Hamlin Dominates Loudon Cup Race

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

LOUDON, N.H.—Denny Hamlin made good on a promise to win Sunday's Sylvania 300 Sprint Cup race at New Hampshire Speedway. "I didn't want to sound cocky, but I knew beforehand, we had the team and the ability to win this race," said Hamlin.

Not only did he have the speediest car, but he led over two-thirds of the 300-lap race, and finished two and one-half seconds ahead of runner-up Jimmie Johnson.

The win was Hamlin's fifth of the season and it moved him up to third in Chase points.

"Denny had a lot of speed," said Johnson. "He could go where he wanted to, and when he wanted to. Our car was good, but we couldn't quite catch or pass him."

Polesitter Jeff Gordon finished. "I really thought we had a chance, but we never got the car where I thought it could be," said Gordon. "It would handle, but I just couldn't get back to the front."

Clint Bowyer came in fourth and remained sixth in points. "This wasn't quite what we wanted, but it was a good race, and it keeps us in the hunt," said Bowyer.

Kasey Kahne, Brad Keselowski, Tony Stewart, Joey Logano, Brian Vickers, and Ryan Newman were the remaining top-10 finishers.

It looks like the Chase field has been narrowed to the top-7 drivers: Jimmie Johnson-2096, 2. Brad Keselowski-1, 3. Denny Hamlin-7, 4. Tony Stewart-10, 5. Kasey Kahne-15, 6. Clint Bowyer-15, 7. Dale Earnhardt-26.

The eighth-place driver, Kevin Harvick is 31 points behind the leader. Greg Biffle is 33 back, followed by, Martin Truex-34, Matt Kenseth-35, and Jeff Gordon-45.

greatest racing talent, but she should have shown some progress.

When family is involved, it gets messy. Feelings get hurt. Judging by e-mails I receive, fans think Dale Jr. has shown no loyalty for his family.

Was it a dysfunctional family-style arrangement that kept Dale, his sister, uncle and cousin together as a team?

It's hard to understand what really goes on behind the outward appearance of racing teams. I prefer to believe that everyone involved faced the cold hard truth, and decided the cuts had to be made, if either of their teams was to get back in victory lane.

When millions are on the line, family goes to the rear of the bus. Weekend Racing: The Camping World Trucks are out west at the 1.5-mile Las Vegas Speedway, while the Nationwide and Cup teams are at the Dover Mile.

Sat., Sept. 29, Nationwide Dover 200, race 28 of 33; Starting time: 3 pm ET; TV: ESPN2.

Sat., Sept. 29, Camping World Trucks Las Vegas 350, race 17 of 22; Starting time: 8 pm ET; TV: SPEED.

Sun, Sept. 30, Sprint Cup AAA 400, race 29 of 36; Starting time: 1 pm; TV: ESPN.

Racing Trivia Question: How many racing flags are used by NASCAR officials?

Last Week's Question: What is the maximum number of trucks that start a Camping World Truck Series race? Answer: The starting field is limited to 36 trucks.

State Police to Accept Expired, Unwanted Prescription Medications

The Pennsylvania State Police will accept unwanted, expired and unused prescription drugs on Saturday, Sept. 29, as part of National Prescription Drug Take Back Day, sponsored by the federal Drug Enforcement Agency.

"Because of the great success with the first four National Prescription Take Back Days, the DEA has asked us to partner with them again on this national one-day effort," said State Police Commissioner Frank Noonan.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., unwanted prescription medications may be dropped off at select state police barracks. No personal information is required for drop-off.

The drop-off location in our area are:

MILTON
Cpl. James Edwards, 50 Lawtown Lane, Milton, (570) 524-2662

SELINGROVE
Cpl. William Lee, 204 Universal Road, Selingsrove, (570) 374-8145

MIFFLIN/JUNIATA
Trp. Michael Elder, 34 Arch Rock Road, Mifflintown, (717) 320-1010

"The DEA sponsors this national event so prescription drugs, especially those left wasting away in medicine cabinets, are more likely to be misused or abused," Noonan said, noting that prescription drug abuse by teens continue to be on the increase.

The National Prescription Drug Take-Back Day last April resulted in people across the United States turning in a record-breaking 276 tons of unwanted or expired medications for disposal. The Pennsylvania State Police alone collected more than 3,500 pounds of unused and unwanted pharmaceutical drugs for safe and proper disposal.

'Lewisburg Architecture Project'

The Nature and Human Communities Initiative of Bucknell University's Environmental Center is pleased to present "The Lewisburg Architecture Project," a presentation by Thomas Greaves, professor emeritus of sociology and anthropology, as part of the Fall 2012 series of "Stories of the Susquehanna Valley."

Thursday, October 4, at 4 p.m. Smith Library of Bucknell's Vaughan Literature Building Light refreshments; no registration is necessary.

Dr. Greaves will discuss a project, which ran from 2005 through 2008, to assemble a complete photographic inventory of the structures within Lewisburg's Historic District. The intent was to fill a gap: although three fairly extensive collections of photographs of the borough's buildings existed, nowhere was there a complete photographic inventory of the Historic District. The database also was envisioned as an active community resource supporting Lewisburg's affection for its architectural heritage and could become the locus for a citizen-driven locus of the community's history.

For more information about the Lewisburg Architecture Project, visit http://www.students.bucknell.edu/projects/Lewisburg\_Architecture\_Project/index.htm

'Small Farm Rising' at Campus Theatre

"Small Farm Rising," a documentary which explores the reinvention of small-scale agriculture, will be shown Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Theatre in Lewisburg. Admission is $2.

The film showing will be followed by an in-depth audience workshop with filmmaker Ben Stechschulte and local community members offering food and farm perspectives.

"Small Farm Rising" documents the workings of three small farms in the Champlain Valley and Adirondack region of upstate New York. The hour-long documentary follows a group of farmers from three unique farms through one growing season and illustrates how small-scale agriculture is a benefit to the health of local economies and the communities they serve.

Photographer/director/editor Ben Stechschulte and Mountain Lake PBS partnered with Adirondack Harvest to produce "Small Farm Rising," the follow-up to Adirondack Harvest and Ben Stechschulte's 2004 documentary "Three Farms."

Stechschulte has photographed subjects as varied as the food industry, detained immigrants, and honor killing in the Middle East. His stories and portraits appear in a variety of publications including TIME, New York Magazine, Smithsonian and The New York Times Magazine.

The film is shown as part of Bucknell University's Green Screens film series, co-sponsored by the Bucknell University Environmental Center, the Fall 2012 Bucknell Film/Media Studies Series and the University Lectureship Committee, with additional community support.

The Green Screens film series continues through the fall semester with "Biophilic Design", a documentary that showcases buildings that connect people and nature, on Oct. 30; and "The Story of Change", which argues that citizens — not shoppers — hold the key to a better future, on Nov. 27.

The Campus Theatre is located at 413 Market Street in Lewisburg.
