Youngsters waded into the water with a variety of nets to collect tadpoles, bugs, larva, fish and crayfish. Kelsey's Dream Gives to Camp Dost

In 1983, the Danville Ronald McDonald House initiated Camp Dost. It was the first summer camp in Pennsylvania for children stricken with cancer. Camp Dost was founded on the philosophy that every child deserves the chance to experience the challenges and rewards of summer camp. As the first camp for children with cancer in the state of Pennsylvania, Camp Dost has become a model for cancer camps across the country.

Kelsey's Dream has a personal connection to Camp Dost because Kelsey and Kylie were campers. Each camper is allowed to bring a sibling along to camp to share in the experience. Kylie Kuhns and BeccaKratzer presented the donated t-shirts and blankets to Carol Morris, (position?) at Camp Dost. Kelsey's Dream funds the Camp Dost t-shirts every year for campers and staff, freeing $1,400 of funds to be used on other camp programs. Each of the campers has a surprise on their bed when they arrive,100 handmade blankets were made by Kelsey's Dream volunteers were given to each camper.

Kelsey's Dream hopes to continue bringing smiles to Camp Dost campers in years

PA 4-H Celebrates 100 Years in 2012

Rural Beginnings

100 YEARS OF PENNSYLVANIA 4-H

Global Success

In the early 1900s, farmers made up half the population of the United States. Because farmers were skeptical of new farming ideas, local clubs were started to teach the farmers' children about agriculture with the hope that the children would teach their parents the new production methods. It was believed children would be more open to learning the new methods. Bean, livestock, cotton, cooking and canning clubs began. The strategy by university educators worked and was the early model for what became known as a 4-H club. 4-H officially came to Pennsylvania in 1912, a decade after the organization was founded nationally in Ohio. The first counties to have traditional 4-H clubs were Mercer, Montgomery and

This year, we celebrate the Centennial of Pennsylvania 4-H. Although 4-H has agricultural roots, many of today's popular projects are slightly removed from the stereotypical farming and livestock projects. Sewing, film making, training a Seeing Eye Puppy, robotics, physical fitness and babysitting are just a few of the unique projects offered to youth. There are more than 70 projects to choose from in our program. Youth who participate in 4-H gain valuable life, leadership and citizenship skills. For example, while they think they are just building a robot to enter in a competition, they are actually gaining a hands-on understanding of science. Raising a dairy cow can teach money management through purchasing feed. All projects include a record book that can build organization and time management skills. Today's 4-Hers will be using these skills to design our new medical technologies and feeding the world, among many other amazing feats. 4-H members report gaining life skills such as public speaking, problem solving, goal setting, leadership, planning, selfconfidence, expanded horizons, organizational skills, patience, and "real world" experience from hands-on projects There are more than 8 million 4-H alumni around the country who have moved on to numerous professions. The most well-known include the following: Reba McEntire, David Letterman, Johnny Carson, Tom Wopat, former President Jimmy Carter, Johnny Cash, Jim Davis (creator of Garfield), Orville Redenbacher, Reggie White, to name a few. In 2012, we appreciate our Rural Beginnings and rejoice in our Global Success. Nearly 205,000 youth are served by the Pennsylvania 4-H program either through participation in local clubs or our embryology curriculum presented to public elementary schools. Benefits of being a 4-Her:

4-H members do better in school

• More motivated to help others

Develop skills in leadership, public speaking, self-esteem, communication, and planning 4-H is open to all youth, ages 5-18. To find out how to join,

Hamlin Perseveres At Bristol

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

BRISTOL, Tenn.— Denny Hamlin displayed one of the best racing performances of the year in Saturday night's Sprint Cup Irwin Tools race. He and Carl Edwards raced each other hard for several laps, before Hamlin was able to gain the lead on lap 462 of the 500-lap race. As Edwards faded, Hamlin pulled away to beat Jimmie Johnson to the checkered flag by 1.103 seconds.

Unlike Bristol's Spring race, which had little in the way of excitement, Saturday night's race featured 13 cautions and plenty of emotion, as drivers began to rubber-in the outside groove and discovered it was the fastest way around.

"It's just a different kind of racing," said Hamlin, who won the 20th Cup race of his career. "But it was the same thing -- we were all running in a line. You're just waiting for the next guy to screw up to get around (him).

"I don't think we saw as much side-by-side racing, but you didn't see side-by-side racing with the old Bristol. You just saw a bunch of cars in line, waiting for someone to get knocked out of the way or to mess up. Jeff Gordon contended for the lead but finished third.

"The pace was fast," said Gordon, who inched closer to a wild-card spot in the Chase but still trails Kyle Busch by 16 points for the second of two positions. "You'd fly up around the top like that with all that rubber down. . . . It was fast, and it was intense."

Brian Vickers was fourth, followed by Marcos Ambrose, Kyle Busch, Clint Bowyer, Joey Logano, Kasey Kahne, and Paul Menard.

There were plenty of flare-ups to punctuate the racing. Juan Pablo Montoya wrecked Ryan Newman, and dropped him out of a provisional wild-card spot.

Brad Keselowski got sandwiched between three different cars before

Contact from Regan Smith sent Danica Patrick hard into the frontstretch wall.

No wreck was more significant to the outcome of the race -- or to the Cup standings, for that matter -- than the one between Tony Stewart and Matt Kenseth on Lap 332. Stewart had the faster car, but Kenseth had the race lead, and their cars collided as they powered through Turn 4, with Stewart to the outside.

Repeated contact between the cars turned both sideways. Kenseth's Ford careened into the inside wall at the end of the frontstretch, with Stewart's Chevrolet slamming into Kenseth's car.

Kenseth's car was damaged, but he drove away from the wreck. Stewart climbed from his car and slung his helmet squarely into the nose of Kenseth's car, as he came back around the track.

'We weren't that great of a race car, but we were definitely faster than that (Kenseth's car) after that restart (on Lap 329)," Stewart said while his car spent 25 laps in the garage for repairs. "I checked up twice to not run over him, and I learned my lesson there.

"I'm going to run over him every chance I've got from now till the end of the year -- every chance I've got."

Stewart finished 27th and dropped a spot to 10th in the standings, 16 points ahead of Kasey Kahne in 11th. If Stewart should drop out of the top 10, he won't get bonus points for his three victories when the Kenseth finished 25th and fell two spots to fourth in points, but he clinched at least a wild-card berth in the Chase.

UPDATE: NASCAR spokesman Kerry Tharp said Monday afternoon NASCAR will not penalize Tony Stewart for throwing his helmet at Kenseth's car during the race. In a similar incident, they did not penalize Camping World Truck Series driver Todd Bodine for throwing his helmet at another competitor's vehicle earlier this month at Pocono.

Top-15 Chase leaders with two races remaining before the Chase begins. Only the top-12 drivers will be in contention. 1. Biffle-849, 2. Johnson-838, 3. Earnhardt-838, 4. Kenseth-823, 5. Truex-797, 6. Bowyer-794, 7. Keselowski-790, 8. Hamlin-774, 9. Harvick-767, 10. Stewart-746, 11. Kahne-730, 12. Edwards-712, 13. Kyle Busch-707, 14. J. Gordon-691, 15, Newman-688,

LOGANO TAKES BRISTOL NATIONWIDE RACE

Joey Logano raced Kevin Harvick side-by-side for nearly 20-laps before passing him and going on to victory in Friday night's Food City 250 Nationwide race at Bristol. It was his 15th career win and first at the .533-mile short track

Ricky Stenhouse finished second, followed by Kyle Busch, Austin Dillon, Elliott Sadler, Cole Whitt, Ryan Blaney, Michael Annett, Danica Patrick, and Sam Hornish.

Top-10 leaders after 23 of 33: 1. Sadler-864, 2. Stenhouse-845. 3. Hornish-836, 4. A. Dillon-829, 5. Allgaier-770, 6. Annett-726, 7. Whitt-671, 8. Bliss-640, 9. Scott-550, 10. Patrick-539.

RED HORSE TEAMS ARE RED HOT Timothy Peters led all 204 laps of last Wednesday night's truck race at Bristol. With new teammate Parker Kligerman finishing in the runner-up spot, Red Horse Racing had itself a 1-2 finish to remember. "What an awesome feeling," Peters said in Victory Lane. "The sky's the limit right now. Will that "no limits" momentum end in a title? After eight top-5 finishes in 13 starts, including a pair of runner-up results at Daytona and Kansas, Peters has given himself a 17-point cushion atop the charts. 1-2 finish at Bristol hasn't been the only bright snot of the

In April, 2012, he became a consultant for Hendrick and works about 15 hours a week, serving as an athletic trainer for the 45 or so pit crew members employed by the race team.

"Why a guy like Gene?" said Andy Papathanassiou, a Hendrick director who oversees the recruiting, development and training of pit crews. "Because as we strive to keep these crews performing at the top level of their game in the pit stop world, injury and recovery is a big part of that equation. And that's where someone like Gene, with his expertise and background and his enthusiasm for what he does, is

Teens and safety rarely go hand in hand, but a group of Pennsylvania's youth is proving that safety is an important part of rural work and life. Eight teams of FFA students from throughout the commonwealth displayed a wealth of knowledge during the Pennsylvania State University Farm Safety and Health Quiz Bowl, held at the 2012 Ag Progress Days on Wednesday, August 15.

Teams representing FFA chapters compete in a quiz show format to demonstrate their knowledge about farm safety and health hazards and recommended practices. Teams have to study a range of resources such as the National Safe Tractor & Machinery Operation Program Task Sheets, National Agricultural Safety Database (NASD) Website, Pesticide Education Manual, and Penn State Agricultural Safety Fact Sheets. Cardiac Rehabilitation: Getting Back On Your Feet After A Heart Attack

Tom McCouch and Bob Nace walk on treadmills as part of their cardiac rehabilitation program. As participants in the program, they are constantly monitored by the Evangelical Cardiac Rehabilitation staff while they are exercising and building up their strength.

You don't choose to have heart disease but you can choose how you bounce back from heart-related procedures. After a heart attack, valve surgery, stent implementation, angioplasty, coronary bypass, or other heart treatments, patients can benefit from a regulated cardiac rehabilitation program, and not any program but one of your choosing.

Evangelical Community Hospital's Cardiac Rehabilitation program is nationally certified by the American Association of Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation, meeting the highest standards of quality and has been providing education, exercise training, and emotional support for patients and families coping with the consequences of heart disease for more than 35 years.

The Hospital's proven program is now carried out in the 1,290 square-foot rehabilitation gym in the surgical and cardiovascular expansion. With new treadmills, bicycles, rowing machines and other equipment, the skilled staff lead patients back to healthier, stronger lifestyles every day. One-on-one training combined with individual plans created for the patient's specific needs make the program stand out. In addition, the cardiac rehabilitation program at Evangelical has available stress testing with echocardiograms and other testing tools.

"Patients who have had heart incidents suddenly have their life turned upside down. It's important for them to ask questions about after care and make decisions that will keep them on track for heart health in the future. A vital part of that plan is carefully deciding what rehabilitation program is going to serve their needs to promote the best outcome. Our team encourages patients to choose Evangelical when it comes time to make those decisions," said Vicki Krebs, Cardiac Rehabilitation Coordinator.

After discharge from a hospital for a heart-related problem, every patient has a choice of where they want to complete cardiac rehabilitation. The greatest chance at success is to pick one that has a strong record of results and is convenient to the patient. Patients are more inclined to commit and stick to a program if it is one they enjoy going to and is not out of their way

Patients can progress at their own individual pace with exercise and education next to others who have heart disease and understand the recovery process. All exercise and physical activity is closely monitored by Advanced Cardiac Life Support (ACLS) certified registered nurses and exercise specialists who serve not only to lead the patient through the program but to encourage and support them and their families as they move through the recovery process.

The program is not only about exercise -- included is nutrition counseling, on-going evaluation of progress and continuous communication with the referring physician – all integral to changing lifestyles for a more heart healthy future.

For more information on the Cardiac Rehabilitation program at Evangelical, call (570)522-2676 or visit cardiovascular services at www.evanhospital.com.

division for Peter R. and Debra K. Johnson, Buffalo Township, Union County. Mr. Wagner stated that the tract is in Buffalo Township; however, DEP returned the module to be resubmitted with the proper forms for commercial facilities and for approval by West Buffalo and Limestone Townships, claiming the property is situated also within these municipalities.

Roadmaster Report:

Roadmaster Ken Haines discussed the progress made in the search for a newer truck. Coldpatching continued throughout the month. Shawn Fetzer, PennDOT, notified the Roadmaster of a major overhaul on Route 45, Mifflinburg. Detour routes will be emailed to the municipality. Work was required on the mower. Tar and chip projects will continue on municipal roads.

At 7pm, the FDR Full Depth Reclamation Project bids were opened. The bids were $191,599 - Eastern Industries; $245,415.50 - Gutelius Excavating, Inc; and $238,509.10 - HRI. PennDot earlier provided an estimate of the project as $345,000. Motion to award the FDR Project Project as $345,000. ect bid to Eastern Industries by Supervisor Haines; 2nd by Supervisor Heintzelman. All in favor.

Emergency Management Coordinator Stanley Bingaman provided an update on the new radios. A change in personnel at the preferred radio provider has resulted in delays in the county and municipal purchases of the required radios. Limestone Township already has purchased the radios through an online vendor and will have them programmed when available.

EMC Bingaman noted there were no countywide meetings. Motion to accept the EMC report by Supervisor Heintzelman; 2nd by Supervisor Haines. All in favor. Code Enforcement Officer Stanley Bingaman reported on two construction permits issued to Leonard Zimmerman (school restrooms and additions) and to Paul Hetrick (implement shed). Mr. Bingaman authorized the refund of Ben Reeder's construction permit fee due to the requirement that his project must be permitted through the Central Keystone COG. The Board discussed projects requiring a building permit through the Central Keystone COG, rather than a construction permit through Limestone Township Code Enforcement Officer. CK COG director Tom Sauers in a phone call earlier brought to the township's attention that any project which is commercial, including home renovations for businesses located on the premises of a residence in which a member of the public may enter the business, requires inspections for compliance through the building permit process through the Central Keystone Council of Governments. Director Sauers stated also that horse barns are considered non-agricultural buildings and require building permits through the CK COG. Motion to accept the Code Enforcement Officer's report by Supervisor Haines; 2nd by Supervisor Heintzelman. All in favor.

The Union County Planning Commission (UCPC) contacted Solicitor Kerstetter and the township to advise that the Municipal Planning Code allows for a 45-day review of a municipality's Subdivision and Land Development Ordinance (SALDO) by the county planning commission. The UCPC received Limestone Township Planning Commission's SALDO online on April 19. UCPC offered to meet with the Limestone Township Planning Commission to review their comments and concerns

Twenty onlot sewer inspection notification letters were distributed at the election. Additional letters will be mailed to township residents.

The Board reviewed a letter from the Union County Planning Commission to Matthew Shirk, Church of God in Christ Mennonite, reminding Mr. Shirk of the July 9, 2012 deadline for completion of required improvements after a complaint was received concerning the infiltration pond located behind the school filled with water after a week of dry weather.

The Board reviewed a letter to Mifflinburg Borough from DEP notifying the borough in response to the annual wasteload management report of corrective action required for preventing/eliminating hydraulic overload conditions in the future since the condition existed in 2011. The report is required by July 16, 2012. No new sewage connections to Mifflinburg facilities (except as provided under Section 94.55 – 94.57 of DEP rules and regulations) will be permitted until the sewerage system no longer exhibits any existing or projected overload. The connection ban letter was received from Mifflinburg Borough.

Motion to pay the bills by Supervisor Heintzelman; 2nd by Supervisor Haines. All in favor.

Public Comment:

Eric Heintzelman stated that he will talk to Helen Bordner concerning the water issue around her property where heavy rains force water into her buildings. The Supervisors discussed the complaint called into the township by Mrs. Bordner with the Roadmaster and Emergency Management Coordinator and determined that the problem is not a municipal responsibility.

James Schwartz and Al Pantaleo discussed the water and sewer billing increase from the Borough to Limestone Township residents on Mifflinburg public water and sewage. Mr. Pantaleo stated that he contacted the Public Utility Commission who advised that they have no authority over the Mifflinburg Municipal Authority. The Board discussed the reasons for the cost increase conveyed by the Limestone Township Municipal Authority. Mr. Schwartz stated that the LTMA invited the Mifflinburg Municipal Authority to LTMA's regularly scheduled meeting and there was no response from Mifflinburg and nearly 30 concerned residents attended the meeting. Disappointment was expressed in the lack of a response from the Mifflinburg Municipal Authority. Mr. Schwartz conveyed appreciation from the Pinnacle Lane residents to the Supervisors for the street cleaning in the Pinnacle Lane area. Roadmaster Report:

Roadmaster Ken Haines discussed:
