For the convenience of local residents, two events have been scheduled:

- Thursday, June 6, at the Kreamer Fire Hall, 37 Manor Drive, Kreamer.
- Thursday, June 13, at the Buffalo Township Building, 2115 Strickler Road, Mifflinburg.

"These forums are an opportunity for people in the District to ask questions and address concerns," Keller said. "I look forward to speaking with local residents about the issues they care about and that affect them on a daily basis."

Cable TV Contract Negotiations – An Opportunity For The Region's Municipalities

One of the lesser known responsibilities of municipal officials is contract negotiations for cable television franchises. SEDA-COG has scheduled a series of meetings in June to educate elected and non-elected officials about their rights and potential benefits related to the negotiating process. Meetings are scheduled in Mifflintown, Sunbury, and Montoursville.

Under federal law, municipalities essentially serve as their cable company's "landlord." The companies place cable lines and other equipment in the public rights-of-way. The municipalities control those rights-of-way as a public trust, and they are entitled to benefits in return for the cable companies' use of their property.

Depending on the cable company, the benefits from franchise negotiations include:

- Increased franchise fee revenue by applying the franchise fee to all revenue sources
- A cash franchise grant
- Free internet service to the Municipal Building
- Enforceable customer service standards
- A government access channel
- Strong right-of-way protections

In many cases, municipal officials simply accept what the cable company offers when, in actuality, they can negotiate for much more.

The potential for increased benefits is even greater if municipalities band together to negotiate franchise agreements. Group negotiations give municipalities more bargaining leverage with the cable companies. The process for working together and the benefits to the municipalities will be fully discussed at the cable TV meetings in June.

Meetings are scheduled at the following times and places:

Mifflintown – June 11, 9:00 am - JP's Pancake House, Stop 35 Plaza, Rt. 35

Sunbury – June 12, 2:00 pm - City Council Chambers, 225 Market St., 2nd Floor

Each of the meetings will last about two hours. There is no cost to participate.

Information at the meetings will be presented by Attorney Dan Cohen of Pittsburgh's Cohen Law Group, which has represented nearly four hundred municipalities in cable-related matters. Mr. Cohen has worked on cable issues for over 20 years.

In addition to SEDA-COG, the meetings are sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs. For questions and registration information, contact Jim Baker, tel. 570-524-4491, e-mail jbaker@seda-cog.org.

Recently I found an interesting article that I'll share with you. I'm amazed at the wonderful products the women of times past baked without the advantages of the modern conveniences we have today!

THE BAKE OVEN

The change-over to baking in a cook stove was slow in many areas. While people were adapting to the "new" gadget in one area early, bake ovens were still being constructed in others. In one area, one farmer bought a new cookstove and bricked up the hearth in 1845, while a neighbor built a new bake oven in 1869.

The following is an interesting account of activities and everyday happenings in and around the boyhood home of John Z. Harner of Berks County.

BOCK DAG--Friday, (bake day) was a gilt-edged day at the Harner's and the excitement of it, the aroma and the "tasting" still linger in John's nostrils, mind and heart. As he tells it, one is fascinated by the idea that the delicious pies and cakes he remembers, were baked in an outdoor oven built in the early 1700's!

When John was about ten, Emmanuel Schwenk, a stone mason, rebuilt the brick oven part of the Harner bakery area, which gave him a splendid opportunity to observe all the details. He even remembers going with his father to the upper end of Jim High's mill dam near the Earlville Covered Bridge for a load of sand with which to do the job.

This oven was egg-shaped, about six feet deep and five feet wide inside, with an eight-inch vertical wall all around, on which the arch started all around the oven. There was no opening to the space under the roof except from the front. In this front opening over the oven mouth, Mother Harner stored her oven tools, the handles of which always extended forward, overhead, for easy grasping, always out of the way and protected while not in use.

(To be continued next week)

Do you remember when certain household tasks were done on certain days of the week? Sunday-church day; Monday-wash day; Tuesday-ironing day; what were Wednesday and Thursday? Cleaning?? Friday (and other days)-baking days; Saturday-shopping day... How were things done at your house?

As I recall, my mother always washed on Mondays... When I was at home, she always used a wringer washer, with a "rinse tub," then back through the wringer and then carried the heavy wet clothes out to hang on the clothes to dry... even in the cold Pennsylvania winters. Do I recall that if they froze, it helped to "whiten" them?

After marriage and children, I never used a wringer washer, but I did have to hang the wash "out to dry" for many years. I didn't have a dryer until after our youngest was three or four years old. Fortunately that was in California, so the weather was clear and fairly warm, most of the time.

Do tell me about your memories of "Wash Day" and the other "work days" when you were a child or even when you were an adult... Jean Markley Keiser, 1133 Carolina Ave., West Chester, PA 19380 bkeiser@cheerful.com

"Happy" Harvick Takes Coca Cola 600

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

CONCORD, N. C.—Kevin Harvick won Sunday's Sprint Cup Coca Cola 600, the season's longest race ahead of Kasey Kahne and Kurt Busch.

When a late race caution came out, Harvick, who was running fourth pitted for four fresh tires, while Kahne, who was leading, elected to stay on the track.

When racing resumed on lap 389 of the 400-lap race, the leaders were Kahne, Harvick, Denny Hamlin, and Ryan Newman.

Harvick immediately passed Kahne for the lead, and was never threatened. "We made a good strategy call there near the end," said Harvick. "We had fresher tires and were able to get by him (Kahne). That's all we needed."

For Kahne, who finished second, it was a decision that probably cost him the race.

"We were in a tough spot," said Kahne. "We had raced all day and thought we had enough tires left. We had a good car, but just didn't get it done."

Third place finisher Kurt Busch led some laps and ran with the leaders, but the battery on his No. 78 failed and he had to pit for his team to install a new battery.

"I was shell-shocked by that," said Kurt. "We had a good car and the battery just died in it. We battled back, but you've got to be perfect to win here." A broken television cable that fell across the race track caused NASCAR officials to red-flag Sunday's race for nearly 30 minutes after lap 126.

The cars of four drivers, including race leader Kyle Busch, suffered damage after running over the wire. It was part of the rigging used for the overhead camera that is moved up and down along the frontstretch.

After hitting the debris coming out of Turn 4, Busch radioed his crew to say "Something fell apart. And of course it fell apart on us."

Officials red-flagged the race before bringing the field to pit road under yellow. The red flag was displayed once again and teams were told they could repair any damage thought to be caused by the debris, and given a 15 minute window in which to do so.

All teams were able to make repairs to their cars.

Track officials announced that 10 fans were hurt. According to a statement from track officials, seven fans were treated and released for "minor cuts and scrapes" at the speedway's on-site care centers. Three fans were taken to area hospitals for observation.

A second red flag came out on lap 225 after a big wreck took out the cars driven by Jeff Gordon, Mark Martin, Aric Almirola, Ricky Stenhouse, and Bobby Labonte.

Kyle Busch's team was able to repair damage to his car from the television cable, but on lap 254, his engine expired, and he did not finish the race.

The remaining top-10 finishers were: 4. Denny Hamlin, 5. Joey Logano, 6. Ryan Newman, 7. Tony Stewart, 8. Clint Bowyer, 9. Martin Truex, 10. Marcos Ambrose.

"ROWDY" BUSCH CONTINUES TO MAKE HISTORY

Kyle Busch continues to rewrite Nationwide Series history. His latest feat came Saturday at Charlotte, as he led 186 laps of the 200-lap race. It was also his sixth win of the season, and 57th career victory, the most of any driver.

Before the race, Busch was tied with Mark Martin for number of wins.

"Every time you're tied with somebody, you want to beat 'em," Busch said. "But when you're tied with the greats in this sport, like the Mark Martins or the Jack Ingrams, it makes it pretty special to beat those guys and the records they set at different tracks, whatever's been done before."

Kasey Kahne finished second, followed by Joey Logano, Kyle Larson, Kevin Harvick, Trevor Bayne, Justin Allgaier, Matt Kenseth, Parker Kligerman and Regan Smith.

Top-10 leaders after 10 of 33: 1. Smith -376, 2. Hornish Jr.-347, 3. Allgaier-336, 4. Sadler-331, 5. Vickers-327, 6. Kligerman-322, 7. A. Dillon-321, 8. Scott-313, 9. Larson -288, 10. Bowman-282.

2014 NASCAR HOF CLASS ANNOUNCED

NASCAR announced the five inductees who will comprise the 2014 class of the NASCAR Hall of Fame.

Tim Flock - A two-time NASCAR premier series champion, Flock was one of the sport's first dominant drivers. In 187 starts, Flock had 39 victories, a total that still ranks 18th on the all-time wins list. He won his first series title in 1952, and his second in 1955. He dominated that season, posting 18 wins, 32 top fives and 18 poles in 39 races.

Jack Ingram - The Nationwide Series' all-time greatest driver. He won the inaugural title in 1982 and again in '85. In his 10 years of competition in what was called the NASCAR Busch Series, Ingram had 31 wins, a record that stood until Mark Martin broke it in 1997. All but two of Ingram's 31 wins came on short tracks.

Dale Jarrett - A three-time Daytona 500 winner and two-time winner of the Brickyard 400 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway. His 32 Sprint Cup Series victories rank him 21st all-time. Ned and Dale Jarrett become the third father-son duo selected to the HoF.

Maurice Petty - The chief engine builder at Petty Enterprises, Maurice supplied the horsepower that propelled Richard Petty to a majority of his record 200 NASCAR victories, plus his seven championships. Maurice had a brief driving career, but was satisfied to work behind the scenes as one of the top engine builders.

Fireball Roberts - Glenn Roberts, who got his legendary nickname from his days as a hard-throwing pitcher in high school, is perhaps the greatest driver never to win a NASCAR title. He was arguably stock car racing's first superstar, an immensely popular prototype for some of today's competitors who are stars on and off the track. During his career he often came up big in the biggest events, winning the Daytona 500 in 1962 and the Southern 500 in 1958 and '63.

KANAAN WINS 97th INDY 500

Tony Kanaan of Brazil won Sunday's Indianapolis 500, after taking the lead from Ryan Hunter-Reay on a late race restart. Immediately after taking over the front spot, Dario Franchitti hit the outside wall, bringing out a caution, which ended the race under yellow.

"It is marvelous," said Kanaan, who started 12th and led 34 laps of the 200-lap race. "That last lap was the longest of my life. I got a little bit of luck today and this is for the fans. I was looking at the stands (on the cool-down lap) and it was unbelievable."

It was Tony's time.

He had come up short time and time again. In all, he went into Sunday's race with 221 laps led at Indy - more than any non-winner except Michael Andretti and Rex Mays - but his second-place finish to Buddy Rice in 2004 was the closest he had come to victory.

He was leading when the rain came in 2007, only to lose to Dario Franchitti when the race resumed.

Carlos Munoz, a 21-year-old rookie making his first IndyCar start, finished second and Hunter-Reay was third. Marco Andretti was fourth, followed by Justin Wilson, and Helio Castroneves.

NASCAR driver A.J. Allmendinger, led 23 laps in his Indy 500 debut for Roger Penske, and finished seventh.

Fired by Penske from his NASCAR ride last year after failing a NASCAR drug test, Penske gave him a second chance with this IndyCar opportunity.

Allmendinger was leading when his seat belt came undone, forcing him to pit.

It put him off the pit cycle, and he was forced to stop for gas twice far in advance of the rest of the field. It meant he had to drive his way back to the front each time.

Simon Pagenaud, Charlie Kimball, and Ed Carpenter were the remaining top-10 drivers.

Week of the Young Child

The Week of the Young Child™ is an annual celebration sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). The purpose of the Week of the Young Child™ is to focus public attention on the needs of young children and their families and to recognize the early childhood programs and services that meet those needs. The 2013 Week of the Young Child theme was Early Years Are Learning Years®. Snyder Union Mifflin Child Development (SUMCD) celebrates this event annually.

Approximately 800 children at SUMCD child care, head start and early head start centers, took part in events to celebrate this special week. Many events were scheduled for children and parents, including:

Susquehanna Children's Center held an open house that included several other community services/ organizations, including the Selinsgrove Community Library, AYSO, 4H, Families Learning Together, a Susquehanna University music program designed for children, and a local dance class. Center Director Bob Long (shown in photo) read the PA One Book - The Bus For Us by Suzanne Bloom - to groups of parents and children - ON the SUMCD Bus! They had a "real carnival" the Lewisburg Children's Center with food and games. Sandy Trate, a therapy dog trainer, brought her dogs Emma and Maggie to visit with the children, and also stopped by the Sharon Koppel Children's Center.

SUMCD also takes this week to show appreciation to the staff and board members of the agency. The work they do on behalf of children is extraordinary!

SUMCD asks that everyone remember the importance of education in the early years of a child's life, not just during the Week of the Young Child, but every week. And, they would like to honor those who make a difference in children's lives.

Training subjects included close-order drill, marksmanship with an M-16A4 rifle, physical fitness, martial arts, swimming, military history, customs and courtesies.

One week prior to graduation, Abbott endured The Crucible, a 54-hour final test of recruits' minds and bodies. Upon completion, recruits are presented the Marine Corps emblem and called Marines for the first time.
