Joe Foster's Teddy On Display At Herr Memorial Library

By Kay Poeth

Joe Foster's teddy, a bear with historical significance, is currently on display at the Herr Memorial Library! Joseph Gutelius Foster was born on July 21, 1916 and died on August 11, 1994. Foster lived most of his life at 513 Market Street in Mifflinburg across from what is now the Herr Memorial Library.

Joseph Gutelius Foster's teddy bear is currently on display at the Herr Memorial Library located at 500 Market Street in Mifflinburg. Hours of operation are: Monday-Thursday from 10 am- 6 pm, Friday from 10 am- 4 pm and Saturday 9 am- 4 pm. For more information, call 570-966-0831.

In 1994, Foster bequeathed his estate to three non-profit local charities: The Union County Historical Society, for which he served as a member of the Board and also President up until his death from a brain tumor in 1994, the Mifflinburg Buggy Museum where he served as a long time board member, and the Herr Memorial Library. His bequests to these three local organizations were substantial and allowed for growth in each.

At the Herr Library, a much needed space was added onto the building that currently serves as the children's wing. Featured in this wing is a gift that Joe Foster bequeathed to his friend, Jeannette Lasanasky. His original teddy bear with its body repaired is displayed for patrons to enjoy. The worn nightshirt and additional clothes were lovingly created by a seamstress who made Joe's clothing as a child. Jeannette also found early photos of Joe with his bear and framed them to accompany the display.

The much loved, well-worn teddy bear resembles the character in The Velveteen Rabbit, a classic children's story book first published in 1922. Teddy finds his resting place on an antique doll's bed. The teddy is covered by a miniature quilt featuring pink and green calico fabrics popular in the local region arranged in a fashion typical of Central Pennsylvania during that time period. It was handmade by quilt historian Nancy Roan of Bechtelsville, PA.

Applications Being Accepted for Potential Funding

The County of Union is accepting applications for funding requests from municipalities, non-profit organizations and public authorities that are located within, or provide substantial service to, Union County, Pennsylvania for programs and projects to potentially fund with a portion of State and Local Fiscal Recovery Fund money the county received from the Federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA).

In order to assess need and to better understand the number, types and scope of potential programs and projects the Commissioners are encouraging eligible entities to complete and submit an application located on the county website at www.unioncepa.org using the American Rescue Plan (ARPA) Quick Link. By completing the application, you will inform us of your needs, determine eligibility, and provide important information that will help us decide how to best invest these funds. The following types of organizations may apply:

- Municipalities
- Non-Profit Organizations
- Public Authorities

The application window will open on March 14, 2022 and will close on May 31, 2022. All applications are due by May 31, 2022, late entries will not be accepted.

The broad categories of eligible uses for these county grant funds are:

- Support Public Health Response to COVID-19
- Replace Revenue Loss and/or Provide Traditional Government Services
- Water, Sewer and Stormwater Infrastructure
- Address Negative Economic Impacts of COVID including This is not an exhaustive list. Use the links on the county website at www.unoncountvna.org for additional information.

All questions regarding this funding opportunity and the application should be submitted to ARPAunionco.org.

Lewisburg Borough Council Meeting

Lewisburg Borough will hold its March Council Meeting in the Council Chambers, 55 South Fifth Street, Lewisburg, on Tuesday March 29, 2022, at 6:30 PM. Anyone requiring special assistance may call the Borough Office at 570-523-3614 to make necessary arrangements.

Help Wanted: Mifflinburg Buggy Museum

The Mifflinburg Buggy Museum needs you. The museum has no paid staff so we are dependent on volunteers to donate their time, energy and talents to help us keep our doors open and continue welcoming visitors from all over the country.

As we approach the 2022 season, we are in desperate need of volunteers to assist in a variety of roles. Tour guides are needed to escort our guests through the museum complex and tell the story of the Heiss family and their contribution in putting "Buggytown" on the map. Tours are offered Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1-4 PM May-Oct. Training is provided and the opportunity to shadow other guides is offered until you feel comfortable leading your own tours. "Talking points" and notes are provided for use during your tour. Memorization of a script is not required.

We also need help in our Visitors' Center during the times tours are offered. VC workers staff the museum gift shop, take admission fees for tours, answer the phone and serve to welcome visitors who want to learn more about the museum.

If you'd prefer a more "behind the scenes" approach to volunteering, there are plenty of other opportunities to help. Assistance is needed in lawn and garden maintenance; such as mowing, weeding, leaf raking and mulching. General building maintenance is also needed. Painting and minor repairs within the buildings are tasks for the handy man or woman.

If you have strong writing skills, we could use your talents in preparation of news articles and/or grant applications. Basic computer skills would be invaluable in data input and scanning of archive materials, articles and documents. (Training will be provided).

Assistance with events and fundraisers is always needed. Why not consider serving on a committee or just serving as a "gopher" the day of the events? Set-up, tear down, preparation and/or serving of food are all tasks critical to our fundraising efforts.

Please consider offering your help. To find out more, please contact Mary Sullivan at msulliva@pct.edu or 570-966-4320. You can make a difference in our community! Please volunteer!!

Selinsgrove Speedway 410 Sprint Car Series

Limited Late Models & Roadrunners Too!

The fast and furious 410 sprint cars will make their first start of the season at Selinsgrove Speedway Sunday, March 27, at 2 p.m. in a 25-lap main event paying $5,000 to win!

The total purse for the first of 11 winged 410 sprint car races this season at the Superspeedway of Dirt Tracking will offer nearly $20,000 in prize money. Second-place will earn $2,000 with $400 posted just to start the main event. The USAC National Sprint Car Series event in June will make an even dozen 410 sprint car races slated at the track in 2022.

Lelands.com, the world's premier online sports memorabilia auction house based in Matawan, N.J., is returning as the title sponsor of Selinsgrove's 410 sprint car series. The points champion will earn a cool $5,000 bonus at the end of the season with the top five points finishers picking up bonus money.

Danny Dietrich of Gettysburg, a one-time winner at the track last season, is the defending Lelands.com 410 sprint car series champion. Other 410 sprint car winners at the track last year were Anthony Macri of Dillsburg, Brent Marks of Myerstown, and Chase Dietz of Hanover. The MAPCO Machine Shop limited late models will also make their first start of the season in a 20-lap feature paying $1,200 to win. Rounding out the rare Sunday afternoon three-division racing card will be the A&A Auto Stores roadrunners in a 12-lap main event.

Devin Hart of Mifflintown and Jake Jones of Hunlock Creek are the defending limited late model and roadrunner track champions, respectively.

All three divisions will draw for starting positions in heat races followed by a redraw based on each division's car counts for the main events.

Pit gates on March 27 will open at 11:30 a.m. with grandstand gates slated for 12 p.m. Engine starts are scheduled for 1:15 p.m.

For a complete schedule, the latest news, results, and race status, visit selinsgrovespeedway.com or follow the track on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram. The speedway office can be reached at 570.374.2266.

rabbittransit – Microtransit To Expand

As of March 21, 2022 rabbittransit will again expand their microtransit service, Stop Hopper, to new areas in Pennsylvania. Lewisburg, West Milton, Milton, Danville and Bloomsburg, PA which covers parts Union, Northumberland, Montour and Columbia counties. Stop Hopper enables residents to schedule rides on smaller, neighborhood friendly-sized public transit vehicles.

Riders can travel anywhere within the designated zone by requesting a ride using the Stop Hopper smartphone app. Following a ride request, the app provides passengers with an estimated pick-up time. Passengers are picked up in nine-person accessible vans and taken where they want to go within the designated zone area. The app also tracks rides in real-time and alerts passengers when their ride is about to reach their desired destination. The Stop Hopper app is available for download from the App Store or Google Play. Riders will also be able to call for a ride request by contacting 1-800-632-9063.

The Stop Hopper will be available from 6:30am until 6:30pm Monday through Friday. It is $2.00 per ride and free for registered seniors 65 years and older with a registered free fare ID card. Vehicles are ADA accessible. For additional information, visit www.ridethestopper.org.

Focus Central PA To Host Industrial Forum

On Wednesday, March 23, 2022, Focus Central PA will be hosting, the region's forward-thinking economic growth event, in person at Susquehanna University. Industrial development experts and thought leaders will cover critical topics including smart growth, economics, site selection, funding and talent in Pennsylvania. The forum expects to attract over 200 attendees, will have 27 exhibitors, and several important industrial and infrastructure projects throughout Central PA as will be highlighted and recognized!

The event schedule includes keynote Jim Robey, PhD, Principal with Robey Analytics. Jim, an applied economist, economic developer, and site selection consultant with more than 30 years' experience will provide a look at macro-economic conditions and what that means for industrial development moving forward. Dennis Burnside, Executive Managing Director with Vestian to also keynote. Dennis brings a 30-plus year resume of serving large and small corporate organizations, the economic development community, and the commercial real estate service and investment industry to provide real estate market updates, trends and observations on what growth looks like moving forward.

In addition to the keynote speakers the event will have expert panels presenting on Ways to WIN at Site Selection, Funding Strategies for Capital Investment Projects and Talent Advantages and Resources in Central Pennsylvania.

Joe Kantz, Focus Central PA Board Member and Event Committee Chair said "As a County Commissioner in Snyder County for the past dozen years, I have seen smart growth in our region. One of the reasons we've seen this growth is because of the work of FOCUS Central PA. This Forum will be a 'must attend' event for anyone who is interested in economic and industrial development in the greater Central PA area. When we approach growth in central PA from a regional approach, we succeed. This event will broaden our ability to work together and bring even more growth to our region to benefit our residents and our local economies."

Register for IDF 2022, a networking and informational event focused on investing in Central PA for smart growth. This event brings together planners, investors, builders, community leaders and resource partners. IDF 2022 is scheduled for Wednesday, March 23 from 8:30 am to 3:30 pm in person at Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, PA. For more details and to register visit www.FocusCentralPA.org. Contact Focus Central Pennsylvania at 844.293.8719 or at locate@focuscentralpa.org.

Dept. Of Health Announces Guidelines

Acting Secretary of Health Keara Klinepeter outlined guidelines to allow hospitals to implement three innovative care delivery models designed to increase patient access to care.

"The primary purpose of these innovative delivery models is to provide options that will preserve and increase access to high quality care in areas that may be medically underserved," Klinepeter said. "These innovative models will give rural hospitals flexibility to address historic challenges so they can maintain emergency care in local communities. Additionally, hospitals across the state will have the flexibility to minimize financial burdens, while still meeting the needs of the community."

The optional delivery models include establishing micro-hospitals, tele-emergency departments and outpatient emergency departments, which all will be subject to eligibility criteria including patient volume, geographic location, minimum staffing and services.

Time To Ready Bluebird Nesting Boxes

The Pennsylvania Game Commission's Howard Nursery wants to help you "spring" into the season and connect with wildlife in your backyard.

Bluebird nesting boxes built by staff at Howard Nursery are available for sale at the nursery office, as well as the Game Commission's Harrisburg headquarters, region offices and the Middle Creek Wildlife Management Area. Nesting-box kits also are available.

Nursery staff build bluebird and other nesting boxes during the winter for annual sales to the public. A single box sells for $14.84, including sales tax. When purchasing two or more boxes, the cost is $12.72 each, including sales tax.

Customers can select pre-built boxes or choose kits that can be assembled as a wood-working project. The kits provide a great opportunity for Scout troops, summer camps and conservation groups to get involved with helping wildlife. Special pricing is available for organized educational activities. Call the Howard Nursery or region offices for details.

"Building and placing nesting boxes is a great project for individuals, families or civic organizations interested in connecting with wildlife in a natural way," said Bryan Burhans, Game Commission Executive Director. "What better way to usher in spring than attracting bluebirds to backyards and properties?"

A brochure of the Game Commission's bluebird nesting boxes and other wildlife structures is available online by navigating to the Howard Nursery page at www.pgc.pa.gov. Place your cursor on the "Information & Resources" tab at the top of the homepage, then click "Get Involved," and select "Howard Nursery" to find the "2022 Wildlife Homes Order Form."

The Game Commission's Howard Nursery has been manufacturing bluebird nesting boxes and box kits for more than 30 years. Each year, the nursery produces an average of 4,000 bluebird boxes and 10,000 kits. In addition to being sold to groups and individuals, they are also available to cooperators in the Game Commission's Hunter Access Program.

The nesting boxes constructed at the Howard Nursery are approved by wildlife biologists and have been proven to attract bluebirds and other native species, such as tree swallows and house wrens. Bluebirds are beautiful songbirds native to Pennsylvania. They are cavity nesters that became less common because of a lack of suitable nest sites. Many nest sites have been lost through changing land-use practices, as well as urban and suburban sprawl. The decline in bluebird numbers is also due in part to non-native species, such as starlings and house sparrows, taking over bluebird nesting cavities.

Bluebirds are early nesters, and according to Game Commission biologists, now is the time to place new nest boxes, as well as to clean and repair existing boxes.

Boxes should be placed on a free-standing pole 3 to 5 feet above the ground, facing south, if possible, and facing a nearby tree or fence where young birds can safely land on their initial flights from the box. To reduce predation and competition from other species, no perch should be placed on the box; bluebirds do not need one.

Nesting boxes can be ordered and shipped directly from the Howard Nursery by calling 814-355-4434. Shipping and handling costs will apply. Shipping is not available from other Game Commission office locations. All purchases can be made with cash, check, money order or credit card. Sales will continue while supplies last.

The Howard Nursery is located at 197 Nursery Road in Howard, Pa. Office hours are Monday through Friday from 7 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

The Game Commission's headquarters is at 2001 Elmerton Ave., just off the Progress Ave. exit off Interstate 81 in Harrisburg.

Game Commission region office addresses and phone numbers are available on the agency's website and in the Pennsylvania Hunting & Trapping Digest.

For more information on bluebirds, visit the Game Commission website www.pgc.pa.gov, click on "Wildlife" in the menu bar at the top of the page, then the "Birding" tab, and scroll down to "Eastern Bluebird" under the "Natural History" heading.

History of Lewisburg Discussed at Lewisburg Sunrise Rotary Club

Mike Molesevich recently presented The History of Lewisburg using historic Sanborn Fire Insurance Maps, 1885 to 1960, to the Lewisburg Sunrise Rotary Club.

The fire insurance maps are in color, to-scale, hand-drawn with detailed descriptions of buildings, canals, railroads, businesses, and industries of Lewisburg. Molesevich is an environmental consultant who uses Sanborn Maps to research industrial history. He is a board member of the Union County Historical Society and a former Mayor of Lewisburg. He includes presentations on environmental due diligence, remediation, industrial photography, noise pollution, energy, and sustainability.

29 4-H Members Receive Diamond Clover Award

4-H Educator Kathy Weller

Colette Hoffman of Snyder County proudly holding her award.

At the recent Pennsylvania 4-H State Leadership Conference, 29 4-H'ers received Diamond Clover Awards, the highest achievement possible in the Pennsylvania 4-H program.

The Clover Award Program encourages 4-H members to explore new projects and activities that will help them acquire the seven leadership life skills: communicating; decision making and problem solving; getting along with others; learning to learn; managing; understanding self; and working in groups. Engagement with the Clover Award Program is generally a multi-year process and consists of planning and implementing a service-learning project in the community.

"Now more than ever, the skills learned as 4-H'ers are needed all over our world," said Jeanette Stackhouse, 4-H teen program manager with Penn State Extension. "We are delighted to see so much thought and effort go into these projects that make a great impact on the 4-H'er's local community."

4-H'ers from the following counties received Diamond Awards:

- Adams County
— Amanda Hollabaugh planned the annual picnic for the Land Conservancy of Adams County.
- Alleghany County
— Norah Carter developed and led a hands-on educational program for teens and tweens about mindfulness and stress-management coping mechanisms.
- Bucks County
— David Arnoldi led a lava lamp room during the virtual science night at a local school.
— Addy Hazelrigg led a pillowcase dress donation project for the Global Hope Alliance.
— Ilene Stark taught 4-H members to make toys for donation to the Bucks County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.
- Clearfield County
— Macy Hughes led an educational demonstration on fire safety.
- Crawford County
— Mallory Schroeder taught other 4-H members to safely handle, show and care for horses.
- Fayette County
— Cheyenne Bash worked with an elementary school's 4-H woodworking club to promote hand tool safety.
— Kenzie Mowry founded a 4-H club to mentor youth between the ages of eight and 12 on decision-making, friendship, trust, and safety.

— Isabel Poorbaugh taught elementary school students about food systems.

Greene County

— Hannah Cole assembled a first aid kit for her local 4-H livestock barn and arranged for volunteer leaders and County Council members to receive first aid training.

Indiana County

— Elizabeth Bruner organized a three-day wildlife, forestry and aquatics camp at a local park.

— Ryan Fabin conducted a financial workshop to teach teens about saving and investing.

— Micah Nygren performed music at a local nursing home — and brought tambourines and maracas for residents to join along.

Lycoming County

— Elizabeth Fishel ran an art camp for children at the Lycoming County Fair.

Montgomery County

— Tayler Garges educated youth on the importance of pollinators and the pollination process.

— Angela Lamina planted a garden at the Southeastern Veterans Center.

Perry County

— Elizabeth Lentz created Star Wars figures from plywood for the Christmas Walk display at a local state park.

— Autumn Moore led outdoor educational programs at a local state park.

Schuylkill County

— Collin Felty built a gaga ball pit for his community and taught other students how to play.

Snyder County

— Colette Hoffman created a virtual embryology program and presented it to first-grade students at Middleburg Elementary School.

Somerset County

— Hannah Brehm organized and led the planting of a community garden.

— Hunter Cornell hosted a nonperishable food drive.

— Julie Mitchell organized the growing and harvest of more than 500 pounds of acorn squash for donation to the Somerset County Mobile Food Bank.

— Elizabeth Salsgiver established a library pantry for books, food and toiletries.

Union County

— Sylvia Rishel planted flowers around the courtyard at the Elmcraft Senior Living Community.

Venango County

— Cailyn Shaffer crocheted fleece blankets for residents in cancer centers, a nursing home and a homeless shelter.

Washington County

— Abigail and Jacob Mitchell built or purchased bee hotels to support community pollinators.

Administered in Pennsylvania by Penn State Extension, 4-H is a community of more than 6 million young people across America learning leadership, citizenship and life skills. Penn State Extension 4-H youth development educators in all 67 counties throughout the commonwealth administer local 4-H programs through nonformal education and outreach. Is Solar Energy A Threat To Farming?

At the 2022 PA Farm Show, the Pennsylvania State Grange presented an informative program on solar energy generation as it relates to farming. The panel presented thought-provoking insights on whether or not factory-scale production of solar energy can coexist with production farming.

Enhancing use of alternative energy is a positive goal for this General Assembly to pursue. Solar energy is a prime example of energy generation with less of a climate footprint. However, the Pennsylvania State Grange urges the General Assembly to develop a framework for this mass-produced alternative energy.

We believe that Pennsylvania should not pick winners and losers. Our state is blessed with multiple sources of energy. Increasing energy output from solar energy generation should not put people out of work who have jobs with fossil fuels and natural gas extraction as these industries are huge economic drivers in Pennsylvania and should also be encouraged. Legislators should not pick sides and suggest that there is only one energy solution worth pursuing. If the Covid Pandemic taught us nothing else, it certainly reminded us to not put all our eggs in one basket. The food shortages during the last two years stand as a testimony to that!

Given growing interest by energy companies to "harvest" solar energy from farms, we urge the General Assembly to be out in front on this issue before the regulatory environment becomes a confusing and a conflicting minefield. The first question is who regulates large-scale solar energy development. Is it the Public Utility Commission? Is it the Federal Government? Is it local zoning? Should the Department of Agriculture or the Department of Environmental Protection have some say over approvals for these massive solar energy factories? Investors and farmers need clarity because regulatory uncertainty can doom a project.

The second question and possibly the most important is how to decide where to put these facilities. Currently it seems that energy companies prefer to develop farmland. as this is usually flat or gentle sloping land that makes it more cost-effective.

The problem comes with the threat of the loss of productive farmland from what is in essence a solar energy factory. Pennsylvania is the nation's leader in farmland protection and preservation. The Growing Greener Program and Farm Preservation in PA has kept farmland safe from commercial or residential development for many years. These success stories must not be compromised by trading food security for energy security. The General Assembly will have to decide how we can have both.

The Pennsylvania State Grange suggests having energy companies document why reclaimed mine land or brownfields cannot be used instead of farmland. Secondly, we feel installations should not take farmland out of production unless another type of agriculture (grazing or specialty crops) can still take place. Lastly solar energy facilities should be installed in areas verified by conservation districts as not adding pollution to our streams.

A few other questions we feel also must be addressed are whether farm-generated solar energy can be shared with surrounding communities or be bypassed. Will there be indemnification for removing the solar installation if the energy company becomes insolvent?

During our panel discussion at the Farm Show, it was disclosed there are approximately 420 possible solar farm projects being proposed in Pennsylvania right now, which would take roughly 80,000 acres of land to construct. While solar energy has the potential to be an alternative energy generation, it is important to carefully consider how its use of solar facilities can hurt Pennsylvania's agricultural heritage.

Mifflinburg Intermediate Hosted Fine Arts Night

By Kay Poeth

LEFT: The 4th grade exhibit, There's Value Among Us, focused on learning the element of art value (shadows, mid-tones, highlights) through characters from popular video game Among Us. It was a crowd pleaser at the Fine Arts Night held at Mifflinburg Intermediate School.

RIGHT: Third grade students perform a concert for an enthusiastic audience during the Fine Arts Night held at Mifflinburg Intermediate School on March 11.

On March 10, 2022, Mifflinburg Intermediate School quickly filled with children, parents, and grandparents eagerly anticipating the Annual Fine Arts Night. The event featured a music concert and a mesmerizing array of student artwork. The Fine Arts Night emphasized the importance the role art and music play in a child's life.

"Fine Arts Night at the Intermediate School has been a tradition stemming back many years," explains Principal Philip Heggenstaller. "Mrs. Edinger and Mr. Grose, our music and band teachers, work tirelessly all year to prepare our students for their performances. Miss Carey and Dr. Singer, our art teachers, begin to collect artwork after their first project of the year and keep adding to their collection to showcase our students' work across many different projects. The Intermediate School is very proud of our students and fine arts teachers for the work they have done."

Fine Arts Night provided an opportunity for parents to explore the importance of art and music in their children's education and to support their children in their artistic endeavors. Families milled around the hallways filled with the budding artists' work. Parents and grandparents were snapping photos of their child's work as children raced to show off their masterpieces. Exclamations of "Look over here!" and "Here, it is! I found it!" could be heard.

The purpose of the Fine Arts Night was for all of the students' hard work in art class to have its time to shine. Some of the artwork included Roy Lichtenstein inspired Pop Art Portraits by third grade students. A fourth-grade display of Yayoi Kusama-inspired fruits and vegetables were created using construction paper, paint daubers, oil pastel, and acrylic paint and Warm and Cool Color Animals created using watercolor/oil pastel resist, and cut construction paper. Other displays featured Color Wheels, Air Dry Clay Holiday Keepsakes and Pinch Pots, and Van Gogh inspired Sunflowers. Fifth graders created Andy Warhol inspired pop art portraits using markers and sharpies. Another exhibit showcased Piet Mondrian inspired one-point perspectives drawings.

The gymnasium was packed for the musical performances. Children stepped onto the risers waving eagerly to their parents as their proud families smiled and waved back. The intermediate third grade choral concert was under the direction of Mrs. Linda Edinger. Mr. William Goss directed the band concerts. Fourth graders showcased their recorder skills. Fifth graders performed a mini-band concert.

"Mifflinburg Area School District values the fine arts," notes Principal Heggenstaller. "The Intermediate School's Fine Arts Night is a way to capture students' interest in the arts while partnering with our families. It is a great way to showcase the great talents our students have."

RiverStage Presents "Five Women Wearing The Same Dress"

RiverStage Community Theatre continues its season in April with the wickedly funny comedy Five Women Wearing the Same Dress by Alan Ball. Performances will be at Greenspace Center, 815 Market Street in Lewisburg on Friday and Saturday evenings at 7:30pm on April 1, 2, 8 and 9, and a 2:30pm matinee on Sunday, April 10. Tickets are $15 for adults or $8 for students, with general admission seating, and they can be purchased at the door or at www.riverstagetheatre.org.

Due to ongoing COVID-19 precautions, seating will be limited and audience members will be required to wear masks at all times inside the theatre.

Five Women Wearing the Same Dress tells the story of five reluctant bridesmaids hiding out together in an upstairs bedroom during an extravagant wedding reception at a Tennessee estate. Each has her own reasons for avoiding the bride and the party downstairs, and as time goes by, these five very different women discover common bonds and share hidden secrets and laugh-out-loud revelations with each other. From Emmy Award-winning writer Alan Ball (creator of the TV hits Six Feet Under and True Blood), Five Women Wearing the Same Dress has been called an "irreverent, sharp comedy" that's packed with observations about women's lives, bodies, realities and dreams. The show does contain strong adult language, humor and themes and is recommended for mature audiences only.

This production is directed by Jennifer Wakeman, former president of RiverStage and director of past comedies such as Gypsy and The Marx Brothers' Lost Radio Show. "This show is a fun look back at the 90's," says Wakeman, "a celebration of women and their friendships, and it's just got such a funny premise. Haven't we all been to a wedding where we just wanted to get out of there? This is a terrific women-powered show that RiverStage has been wanting to do for a long time, and it's exciting to have such a great cast to do it with." Jove Graham, president of RiverStage adds, "We knew that Five Women would be a great addition to our season this year. It's a great adult comedy that gives this ensemble cast a chance to shine. It'll be a really enjoyable night at the theatre and something 'fresh' that you won't have seen before."

The cast features an ensemble of six talented performers from across the Susquehanna Valley. Storm Pryor (last seen in RiverStage's Twelve Angry Men) plays the bride's rebellious little sister, Meredith, and Emma Pentz (Community Theatre League's West Side Story) plays her sweet, highly religious cousin, Frances. Mindy, the good-hearted lesbian sister of the groom is played by Heather Swartz (RiverStage's Wonder of the World), and Georgeanne, a friend from high school whose marriage is crumbling, is played by Maggie Able (also RiverStage's Twelve Angry Men). Ian Penzel (previously appearing on stage at Binghamton University) plays Tripp Davenport III, an usher who falls for the fifth bridesmaid: Trisha, a jaded sophisticate played by Kimberly Wilkinson. This will be the debut show at RiverStage for Wilkinson, Pentz and Penzel. The production is designed by Wakeman, with scenic construction by Dennis Merkle and Graham, lights by Stefan Eisenhower and stage management by Sarah Tiede.

RiverStage Community Theatre is a nonprofit group dedicated to entertaining audiences while creating opportunities for creative teams of artists from the Greater Susquehanna Valley to develop and showcase their talents on stage. Following Five Women Wearing the Same Dress, their season will conclude with the hilarious musical extravaganza Monty Python's Spamalot in June 2022.

For more information about the show or to purchase tickets, visit www.riverstagetheatre.org, send email to info@riverstagetheatre.org, or call 570.989.0848.

Union/Snyder County Bar Association Receives Award

The Pennsylvania Bar Association (PBA) presented a County Bar Recognition Award to the Union/Snyder County Bar Association during the 56th Annual Seminar of the Conference of County Bar Leaders on Feb. 25 in Lancaster.

Recognized for its Evictions Emerging from Lockdown continuing legal education program, the Union/Snyder County Bar Association is one of 23 local bar associations in Pennsylvania honored this year for sponsoring projects that improve the legal profession, justice system or community. The awards are presented annually by the PBA.

"PBA is honored to highlight the numerous local bar association projects and programs aimed at improving communities and the legal profession," said PBA President Kathleen D. Wilkinson. "We commend the many dedicated volunteers who serve as an inspiration for others to participate in future endeavors that can benefit Pennsylvania residents."

The Union/Snyder County Bar Association initiated the Evictions Emerging from Lockdown continuing legal education program on current issues involving landlord tenant law. The association's Pro Bono Committee completed a survey of the bench and bar to determine where the greatest needs were in terms of access to justice. Landlord/tenant issues were a high priority. To encourage attorneys to take pro bono landlord/tenant cases and to educate attorneys on the unique legal issues in these cases, the committee developed and presented a one-hour continuing legal education event on the topic in conjunction with North Penn Legal Services. The nominal fee was waived for attorneys who pledged to take at least one pro bono case in the next year.

The Conference of County Bar Leaders, whose membership includes leaders from county bar associations throughout the state and from the PBA, organizes a yearly educational conference focusing on the exchange of innovative bar association projects and ideas, and on the development of mutually beneficial relationships among bar leaders that improve the legal profession.

Founded in 1895, the Pennsylvania Bar Association strives to promote justice, professional excellence and respect for the law; improve public understanding of the legal system; facilitate access of legal services; and serve the lawyer members of the state's largest organized bar association.

Decline In Release Of Toxic Chemicals

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency released its 2020 Toxics Release Inventory (TRI) National Analysis today, which shows that companies that manage chemicals continue to make progress in preventing pollution and reducing chemical releases into the environment.

The report, which shows a nationwide decrease of 10 percent between 2019 and 2020, also shows continued reductions in toxic chemical releases in EPA's Mid-Atlantic Region that includes Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

This 2020 analysis includes enhancements to make data more useful and accessible to communities, including communities with environmental justice concerns. EPA has added demographic information to the "Where You Live" mapping tool, making it easy to overlay maps of facility locations with maps of overburdened and vulnerable communities. Community groups, policymakers, and other stakeholders can use this information to identify potential exposures to air and water pollution, better understand which communities are experiencing a disproportionate pollution burden and take action at the local level.

To assist communities with reducing pollution, EPA is offering $23 million in grant funding opportunities for states and Tribes to develop and provide businesses with information, training, and tools to help them adopt pollution prevention (P2) practices. For the first time, approximately $14 million in grant funding provided by the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law is available with no cost sharing/matching requirement, increasing access to funding for all communities. These grants are also a critical component of the President's Justice40 initiative by providing a meaningful benefit to communities impacted by legacy pollution issues. As such, EPA will administer this program in accordance with this initiative to ensure at least 40% of the benefits are delivered to underserved communities.

"It is encouraging to see a continued decline in release of these toxic chemicals that can impact human health and the environment," said EPA Mid-Atlantic Regional Administrator Adam Ortiz. "Additionally, it is promising to see that residents throughout the mid-Atlantic Region can use personal computers to get specific data on TRI release data in their communities."

In 2020, 88 percent of the TRI chemical waste managed at facilities in EPA's Mid-Atlantic Region was recycled and not released into the environment, compared to 54 percent nationally. Facilities in the region reported releasing 4.9 million pounds of TRI chemicals, a 4% decrease from 2019. From 2011 to 2020, releases in the Mid-Atlantic Region decreased by 89 million pounds (43%), driven by reduced air releases from electric utilities and fewer pounds of off-site transfers for disposal from the primary metals sector. For 2020, 6% of Mid-Atlantic facilities reported implementing new source reduction activities. Among the sectors with the highest source reduction reporting rates was the plastics and rubber products manufacturing sector.

In addition to the new community mapping tools, the National Analysis also includes a new map in the data visualization dashboard that displays international transfers of chemical waste by facilities in each state. Additionally, the National Analysis includes a new profile of the cement manufacturing sector and the addition of greenhouse gas reporting information in certain sector profiles. Users will be able to track greenhouse gas emissions for electric utilities, chemical manufacturing, cement manufacturing, and other sectors. This section will also include information on the benefits of source reduction in these industries.

To access the 2020 TRI National Analysis, including local data and analyses, visit www.epa.gov/trinationalanalysis.

Information on facility efforts to reduce TRI chemical releases is available at www.epa.gov/tri/p2.

Background
Thanks to the passage of the Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act of 1986 which created EPA's Toxics Release Inventory (TRI) Program, and the Pollution Prevention Act of 1990, which expand the program, Americans have greater awareness of how chemicals are being managed in their communities. Today, more than 21,000 facilities report annually on over 800 chemicals they release into the environment or otherwise manage as waste. EPA, states, and tribes receive TRI data from facilities in industry sectors such as manufacturing, mining, electric utilities, and commercial hazardous waste management.

Gov. Wolf Highlights Legacy Manufacturing, Workforce Investments

Governor Tom Wolf toured Philly Shipyard, Inc. and its Training Academy to highlight a $1.1 million state investment, awarded to the Delaware County Community College, to train 315 individuals through a free welding and shipbuilding training program to meet workforce needs of Philly Shipyard for building National Security Multi-mission Vessels (NSMV).

"Pennsylvania has long been a manufacturing powerhouse. Our resources have helped to build and secure this nation," said Gov. Wolf. "I've been committed to ensuring that this industry is strong, skilled, and growing since the day I took office and I have no plans to stop. These investments, like we see in action at Philly Shipyard today, are a down payment on our successful future."

Visit Lewisburg Arts Council's Members Show

The Lewisburg Arts Council invites you to stop by Gallery 255 at the Public Library for Union County, 255 Reitz Boulevard, Lewisburg, during the library's open hours to view the 2022 Members' Show, on display from February 2 through March 30. This show is free to the public and suitable for all ages. Representatives from the Artists' Guild and/or the Photography Club will be available at Gallery 255 on Tuesdays from 11 am until 1:00 pm to answer questions and discuss the show from Tuesday, February 8 up to and including Tuesday, March 29, 2022.

This year's show celebrates two milestones: the 10 year anniversary of the founding of their Artists' Guild and the 5 year anniversary of their Photography Club. "Nine Cakes" – an oil painting by Artists' Guild member Simonne Roy – honors these birthdays. In addition to photographs, oils, and watercolors, a wide variety of media will be represented, from acrylics to ceramics, from colored pencil to jewelry, from pen and ink to textile art. Individual pieces will be marked with a price, if they are available for sale. Pieces on display are by professional as well as amateur artists, all of whom participate in one or both of the Lewisburg Arts Council's special-interest groups, the Artists' Guild and the Photography Club. For more information about either group, please email guild@lewisburgartscouncil.com or visit LewisburgPhotoClub.org.

The Lewisburg Arts Council has been connecting our community and the Arts for more than 50 years. The Arts Council promotes the arts in the Susquehanna Valley, creating an intersection of artists and art lovers and cultivating a community where artists can thrive. For more information about the Lewisburg Arts Council's events and activities, please visit their website LewisburgArtsCouncil.com or follow them on Facebook.

The American Legion Celebrates 103 Years Of Service

Compiled by Kay Poeth

In 1919, the American Legion was chartered by Congress as a patriotic veterans' organization devoted to mutual helpfulness. The organization focuses on service to veterans, service members, and communities. It is the nation's largest wartime veterans service organization. The American Legion is committed to mentoring youth and sponsoring community programs, advocating patriotism and honor, and promoting continued devotion for service members and veterans. The Posts are organized into 55 departments: one each for the 50 states, along with the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, France, Mexico and the Philippines.

From March 15, 1919 - March 15, 2022, our Union County American Legions have been serving our communities. We appreciate the efforts of Mifflinburg American Legion Post 410, Lewisburg American Legion Post 182, New Berlin American Legion Post 957, and American Legion Post 841 in Montandon.

Mifflinburg Intermediate Celebrates Read Across America

By Kay Poeth

Success! 4th grade students at Mifflinburg Intermediate show off their STEM skills by creating a Cat in the Hat tower.

5th grade students at Mifflinburg Intermediate are trying their hand at a Dr. Seuss STEM challenge.

Maverick, the reading dog, is eager to be a reading companion during the 4th grade visit to the Union County Library station. Mifflinburg Intermediate celebrated Read Across America Week with lots of fun and educational activities to promote a love of reading.

Read Across America celebrates the joy of reading and promotes a love of books. Mifflinburg Area Intermediate School celebrated Read Across America Week from February 28– March 4. Students celebrated Dr. Seuss's birthday on Wednesday, March 2 and extended the celebration throughout the week.

The Intermediate School held a special spirit dress week where each day's dress theme was connected to books students could read on the Epic app on their Chromebooks. The Home School Association (HSA) provided cupcakes on Wednesday to celebrate Dr. Seuss's birthday. Each grade level cycled through various activities on their scheduled afternoon including a Union Co. Library visit featuring Maverick, the reading dog, guest reader station with local dignitaries including Police Chief Hackenburg and Mayor David Cooney, Dr. Seuss themed STEM activity such as creating a Cat in the Hat tower, and Dr. Seuss themed games including a Green Eggs & Ham Relay and a Win, Lose or Draw Dr. Seuss inspired activity. The Intermediate School also held a daily "Drop Everything and Read" where students and staff needed to stop what they were doing and read for 10 minutes when randomly announced on the PA system.

"The Intermediate School worked to celebrate literacy and encourage reading during Read Across America week," said Principal Philip Hegenstaller. "We want to thank all of our guests, our HSA, and staff for helping make this event a huge success!"

Dr. Seuss was definitely on the Loose at MAIS!

Chamber Surpasses Milestone Of President's Club Members

The Central PA Chamber has been on quite a run over the last decade in terms of membership growth, and the same holds true for its exclusive group referred to as The President's Club, now with more than 50 members strong!

The President's Club is an exclusive sponsorship program created to prominently recognize companies who contribute to the Chamber over-and-above their annual membership investment.

This extraordinary commitment has allowed the Central PA Chamber of Commerce to increase its level of service to the community, offering more value to its membership.

These leading businesses and organizations are recognized in the community as an elite group of Chamber members who show unparalleled financial support for Chamber events and programs on a continuing basis.

Members can choose to join The President's Club each year and are awarded with perks for their participation. This comes in the form of free and/or prominent seating at big events, promotion at certain events, at the Chamber office, on its web site, an invitation to a special luncheon and other special events as they occur, discounted advertising rates and more.

This year's class is made up of 51 members, which is over 9 percent of the Chamber's total membership of 558, as of March 4.

"The continuous growth is astonishing," said Tea Jay Aikie, Chamber President & CEO. "Typically, such groups compiled of those who financially give above-and-beyond consist of large corporations or franchises, but not our President's Club. Our group is so diverse, and every size of business is represented multiple times."

"Thank you to each and every one of our 2022 President's Club members and those who have continued to support us in the past and present alike."

This year's TPC class includes: Abe's Custom Woodworking, Backyard Broadcasting, Century 21 Mertz & Associates, Clearview Asset Protection, Coldwell Banker Penn One Real Estate, Contrast Communications, Davis, Davis & Kaar, Decal Dynasty, Evangelical Community Hospital, Fulton Bank, Green Ridge Graphics, Heaven's Best Carpet Cleaning, Heritage Springs Memory Care, Hosterman Creative, i3 Point-of-Sale, iHeartMedia, Interaction Dynamics Group, Java Momma, Jersey Shore State Bank, La Primavera Italiano Ristorante, Lawton Insurance Agency, Lewisburg Pharmacy, LIVIC Civil, LLMJ Creative Property Solutions, MCPS of Central PA, Meixell-Diehl Agency, Mifflinburg Bank & Trust Company - Lewisburg, Nesco Resource, North Central Sight Services, North Shore Railroad Company, On Fire Promotions, PenTeleData, PPL Electric Utilities, Raceway Mobile Storage, RE/MAX Bridges - Ann Hilliard, Riverwoods Senior Living Community, Safeguard Business Systems, Service 1st Federal Credit Union, Service Electric Cablevision, Seven Mountains Media, Sunbury Broadcasting Corporation, Susquehanna Fire Equipment Company, Susquehanna Valley Limousine, The Standard Journal Newspaper, The UPS Store, The Wealth Factory, TPS, T-Ross Brothers Construction, Unique Inspirations

Mifflinburg High Presents "Fiddler on the Roof"

By Kay Poeth

The Mifflinburg Area High School Theatre Program will perform "Fiddler on the Roof" on March 17-19 beginning at 7 pm. Shown here are Jillian Turner, Anthony Serrano, Harrison Abram, Emily Seebold, and kneeling is Charlie Wetzel portraying Golde, Tevye, Motel, Tzeitel, and the Fiddler as they rehearse a scene from the upcoming production.

On March 17-19, the Mifflinburg Area High School Theatre Arts Program proudly presents "Fiddler on the Roof". The play will be performed nightly at 7 pm onstage at the Mifflinburg Area High School Auditorium. Reserved Premium Tickets are $10, General Reserved for Adults/Students are $8, and for Children 12 and under are $6. Tickets may be purchased each performance evening at the door. The performances are in person.

According to the directors, "This is an ageless musical for any audience. Every aspect of the show is relevant and has something for every audience member; humor, love, drama, beautiful music, and exciting dancing."

"Fiddler on the Roof" also has many cultural and historical messages for both the performers and the audience. "There are many facets of learning for our students; cultural history, cultural traditions, accepting one another's differences, and surviving in the face of uncertainty. These are all enduring messages for our students and community," explains Lead Director and Producer, Ms. Patricia Wagner.

"Fiddler on the Roof" is an Oscar-winning adaption of a Broadway musical. It tells the tale of life in the Jewish community as a poor milkman consults with a traditional matchmaker to find good husbands for his five daughters.

Anthony Serrano portrays Tevye, the Dairyman. "Tevye brings to the story that audiences will absolutely love, are his emotional moments on the stage. Tevye is a rather rough, traditional character that has powerful emotional conflicts are so dynamic and will surely make audiences remember the show in a very endearing way."

Tevye's wife Golde, portrayed by Jillian Turner, "is strong and independent, yet comical at the same time."

The cast includes 21 featured actors/actresses and over 80 crew members including the Fiddler Ensemble, set building and design, stage managers, lighting, dialogue/lines coaches, videography, sound engineers, costume design, hair/make-up, poster design, program layout, and ushers. Many thanks to the producer, vocal and stage directors, orchestra director, choreography director, stage and technical directors, sound directors, artistic design, and rehearsal pianists.

Plan to attend a magical evening of music, dance, and talent as the Middleburg Area High School Theatre Arts Program performs the classic, "Fiddler on the Roof," on March 17-19 at pm.
