the Present. The talk is scheduled for Tuesday, September 24 at 7:30 in the Society building, 30 E. Market Street in Middleburg. It is free and opened to the public. The Society building is handicapped accessible. For more information call 837-6191.

Lewisburg Welcomes Back Bucknell

By: Jacob Tanner

Beginning around Monday, August 26th, there was a subtle, yet obvious commotion beginning to muster itself in Downtown Lewisburg. By Thursday, August 29th and Friday, August 30th, the commotion had reached a peak. The streets, while not usually barren to begin with, were now starting to be filled. Every street corner was filled with people trying to cross the streets. Businesses had lines out their doors and down the street. The college kids of Bucknell University had returned, and Downtown Lewisburg was in full swing. The streets of Downtown Lewisburg are once again alive and hopping with the busy bustling.
Lewisburg has always catered to the college kids, and this year is no different. Most businesses celebrated their return with posters welcoming them back, and by handing out freebies to the students. The town of Lewisburg, with Bucknell University, joined together in celebrating their return and welcoming them back with the 'Arts. Everywhere.' Festival, a three day event, celebrating art, that began on Friday, August 30 and carried through Sunday, September 1. The festival was free to the public, and included everything from movies, to live musical performances, to dance, to plays, to poetry readings.
The Samek Gallery opened the festival up on Friday by offering refreshments and showcasing their large and vast collection of art in their exhibit "Summer Salon I: 160 Years of Collecting Art". This was followed by the live music of Hexagon at the Bison Patio. Later on, at 4 PM, there was a Poetry Path Community tour that showcased Poetry displays throughout historic Downtown Lewisburg. The Poetry Path was started last year by the Stadler Center for Poetry as a way to showcase modern poetry and make it a part of everyday life. A new section of poetry is opened each August. The Stadler Center Staff also offers group tours of the Poetry Path as well, for those interested.
At around 5:45 PM, Americana/Folk band trio, Red Molly, took the stage at the Weis Center plaza. Attendees enjoyed and spoke highly of the performance. There was also a street festival on South Fourth Street, and the Campus Theatre put on a showing of "Oliver" (An adaption of Charles Dickens classic) for 10 cents for children and 25 cents for adults. Many other events were held over the course of the weekend to continue the celebrations.
The economy is picking up steam in Lewisburg. After all, a college town depends on the college students for its revenue. Now that the students have returned, the businesses and eating establishments are once again thriving.

New Hope Bible Church of Mifflinburg Holds Baptism Service

By: Jacob Tanner

Baptism: a rite of washing with water as a sign of religious purification and consecration. Christians use baptism as a sign that they are set apart for God's use. Some people are submerged entirely under water while others have water sprinkled on their heads. Baptism is often described as an outward profession of an inward possession.
On Sunday, at around 2:30 PM, New Hope Bible Church of Mifflinburg held a baptism service at a cabin in the Millmont area. They used Penn's Creek for the ceremony. Six people were baptized while six others helped with the service by offering prayers and performing the baptisms. The afternoon itself was humid and hot, but the skies were clear, and there was little threat of rain.
Reverend Richard VonNeida, who performed the baptisms, shared with me, "At New Hope, we believe in the sacraments of baptism and communion." A sacrament is a religious ceremony that is used to show an outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual divine grace. "Baptism is really a holy sacrament — much like communion. We do it to glorify God. There are a lot of people out there that believe in baptizing babies, but we don't. We believe in dedicating children, but baptism has to be a choice. Some people think that salvation comes through baptism, but that isn't the case. If you're baptized a sinner, you'll come right back up as a sinner." The Bible says the only way to be saved, forgiven of your sins, and spend an eternity in heaven is to accept Jesus Christ. Jesus said in John 14:6, "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." (NIV) The Bible also says in Ephesians 2:8, "For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this is not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—"(NIV). According to the Bible, a person can't do anything good enough to be saved — they just need to confess their sins to God, ask for forgiveness, and accept Jesus. The Bible says that salvation is a gift.
Pastor Richard VonNeida continued, "It is a decision that Christians need to make on their own. But what a wonderful choice it is to make! You are dedicating your life to serving God. I've heard of some Christians being afraid of water, and so they won't get baptized. But you don't need to be completely submerged to be baptized. We can just sprinkle water on a person for baptism." Indeed, one person was baptized on Sunday by having the water sprinkled on them instead of being submerged. Reverend VonNeida added, "I love what Galatians 3:27 says, 'for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ.' (NIV) When we are saved and we are baptized in Christ, we are clothed with Christ."
Many also came out to just show their support and enjoy time together. Food was prepared beforehand for the guests. During the ceremony, the onlookers offered cheers and applause, and even some songs.
New Hope Bible Church is located at 310 Raven Lane in Mifflinburg. They hold services on Sunday mornings at 10:30 AM, Sunday nights at 6 PM, and Wednesday nights at 7 PM. On the second Friday of every month they also hold 'Potter's House', a time to gather with friends and family, and to talk and eat good food. New Hope Bible Church invites anyone and everyone to come and join them.

PA Dutch Life & Culture

From October, 2004:

Origin of the PA-German Dialect

The Pennsylvania-Germans have a language of their own. It may sound odd to some who have the notion that it is but a poor patois that these people employ. Well, hardly. The "dialect" spoken antedates the High German of Martin Luther's day and arrangement. It was the latter who gave the "High" German language definite standing in literature and in commerce.

Even before Luther the people of South Germany had a dialect which had then been in local use for many generations. It was in the country bordering on the Rhine from Switzerland to Coblenz that the early émigrés originated, landing eventually in America.

That these people cling to the dialect is not strange. Peoples of all, or most of races, cling to their lore and customs, and while the Pennsylvania-Germans use English with ease, they find themselves often reverting to their mother tongue.

Chonnie: The pick (pig) is out. Quick ve must chase him to da pen pack. You run down dis site of da fence, and I run down da odder. Da pick, he comes pack up. Meppe (perhaps) bose sides of da fence.

The Pennsylvania Germans may revert to their mother tongue, but this can be rather general, for among their numbers there are a large number of Swiss Mennonites, whose early origins are perhaps in some doubt. Also French Huguenots, who are as much at home in the employment of dialect German, as those generally identified as the more or less pure Germans who came here before the Revolution and who helped a great deal to make this country the home of the free—we hope—for all time.

In passing, it may be said with interest to the reader, that of practically all Europeans who came to settle in America in the early days, the Germans alone had no governmental support or backing in colonizing.

Had German authorities given their émigrés some real encouragement in the establishment of communities and enterprise, reporting to Germany, there might have been a different story to American history? As it developed, a Pennsylvania-German's vote decided that the official language in his state should be English! Early German stock and its off-spring far and wide in America have been one of our greatest sustaining influences.

A Few Expressions:

Go in the front room and get me my SPECKS (glasses).

The dear little BUBBELLY (baby) is so sweet-like; she is so nice-behaved.

You are so DOBBICH (or "doplich"; awkward). Du bisht so dobbich.

You are such a DUMMKUP (dumb); why don't you watch out where you're going?

Some people like to DUNK (dip) their doughnuts.

Bicentennial "Historic Ramblings" Tour

On Sunday, September 22, the Union County Bicentennial "Historic Ramblings" tour of Union County history, will have a special, one time presentation at 2:45 PM by Groffdale Mennonite Eli Reiff at the Mountain View Old Order Mennonite Church Meeting House near Vicksburg.

The sites on the western Union County HISTORIC RAMBLINGS tour include: 1) Sampell's Grist Mill (also known as the Penn's Creek Pottery) for an opportunity to learn about one of the county's original 40 mill sites and the area's iron industry; 2) the 1815 New Berlin Courthouse and New Berlin Heritage Association's Museum; 3) the site of the 1755 LeRoy Spring Massacre above Dice; and 4) the 1790s Barber Mansion and its later bank barn where there will be people explaining both buildings unusual architecture and history. Also, on this tour of Union County history are 5) the Mountain View Old Order Mennonite Church meeting house and buggy stalls – open only at 2:45 with a special presentation by Groffdale Mennonite Eli Reiff; 6) the 1806 wooden Elias Church and 1803 Gutelius log house in Mifflinburg, and 7) the CCC (Civilian Conservation Corps) camp, now the Union County Sportsmen's Club by Penns Creek, in Weikert.

TOURING BY CAR: For those people wanting to do the "Historic Ramblings" tour in their own car, tour tickets (and admission to all tour sites) are now available for $10 per person at Carriage Corner in Mifflinburg, the West End Library in Laurelton; and at the Susquehanna River Valley Visitors' Bureau, the Lewisburg Hotel, and the Union County Government Center in Lewisburg. Children under 12 years are free when going in their family's car.

TOURING BY BUS: For those interested in going by bus, $30 ticket reservations must be made by September 13th; those tickets are only available at the Union County Government Center. Those on the bus should bring a snack as the schedule is tight. There is a bathroom on the bus. The bus departs from the Weis parking lot in Lewisburg at 11 AM, and from the Buffalo Valley Shopping Center in Mifflinburg at 11:20. Returns to those sites after the tour.

For more information and to make reservations, please call 570-524-3894. For details on this tour, and other bicentennial events, go to www.UnionCounty200.com.

Time for School

By: Ashley Wetzel 2013-2014 SUN Area Dairy Princess

September is the time for change. Change from summer to fall and everyone is back in school except for me! My older sister went back to college and my younger sister went back to high school so our house is a lot quieter! Every morning I laugh as my younger sister drives off to school and I don't have to go.

It is important that students and adults get a healthy nutritious breakfast every morning. Eating and drinking dairy products helps you stay awake and pay more attention and also give you more energy throughout the day. The dairy case has something for everyone including low fat and fat free varieties, as well as lactose free products. Families can choose from a variety of milk, cheese, and yogurt products to meet their taste and nutritional goals. Drinking milk and eating dairy foods makes it easy for children to get the bone-building calcium and other nutrients their growing body needs.

Here are some healthy foods for everyone to try:

Get up and Go breakfast smoothie:

1 ½ cups(375mL) 2% plain yogurt, divided

1 cup(250mL) frozen mixed berries

¼ cup (50mL) natural wheat bran

2 tbsp (30mL) sliced almonds (optional)

2 tbsp (30mL) liquid honey

Preparation: In a blender, Puree' half the yogurt, along with the berries, bran, almonds, and honey until smoothie; and remaining yogurt and pulse until blended. Pour into chilled glasses or travel cups and pour immediately.

Morning Mocha: Mix a cup of reduced fat milk with a teaspoon of instant coffee and sweetened cocoa.

Mocha Mud slide: Stir chocolate syrup into a cup of coffee flavored yogurt and freeze.

Banana Split Blenders: Blend low fat strawberry milk with banana slices and ice.

Enjoy and don't forget to get your three servings of dairy products everyday!

"Rowdy" Kyle Wins In "Joke" Car

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

NASCAR called a competition caution on lap 27 of the 325-lap race. On the restart, Jeff Gordon who was on the outside row of leader Juan Montoya spun his tires. This caused a multicar backup and damaged the cars of Jimmie Johnson, Mark Martin, and Jeff Burton.

Johnson's team made repairs, but he was involved in another altercation and was sent to the tail end of the field three times for pit road violations. He finished 28th.

Brad Keselowski took the biggest hit after an engine failure relegated him to a 35th-place finish, putting him in danger of missing the Chase.

Top-15 leaders with one race before the Chase begins: 1. Johnson-837, 2. Bowyer-809, 3. Harvick-795, 4. Edwards-795, 5. Kyle Busch-786, 6. Kenseth-768, 7. Earnhardt-750, 8. Logano-729, 9. Biffle-727, 10. Kurt Busch-719, 11. Gordon-713, 12. Kahne-709, 13. Truex-704, 14. Newman-699, 15. Keselowski-699.

IT'S CRUNCH TIME FOR CHASE CONTENDERS

With just one race left, Chase contenders will be going all out next weekend at Richmond to try and make this year's Chase field.

Only the top-10 in points are locked into the 12-driver, 10-race Chase. Positions 11 and 12 are wild cards, awarded to the two drivers between 11th and 20th in points who have the most wins. In the event multiple drivers have the same number of wins, a driver's point standing serves as the tiebreaker.

Six drivers--Johnson, Bowyer, Kevin Harvick, Edwards, Kyle Busch and Matt Kenseth have clinched top-10 spots in the Chase. It appears Earnhardt, Logano, and Biffle will also make it. Kurt Busch, Jeff Gordon, and Kasey Kahne are "iffy". Those on the outside looking in are Martin Truex, Ryan Newman, and Brad Keselowski.

Since Keselowski has no wins this season, it's a must-win situation for him at Richmond.

"HAPPY" HARVICK IS ATLANTA NATIONWIDE WINNER

HAMPTON, Ga.—Kevin Harvick held off Kyle Busch to win Saturday night's Nationwide race.

Busch, who led the most laps made it a close battle for the last few laps of the 195-lap race, but couldn't get the job done and finished .579-seconds back.

Sam Hornish was third, followed by Kasey Kahne, Kyle Larson, Joey Logano, Trevor Bayne, Austin Dillon, Regan Smith, and Brian Scott.

Top-10 leaders after 24 of 33: 1. Hornish-842, 2. A. Dillon-832, 3. Sadler-816, 4. Smith-813, 5. Allgaier-795, 6. Vickers-790, 7. Larson-775, 8. Scott-775, 9. Bayne-771, 10. Kligerman-724.

ELLIOTT BUMPS HIS WAY TO TRUCK WIN

Chase Elliott knows what the front bumper on his truck is for. On the last turn of the last lap, Elliott, who was running second to the leader, Ty Dillon, put his bumper into the side of Dillon's

No. 3. The force knocked Dillon's truck into the outside wall, allowing Elliott to streak on to victory lane in Sunday's truck race at Bowmanville, Ontario's road course.

"I hate to win a race like that," said Elliott's crew chief, Lance McGrew.

The win was the first NASCAR truck victory for Elliott.

"That's not how I race," said Elliott, "but sometimes you got to do what you've got to do."

Dillon led 25 laps of the 64-lap race, but wound up 17th.

"I knew it was going to be a tough race at the finish," said Dillon. "I had an awesome truck. He just wrecked me. There was certainly no respect on his part."

Canadian Chad Hackenbracht finished second, followed by Miguel Paludo, Darrell Wallace, Ron Hornaday, Max Papis, Ross Chastain, Timothy Peters, James Buescher, and Matt Crafton.

Top-10 leaders after 14 of 22: 1. Crafton-532, 2. Buescher-485, 3. T. Dillon-469, 4. Burton-467, 5. Paludo-465, 6. Peters-462, 7. Blaney-450, 8. Gaughan-444, 9. D. Wallace-426, 10. Sauter-425.

Weekend Racing: The Cup and Nationwide teams are at the .75-mile Richmond track.

The trucks race Sunday, at the seven-eighths mile Newton Iowa facility.

Fri., Sept. 6, Nationwide race 25 of 33; Starting time: 7:30 pm ET; TV: ESPN2.

Sat., Sept. 7, Sprint Cup race 26 of 36; Starting time: 7:30 pm ET; TV: ABC.

Sun., Sept. 8, Truck race 15 of 22; Starting time: 2 pm ET; TV: Fox Sports1.

Racing Trivia Question: Carl Edwards is currently fourth in Chase points. How many Cup wins does he have this season?

Last Week's Question: What year did Jeff Gordon move to the Cup series? Answer: It was at Atlanta in 1992. He started 21st and finished 31st. This was the last race for Richard Petty.

You may e-mail the Racing Reporter at: hodges@race500.com.

HAMPTON, Ga.—Kyle Busch beat Joey Logano to the finish line by .740 seconds; in a car he labeled "a joke" early in the race.

"The car was terrible at first," said Busch. "Well, it started a little ugly. I was a little ill on the radio, I'm sure that I can't say enough about Dave Rogers and the team that he's assembled around us. I think if you can pin a championship night on one race or a championship on one night, tonight was the night."

"We certainly had a lot to do and a lot to overcome, and I think that Dave and these guys stuck with me. For as bad as I may have been talking, they certainly never gave up. They kept going to work and trying to figure things out for me and make my life a little easier behind the wheel."

Busch's win also secured him a spot in this year's Chase for the Sprint Cup.

Second-place finisher, Joey Logano also had problems.

"We overcame a loose wheel early in the race and cycled ourselves back to the lead after all of that," Logano said. "When there's a restart after another restart and you don't have a car that's very good on the first five, six laps of a run it didn't give me the greatest opportunity there. But we were catching them the last few laps, just needed five, six more laps to get them, maybe less."

Martin Truex Jr., who finished third, was racing with a cast on his right hand after breaking a bone in his wrist during the Bristol race.

"It was an interesting race," said Truex. "It was a hell of a battle for us. Our car wasn't very good most of the night. Couldn't get it turning, burned the right rear off and kept battling through that and then we had to go to the rear with about 100 to go and really thought we were in big trouble, but we were able to fight up through there and figured out what our car needed towards the end. We were probably one or two adjustments away from having something for Joey and Kyle."

The remaining top-10 finishers were: Kurt Busch, Ryan Newman, Jeff Gordon, Juan Montoya, Dale Earnhardt Jr. Kevin Harvick, and Brian Vickers.

While some drivers were able to persevere, bad racing luck and/or engine problems plagued several, including Jimmie Johnson and Brad Keselowski.

Children's Programs:

Tales to Tails: Reading with Ryley - Begins September 1 - Ryley the dog loves to have children read to him at the library. Children who may be shy about reading aloud or want to improve their reading skills can sign-up at the library to read a story to Ryley--as he never passes judgment. It is suggested that children read to Ryley once a week for six weeks. Ryley's handler, Arris Moser of Dixon's Dogs, will call to arrange a convenient time to meet. Parents can register their children by calling the library at 570-523-1172 or by visiting the circulation desk.

Toddler Discover * - Tuesdays - 9:30 a.m. - An early literacy program featuring stories read aloud, interactive games, sing-alongs and American Sign Language for children ages 1-2, along with a parent or caregiver. The fall session begins September 3. Register to attend by calling 570-523-1172.

Preschool Discover * - Tuesdays/Wednesdays – 10 a.m. - Stories, interactive games, sing-a-longs and crafts are included in this early literacy program for children ages 3-5, and a parent or caregiver, which focuses on letter and number recognition, as well as color and shape identification. The fall session begins September 3. Register to attend by calling 570-523-1172.

Young Reader's Theater - Thursday, September 5 – 6:30 p.m.; Thursday, September 19 – 6:30 p.m. - A reading and acting program for children in grades 2-6 to enhance reading fluency and boost confidence. No acting experience is necessary and there is no script memorization, just a lot of fun! The group meets the first and third Thursday of the month with a final performance of The Grinch Who Stole Christmas on December 5. Registration is required by calling 570-523-1172 or visit the library's circulation desk.

Gun Consignment Auction!

Tuesday, October 1 @ 5:30pm

Now accepting quality consignments of guns, sporting goods and any other related items.

Lots of guns and related items already listed!

Auction will be held at the former Beavertown Grocery store building located along Route 522 between Middleburg and Beavertown.

Mark your calendar; it will be a night you do not want to miss!

Call Paul @ 570-837-5770 to consign your items.

Baby Discover * - Friday, September 6 – 11 a.m.; Friday, September 20 – 11 a.m. - Stories, games, and songs for children up to one year of age, along with a parent or caregiver to enhance early literacy skills. Reserve your seat by calling 570-523-1172.

It's Lego Time - Thursday, September 12 – 6:30 p.m.; Thursday, September 26 – 6:30 p.m. - We'll provide the Legos and you provide the creativity during this bi-weekly program for children of all ages, and their parents or caregivers. Build your own creations or work together with other Lego enthusiasts. All Legos are provided by the library and creations may not be taken home. Children can sign up at the children's circulation desk; however, registration is not required.

It's a Peach Party - Friday, September 13 – 2:00 p.m. - Celebrate 50 years of James and the Giant Peach and Roald Dahl's birthday with fun activities and games at the most "ginormous" party ever!

A...B...C... Play with Me - Friday, September 20 – 10 a.m.; Saturday, September 21 – 10 a.m. - A five-week Parent/Child Workshop for children ages 14-40 months and their parents. During each session, the library provides a setting in which the child and parent can work and play together, while also introducing the parent to some of the many local resources available to help them in the rewarding but challenging task of parenting a toddler. Each session will focus on a different theme including Literacy, Nutrition, Speech and Language, Music and Movement, and Child Development. Sessions are held consecutively through October 19. For more information or to register, contact the library at 570-523-1172 or visit the library's circulation desk.

Nursing Home Residents Move To New Home; Dedication Set

Nursing care and rehabilitation residents at Buffalo Valley Lutheran Village are now living in their new home.

Earlier this month, staff members of the Lewisburg Diakon senior living community—along with transportation and related assistance from staff colleagues from numerous other Diakon senior living centers—relocated 94 residents from the village's old nursing care center to a new health care center, constructed behind and attached to the community's personal care center.

"The move of residents went extremely well and was accomplished in just one morning," says Jeanne Oski, vice president for Diakon Senior Living Services. Busses from the Buffalo Valley village and a number of other Diakon senior living communities, as well as an ambulance from a local EMS company, transported nursing care and rehabilitation residents the short distance across campus to the recently completed, two-story health care center.

The new center features a neighborhood concept, which creates a more homelike and less "institutional" aspect. The building consists of five neighborhoods, four residential and one devoted to short-term rehabilitation. Each includes a private country kitchen and common living area. The design is such that even shared suites have enhanced privacy, because the bathroom area separates the two beds. The concept will allow Buffalo Valley staff members to emphasize patient-centered care.

The building provides 102 beds of nursing care in a mix of private and shared accommodations, with 22 of the private rooms dedicated to short-term rehabilitation services. The new center also features a state-of-the-art, 1,900-square-foot physical therapy suite to assist residents with rehabilitation.

The former nursing care center, built in 1968, will eventually be demolished for parking.

The new health care center will be dedicated at a 5 to 7 p.m., Sept. 17, event.

Bruce Teeple Visits Penns Creek & West End Senior Centers

Bruce Teeple, writer, local historian, speaker, columnist for the Centre Daily Times and pastor of the Aaronsburg Historical Museum brought broad axes, a laundry picker, a bayonet from the Civil War era, horn for sounding on animal drives, hot pie plate grabbers, apple peelers, hand drills & bits, a gig(used for catching eel or other fish in local creeks) and other numerous farm/home tools from the past. He spoke at Penns Creek Senior Center on Wednesday, August 21 and at the West End Senior Center on Thursday, August 22. Pictured above with Bruce is a pannier which was used to carry supplies on pack horses along foot paths that were not very wide being taken to travel from place to place, possibly army issued. Also on the table next to the pannier is a clothes dryer, various sickles, a scythe and an ice pick.

Su Give Freshmen Volunteer At Penns Creek Adult Resource Center

Bucknell SBDC Ready To Assist With Disaster Planning

The Small Business Development Center at Bucknell University is one of six in a 14-county area involved in the Operation Disaster Resiliency project, funded by the U.S. Economic Development Administration.

Operation Disaster Resiliency provides the resources for SBDC consultants to advise small firms on business disruption and continuity planning to help them weather natural disasters and other business interruptions.

The project was launched as a result of the damage to businesses in Central and Northeastern Pennsylvania from Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee in August and September of 2011. The two storms dumped more than 15 inches of rain on the area leading to the closing of hundreds of roads, forcing evacuation for thousands of people, and leaving many business owners with varying degrees of damage and millions of dollars in losses.

As a result, more than 94,000 people applied for Federal Emergency Management Agency disaster assistance and more than $98 million in disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) have been approved.

“EDA’s investment is providing invaluable assistance to Pennsylvania businesses, and is an excellent example of the Obama administration’s commitment to helping communities rebuild and recover in the wake of natural disasters,” said Deputy Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development Matt Erskine.

“The resources being made available will help ensure the economic vitality of countless businesses in Pennsylvania and the communities that depend on them.”

Outreach and consulting under this project will be open to any businesses within the 14-county area that was hit the hardest during Hurricane Irene and Tropical Storm Lee.

The Bucknell University SBDC will serve clients in Northumberland and Perry counties.

“This program is meant to educate small business owners on ways that they can put business disruption and continuity plans in place for the future,” said Pennsylvania SBDC State Director Christian Conroy. “One issue that became very apparent when working with many of the companies impacted by the flooding of 2011 was their lack of a redundant back-up of critical business information and a plan to use technology to continue operations independent of their business’s physical location,” he added.

Education on cloud-based software, mobile-ready strategies and ways to optimize a company’s online presence are a key part of the business disruption consulting being offered by the SBDC. Businesses will be able to build web strategies from personalized consulting on search engine optimization (SEO), eCommerce and other ways to bolster their online sales to help supplement their local in-person sales. Business owners will also be encouraged to develop mobile-ready strategies to be able to work remotely and communicate with staff during an emergency situation.

The SBDC is also working to better prepare businesses for future interruptions through the development of business disruption and continuity plans, advice on acquiring capital (before and after a disruption) and helping companies diversify their revenue streams through new markets. Businesses will be advised to explore their growth potential through expanding their sales online, abroad or with the government to encourage customer and supplier variation to better weather future disasters.

Small businesses located in Bradford, Dauphin, Columbia, Lancaster, Lebanon, Luzerne, Lycoming, Northumberland, Perry, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, York and Wyoming counties are encouraged to contact their local SBDC to find out more about business disruption and continuity planning strategies for their business. Business owners can also visit www.pasbdc.org/business-disruption for additional resources.

Chilly Willy’s Donates $1000 To PACFI

“We like to give back to the community,” said Tish Kerstetter who, with her husband, Bill, owns Chilly Willy’s Restaurant in Hartleton. Chilly Willy’s recently donated $1000 to Pennsylvania Cystic Fibrosis, Inc. (PACFI). The funds were raised through the restaurant’s annual golf tournament held at Shade Mountain Golf Club.

“We appreciate their continued support,” PACFI President Betty Hollenbach said, “and most of these funds will be used to help families affected by cystic fibrosis (CF).” PACFI was founded in 1985 as an independent, nonprofit, all volunteer 501(c)(3) organization that helps families affected by CF locally and throughout the state and funds some of the most progressive CF research in the nation.

Chilly Willy’s also supports two other local charities, Justin’s Smile and Team Taylor. Justin’s Smile was formed by the family and friends of Mifflinburg’s Justin Lloyd who died in a car accident in 2009. The nonprofit organization provides financial assistance for funeral and related expenses due to the death of a child. Chilly Willy’s also sponsors an annual whiffleball tournament to benefit the organization. Team Taylor was founded last year by the family of Taylor Bingaman, a local young man who fell down steps at his home and suffered a Traumatic Brain Injury last Thanksgiving Day. Team Taylor helps to pay for all the needed care associated with his injury.

More information about PACFI is on their website at www.pacfi.org.

College Students Lend a Helping Hand

Several service organizations started the new school year by showing freshman students how to get involved in the communities where they'll be living for the next four years. On Tuesday, August 20th a team of nine young men and women from Bucknell University showed up at the building owned by the SUN Area Chapter of the American Red Cross in Lewisburg and pulled weeds, cleaned up and generally made the entire structure look much neater. They worked hard in considerable heat for no pay. Under the leadership of Shawn Hooper of Harleysville, PA, a sophomore, the group is called Building on Foundations and aims to give incoming students a sense that they are joining a community beyond their campus grounds. It is part of the general orientation process at Bucknell that seeks to have students get involved in community service early in their college career.

Lynn Pierson, Assistant Director for Community Service at Bucknell says she has seen an uptick in the number of students who want to volunteer. "It is great to see students get involved in the Lewisburg area because they are short term residents. From their experiences during college, they can learn and see what a difference their volunteerism makes and hopefully they will continue their efforts wherever they move to post-college," she added. Jay Helmer who holds the position of Assistant Director of Residence Life for Civic Engagement at Susquehanna University spoke about their program, SU Give, which is the volunteer organization that came to offer their services on Saturday. "SU GIVE continues a more than two decade tradition of introducing incoming students to Susquehanna University's hallmark of service. It provides an opportunity to get to know the surrounding area, while helping to meet the needs of community organizations. The class of 2017's exceptional energy helped make this year's event an unqualified success." With dozens of students out in the community, on the same day, working at local non-profit organizations, they make a real impact.

The Red Cross building in Lewisburg was scrubbed and polished along with all the chapter vehicles thanks to the hard work of the Susquehanna University students who participated on Saturday, August 24th. "They also did quite a bit of yard work and spent some quality time tidying up," said Natalie Kuhns, Office Manager who coordinates the volunteer programs at Red Cross. "We are so happy they came, it was a jungle around here." Some students will continue their relationship with the American Red Cross by serving as work study associates or spending time as interns. The relationship between the not-for-profit organization and the two universities spans a few decades and has grown. "We hold blood drives, fund drives and special events like large group Hands-Only CPR trainings, these are so important to keep us in the public eye and raise awareness about what we do," said Tom Szulanczyk, chapter Executive who added "We rely strongly on this relationship and I think the students profit from it too, it gives them a sense of responsibility and a capacity to give back."

Medicare Open Enrollment Presentation

Fall Open Enrollment is the time of year when you can change your Medicare coverage. You can do this by joining a new stand-alone prescription drug plan (PDP) or by joining a new Medicare Advantage plan. Fall Open Enrollment occurs from October 15 to December 7. If you enroll in a plan during Fall Open Enrollment, your coverage starts January 1. In most cases, Fall Open Enrollment is the only time you can pick a new Medicare Part D plan or a new Medicare Advantage Plan.

Even if you like your current Medicare coverage and want to continue with that plan, you should carefully read your Annual Notice of Change (ANOC) to make sure the plan still features the coverage you like. Your plan can change how they cover your care each year. This means that pharmacy and provider networks can change, costs can change and drugs covered by the plan's formulary can change. Consumers who review their insurance may have significant savings on their prescriptions alone as it is not unusual for many consumers to save $1,000 or more.

The presentation is free and will be held Tuesday, September 10 at 1PM at the Union

Discover Preschool Prep Class at Library

The Herr Memorial Library recently held "Discover Preschool Prep" class for children ages 3-5 that are starting preschool in September. Children were introduced to a typical daily preschool routine while participating in fun and educational activities such as free play time, craft time, snack time and circle time to include songs, weather, calendar, jobs and a fun "What's In The Backpack Guessing Game". Caregivers also received tips, book lists and helpful information on how to cope and make the transition of separation as easy as possible for everyone. Here Maddie Smith, 4, is using the "Smart Cookie Wand" to point out the days of the month on the calendar.

Hospital Mentors and Supports New Registered Nurses

Several graduate nursing students recently took part in the annual Evangelical's Building A Safe Environment (BASE) class. The program is held each year for new and recently hired graduate RNs.

The class meets once a week for eight weeks and serves as a support to the nurses as they prepare for their careers as RNs at Evangelical Community Hospital. During the sessions, the nurses hear from guest speakers who talk with them about real world experience and what they can expect while working with patients and physicians. They also have open discussions about how to prepare for their board exam and have the opportunity to ask questions and identify areas that will help them find success. The entire program is built around the concept of establishing relationships and creating a safe environment where honest concerns and feedback can be shared and addressed.

Christal Dixon MAOM, RN, MSN, CCRN, Director of Nursing - Specialty Services at Evangelical said, "The BASE program is a vital part of building confidence in our aspiring RNs. It serves as a framework of support as they hear from fellow students who are going through the process of certification and from physicians and experienced nurses who can give them first-hand knowledge of what to expect in their career."

She continued, "At Evangelical we've found that by putting in the time to mentor and support up-and-coming nurses, they feel more confident in their skills and more prepared to handle the day-to-day details of being a caregiver for our patients."

County Government Center 155 N. 15th St. in Lewisburg. Commissioner John Showers will be welcoming participants to the center which is handicapped accessible with handicapped parking. Refreshments will be provided by Dunkin Donuts and Weis Markets. The State Health Insurance Assistance Program known as SHIP will be presenting this program.

Call the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging at 524-2100 or 374-5558 to reserve a space for this presentation. After the presentation, you will be able to sign up for free personalized health insurance counseling to help you understand all of your Medicare coverage options.
