

Stop Conditions Remain in Effect West of New Berlin

Motorist who travel Route 304 in Union County are reminded that the stop condition at the intersection with Route 3012 Wildwood Road, in Limestone Township, about 1.25 miles west of New Berlin, remains in effect despite the detour for a nearby bridge project.

Motorist traveling west on Route 304 must come to a complete stop if turning west onto Wildwood Road.

PA State Police are concerned that recent stop-sign violations are creating the potential for vehicle crashes at the intersection. Enforcement will take place.

PennDOT added a flashing red light atop the westbound stop sign in order to draw greater attention to it for motorists.

Safety is the primary concern; all motorists are asked to obey the stop sign at the intersection of Route 304 and Wildwood Road.

Mark & Elaine Reiff, of Millmont, have their first child, a daughter named MiKayla. Grandparents are Allen & Dorothy Reiff and Vernon & Norma Martin.

We have a very small swimming pool on our porch for Isaac (4) to cool off, when it is so warm. Tonight he stood there staring at the pool and asked if he should get in. I said, "Yes, Jump In" and he said he can't because Rusty is in it. Sure enough! Their neighbor's beagle was laying in his pool, looking very comfortable until we all started laughing. Then he got out and went home.

July 18, 2012

We had a thunderstorm this afternoon. Isaac came to me and asked "Do you think God has a headache?" When I asked "Why", he said "Because it is booming". Maybe he got the idea from me, I keep telling the children to cut back the noise, or I'll get a headache.

A Note To Readers

In the July 13, 2012 edition of The Snyder County & Union County Times, I published an article concerning dog food recalls & pet treat warnings. To clarify the information. The dog food was recalled. The chicken jerky treats were not recalled. For more information on this please see the FDA website: <http://www.fda.gov/AnimalVeterinary/SafetyHealth/RecallsWithdrawals/default.htm> or call 1-888-INFO-FDA (1-888-463-6332).

If you pet became ill after ingesting chicken jerky treats & you took them to the veterinarian, let your veterinarian know that your pet has eaten the treats & if possible take a sample of the treat with you. They will contact the proper authorities to report.

Let me repeat that the treats are not on the recall list but a warning has been issued & it is being investigated. If my article created any confusion, I do apologize.

Sadler Is Chicago Nationwide Winner

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

JOLIET, Ill.—Elliott Sadler held off Ricky Stenhouse on a green-white-checkered finish to win Sunday's Nationwide race.

His win also netted him an extra $100,000 in the Dash 4 Cash.

Sadler credits his recipe for success to his Richard Childress racing teammate, Austin Dillon.

"It's been fun," Sadler said. "I know we're both running for a championship but it hasn't seemed to be that way. We've all been so much about helping each other. Our crews get along very well."

"When you walk into our shop, you see a lot of guys that work on Austin's car are putting my car together. Some of my guys are putting Austin's car together. It's a great mentality that we've built at the Nationwide shop at Childress. It's really one team with three drivers."

"We meet after every practice. Everybody's sharing notes. It's pretty much: Let's help each other as much as we can, period, and let race adjustments dictate where we're going to finish. This is probably the best team I've been on in my career as far as everybody being so open-minded, so open-booked about helping each other as much as we can."

Stenhouse led 200 of the 300 laps, but lost the lead to Sadler late in the race.

"He just got ahead of me on the restart and I couldn't do anything with him," said Stenhouse. "We weren't able to run the way we wanted to late in the race. I don't know if it was the last set of tires, or whether the handling went away."

Justin Allgaier, Kenny Wallace, Michael Annett, Austin Dillon, Parker Kligerman, Sam Hornish, Cole Whitt, and Ryan Truex were the remaining top-10 finishers.

Top-10 leaders after 18 of 33; 1. Sadler-675, 2. A. Dillon-664, 3. Stenhouse-656, 4. Hornish-633, 5. Allgaier-597, 6. Annett-569, 7. Whitt-550, 8. Bliss-491, 9. Patrick-443, 10. Scott-430.

BUESCHER MAKES REPAIRS AND WINS

When James Buescher was forced to pit to change carburetors during the course of Saturday night's truck race at Chicagoland, any chance of winning appeared lost, especially when he got back on track two laps down.

Buescher not only made up those two laps, he needed just one lap, the final one, to grab the lead and go on to win his NASCAR Camping World Truck Series-leading third race of the season at Chicagoland Speedway.

Leading just six laps in the entire event, Buescher passed points leader Timothy Peters and then held off Brendan Gaughan, who led 83 of the 150 laps, to win his second race in the last three events.

"We had issues early on where we kept losing power, so we decided to pit, changed the carburetor and the car came to life," Buescher said. "From there, it was a matter of getting our laps back and going forward from there."

And then, with a smile on his face, Buescher added, "We just had to pass 20 other trucks to win."

Brendan Gaughan, Timothy Peters, Matt Crafton, Parker Kligerman, Cale Gale, Ron Hornaday, Jason Leffler, Jason White, and David Starr rounded out the top-10.

Top-10 leaders after 10 of 22: 1. Peters-395, 2. T. Dillon-372, 3. Lofton-365, 4. Buescher-360, 5. Klierman-346, 6. Crafton-345, 7. Hornaday-334, 8. Coulter-322, 9. Piquet-302, 10. White-295.

LOSS OF ARMY SPONSORSHIP WILL HURT

There has never been a time when the U. S. Military didn't play some type of role in NASCAR.

From the pre-race ceremonies, which include aircraft flyovers, color guards, to giant American flags, to race car sponsorship, the presence of the military has always been evident.

But their participation may be limited in the future.

A bill introduced into Congress by Betty McCollum of Minnesota would have stripped $72-million from military branches that have budgeted for sports sponsorships in 2013 and the savings would go toward deficit reduction.

The bill did fail, thanks to a 216-202 vote in the House of Representatives that will allow the military to continue sponsoring race teams.

The U.S. Army, which paid 8.3-million to sponsor Ryan Newman's Stewart-Haas team, has announced it won't return in 2013, and everyone wants to blame politics. But there are several other non-military sponsors that haven't committed for 2013.

Army officials were quite candid about why they are leaving the sport—they said NASCAR produced some results for it but not enough.

"Seventy-two million bucks is a lot of money," said Bill Harper, chief of staff for Rep. McCollum. "We're fine with the military advertising; we're fine with the military recruiting at these professional sports events, absolutely. That's not the intention of this amendment at all. The sponsorships are something completely different."

"With regards to sponsorship, the numbers don't demonstrate that it's effective. The Army's decision only validates that."

The National Guard's sponsorship of Dale Earnhardt Jr. and Hendricks Motorsports is producing up to 40 recruits a year, according to those working to ban the sponsorships.

The National Guard says it will continue to sponsor Earnhardt, because the age group they draw from is older (35-45 age group) than the Army.

NASCAR chief marketing officer Steve Phelps defended the military's involvement in NASCAR after the Army's announcement, saying: "NASCAR continues to be a powerful and critical part of the marketing mix for other branches of the U.S. Armed Forces and more Fortune 500 companies than any other sport."

The funding cuts would have also affected the Indy Car Series, National Hot Rod Association, the Ultimate Fighting Championship and money spent on bass fishing tournaments.

The Army's withdrawal further complicates matters for Newman. His contract is up at the end of the year and while he is still expected to re-sign, the loss of a third of the No. 39 car's sponsorship dollars is going to hurt.

Keller Legislation Would Close Pension Forfeiture Loophole for Felons

Rep. Fred Keller (R-85) has introduced legislation to expand the scope of Pennsylvania's Public Employee Pension Forfeiture Act.

"The current list of offenses which trigger forfeiture of a public pension is not broad enough in scope," said Keller. "For example, the conviction for rape or any other sexual offense graded as a felony will trigger forfeiture, but only if the offender is a school employee and the victim is a student. As for elected officials, pension forfeiture does not occur unless public office was used in some way to facilitate the crime."

If enacted, House Bill 2469 would ensure that any public employee or public official convicted of a felony, whether under Pennsylvania or Federal law, would automatically forfeit his or her pension.

"As currently written, Pennsylvania's Public Employee Pension Forfeiture Act fails to revoke the pension of those who commit the most heinous crimes," said Keller. "House Bill 2469 will guarantee that any public employee or official who violates the public trust will automatically forfeit his or her taxpayer-funded pension."

House Bill 2469 has been referred to the House State Government Committee. For the latest legislative updates, visit RepFredKeller.com.

Community Foundation Honors Donors And Nonprofits At Annual Celebration Event

The First Community Foundation Partnership of Pennsylvania (FCFP) held its annual "Starry Night" celebration to honor its donors and award grant dollars to local nonprofits.

"The annual celebration is one way FCFP recognizes the many bighearted donors who have helped build its community endowment over the years," said Jennifer Wilson, President & CEO. "Their generosity allows the Community Foundation to provide grants and scholarships to nonprofit organizations and students in Union County."

At the event one lucky guest had the opportunity to make a "Starry Night" grant of $1,000 to a nonprofit of their choice. Dave Holman had the winning fortune "a society grows great when old men plant trees whose shade they know they shall never sit in" in his chocolate fortune cookie. Mr. Holman chose to award his $1,000 grant to Preservation Mifflinburg.

The Community Foundation awarded a total of $2,929 in grants to the four nonprofits serving Union County residents. The Campus Theatre received $1,000 from the Lindig Lewisburg Foundation Fund. The Union County Community Fund granted $500 to Central Susquehanna Sight Services, $625 to Setebaid Services, and $804 to The Green Dragon Foundation.

The First Community Foundation Partnership of Pennsylvania works regionally and locally to bring together people, partners and places to grow local giving and investment, strengthen area organizations and results, and take on the critical issues and efforts needed to build vibrant communities and a thriving north central Pennsylvania region.

Joint Senior High Mission Event Continuing

Camp Mount Luther, the Upper Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA), and the Episcopal Diocese of Central Pennsylvania teamed up this week to provide a mission event for senior high age campers, known as X-Teen. The campers arrived on Sunday, June 17, and will be traveling to the Williamsport area this weekend to do mission work before returning to camp for a time of wrap-up and debriefing. They will return home on Tuesday night, June 26.

The camp, the synod, and the diocese are in their second year of doing a joint senior high program and have been partnering for seven years on other programs. This year's theme was "Crosswalk," based on Micah 6:8. The campers have been learning about doing service in God's name and will be practicing that this weekend at two sites in Williamsport. They will be hosted by All Saints Episcopal Church and Christ Episcopal Church and will be led by Rev. Patrick Collins and Rev. Robyn Szoke, and seven Camp Mount Luther staff.

Chad Hershberger, executive director of Camp Mount Luther, said this is a perfect way for kids to learn the importance of mission.

"We have about 35 participants who will be traveling to do work projects for these two parishes. The kids have really bonded this week and will put their learnings to good use as they serve these people in Lycoming County. They are really taking to heart the command that they've learned from scripture to do justice, love kindness, and walk humbly with their God," Hershberger said.

The campers also had a special "Oscars" celebration on Wednesday night and went on an overnight camping trip on Tuesday. Bishop Nathan Baxter of the Episcopal Diocese of Central PA and Bishop Robert L. Driesen of the Upper Susquehanna Synod, ELCA, talked to the campers on Friday afternoon, and sent them off in mission as they left Camp Mount Luther for Williamsport.

Camp Mount Luther, located five miles west of Mifflinburg, just off Route 45, runs year-round outdoor ministry programming, including an eight-week summer camp. The camp is affiliated with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and has a partnership relationship with the Episcopal Diocese of Central Pennsylvania. The camp facilities are available for retreats and other meetings for church and civic groups during the non-summer months. The site is used as the Outdoor Education Center for the Shikellamy, South Williamsport, and Mid-West School Districts as well as the Peer Leadership site for the Selingsgrove School District. The camp serves children, youth, and young adults in the Central Pennsylvania area. For more information on any of Camp Mount Luther's programs call the camp at (570) 922-1587 or visit www.campmountluther.org.

Community Foundation Awards $1,400 To Local Seniors

With costs for higher education outpacing inflation at many colleges and universities, the future may be daunting for many promising young people. The First Community Foundation Partnership of Pennsylvania (FCFP) works to create scholarship funds that will benefit graduating seniors and non-traditional students.

Endowed scholarship funds at the Community Foundation are created by gifts made by individuals, families, and organizations. These gifts are invested to provide income to award scholarships every year to different students. In many instances, scholarships are awarded based on pre-determined criteria that are reflective of the personal values and interests of those who establish the funds.

In Union County, FCFP awarded $1,400 in scholarships to two graduating seniors from the Lewisburg Area School District for the 2012-2013 academic year.

Laura Sprunt received a $400 Bronze Scholarship for being ranked third in her graduating class based on a cumulative four-year grade point average. Laura will attend Case Western Reserve University.

Timothy Vasey has been awarded a $1,000 Jennie Stackhouse Erdley Memorial Scholarship for his high academic standing in the area of English and involvement in drama, library science as well as school and community activities. Nicholas plans to attend Lycoming College in the fall.

The First Community Foundation Partnership of Pennsylvania works regionally and locally to bring together people, partners and places to grow local giving and investment, strengthen area organizations and results, and take on the critical issues and efforts needed to build vibrant communities and a thriving north central Pennsylvania region.

For more information on the programs and services offered by the Community Foundation, or to learn more about ways to make a difference in your community, contact the Community Foundation office at (866) 901-2372.

No One Dies Alone Program Launched at Local Hospital

The end of life's journey is a sacred event, one that should happen while in the comfort of others, especially when family or friends cannot be present.

Evangelical Community Hospital's No One Dies Alone (NODA) program, launching July 1, will ensure that patients will end their life journey within the comfort and compassion of trained volunteers if no family members or friends can be present.

The program, adopted by Evangelical Community Hospital, was started in November 2001 by Sandra Clarke, CCRN, at the Sacred Heart Medical Center in Eugene, Oregon, who firmly believes from experience that there should be more specialized end-of-life care so no one dies alone.

Following the model, when the NODA program is activated for a patient at Evangelical, the patient's nurse will work with volunteer services to call in a NODA volunteer. NODA volunteers go through hours of specialized training and are accepted into the program through their interest in providing this kind of support to others.

When needed, NODA volunteers will introduce themselves and step into the role of friend and confidante for the patient. While nurses are tending other patients and responsibilities, the NODA patient will have constant companionship during their final hours.

Pat Murray, Director of Volunteer Services, said, "Bringing this program to life at Evangelical Community Hospital shows that as a community hospital we go above and beyond to provide the care needed to people in every stage of life. What the NODA volunteer brings to the patient is of a value only a patient at the end of their life can fully understand and we are honored to give them that gift."

If you have an interest in volunteering your time and talents at the Hospital, call 522-2549 or visit www.evanshospital.com. The next NODA training of these specialized volunteers will be held Thursday, September 20, 2012 from 8 am to 12 pm at Evangelical Community Hospital in Apple Conference Rooms A & B.

Zettlemoyer Presents Grateful Patient Award

Michael, a patient who received care at the regionally renowned Cardiac Rehabilitation Center gave a monetary gift last November through the Hospital's Caregiver Recognition Program for the purchase of educational DVD's for the department but recently returned to thank the team personally. Evangelical Community Hospital Hosts High School Internship Program

According to the American Association of Colleges of nursing, the United States is projected to have a nursing shortage that is expected to intensify as baby boomers age and the need for health care grows. Evangelical Community Hospital is taking proactive measures to assure quality healthcare in the community and to encourage future nursing students to follow their career goals.

The Hospital is proud to once again host its High School Nursing and Non-Nursing Internship Program to 10 students in their junior or senior years with grade point averages of 3.3 (88%) or better. In recent years, the program has been recognized by the Hospital and Health System Association of PA (HAP) for honoring excellence and innovation in the healthcare field.

The 72-hour internship program provides 32 hours in the classroom and 40 hours of one-on-one interaction with nurses and patients. Hospital nurse educators teach the students a variety of skills including CPR certification, lifting and transfer techniques, and personal care skills.

The students began classroom training on June 18 and will be placed in five-day rotations in varying departments from June 25 to July 31. As a special opportunity, this year's summer high school group received a full tour of the new Surgical and Cardiovascular Expansion that will be opening to the public on July 9, 2012.

Students can use their summer experiences at the Hospital to meet job shadowing requirements. For more information on the High School Nursing and Non-Nursing Internship Program, call (570) 522-2727 or visit www.evanhospital.com.

Business Acquisition

The owner of U.S. Collectors Advocates is proud to announce the purchase of The Coin Collector. Both businesses are coin and currency concerns.

The Coin Collector, under the leadership of its founder David Foote, has served the collectors of the greater Susquehanna Valley for 17 years. Upon the passing of Mr. Foote, his sister Pamela Kurutz took over the helm of The Coin Collector.

The business will remain open as always at the Silvermoon Flea Market in Lewisburg on Sunday, buying and selling coins, currency and supplies. A new face will be there, as will the long standing tradition of service and help for customers. House calls can be scheduled and appraisals will be done for customers. The Coin Collector will be front and center in the fight for consumer protection for our senior citizens.

The company name, phone number and the website address www.thecoincollector.com will remain the same. The website is being rebuilt and should be up and running soon.

Pamela urges all of the customers of David and herself to continue doing business with The Coin Collector. The new owner looks forward to serving the collection public. For additional information call 570-523-9579

July Is Nation Ice Cream Month

July is National Ice Cream Month and with all the varieties available, it shouldn't be hard to find a favorite. Better yet, why not get that old electric ice cream freezer out and make some ice cream at home. We are very lucky in Central Pennsylvania to have so many dairies producing and supplying us with fresh, wholesome milk.

To celebrate National Ice Cream Month, I thought I would pass along some of my family's recipes for my favorite frozen confection.

Vanilla Ice Cream

- 1 quart milk
- Dash salt
- 2 C. sugar
- 1 C. heavy cream
- 1 TBSP. flour
- 1 C. evaporated milk
- 3 eggs
- 3 TBSP. vanilla

Cook milk, sugar, flour, eggs and salt until thick. Add cream, evaporated milk and vanilla; let stand until cold. Put in ice cream freezer. Add ice and rock salt around cylinder and churn until frozen. You can also vary the recipe by adding before you freeze the ice cream: For Strawberry ice cream, add 1 quart sliced strawberries. For Chocolate ice cream, add 6 tablespoons of cocoa.

This is my 6 year old brother's favorite ice cream recipe and he asked me to include it. He says he's sure everyone will love it because it tastes so good especially if they like Pumpkin Pie as much as he does.

Pumpkin Ice Cream

- 4 C. milk
- 4 C. heavy whipping cream
- 1 3/4 C. sugar
- 15 oz. can of pumpkin
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. ginger
- 1 tsp. vanilla extract
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
- 2 tsp. cinnamon

Scald 2 cups of milk until bubbles form around the edges. Remove from heat. Add sugar and salt. Stir until dissolved. Stir in 2 cups of milk, vanilla and whipping cream. Cover and refrigerate 30 minutes. Combine pumpkin and spices. Stir into chilled mixture before freezing. Pour into ice cream freezer; add ice and rock salt around cylinder. Churn until frozen.

Hot Fudge Sauce

- 1 C. sugar
- 4 heaping TBSP. Cocoa
- 1 heaping TBSP. Flour
- 1/2 C. MILK
- 2 TBSP. BUTTER
- Pinch of salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Mix sugar, flour, cocoa, milk, butter and salt in a saucepan. Boil for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Serve over ice cream.
