Pennsylvania Wildfire Prevention Week

As the days get longer and the weather changes, we are entering the spring wildfire season. This season usually starts in the spring after the snow melts and before the leaves come on the trees. This allows the sun to dry the forest floor. A wildfire is defined as an unwanted fire that burns uncultivated fields, grass, brush or forests. 9 out of 10 wildfires are caused by humans and are preventable. The most common leading cause is debris burning. The average number of wildfires in Pennsylvania last spring was reported 605 fires burning approximately 2800 acres. Persons responsible for starting a wildfire can be held responsible for cost involved with suppression and could face criminal charges.

There are several things to consider when burning outdoors. Keep fires small. Clear leaves and debris at least 15 feet away from where you plan to burn. Always keep a water source nearby along with rakes and shovels. Do not burn on dry or windy days. When possible, burn in a container. Check with your local municipality or fire department for any burning rules and regulations. Remember, only you can prevent wildfires!

Wenrich, of the Mifflinburg Police Department, for a speed violation (55 mph in a posted 40 mph zone). As the vehicle continued traveling north it failed to stop for a stop sign located at Swarey Road and Dietrich Road. The vehicle traveled across and off of Dietrich Road, where it subsequently struck a ditch on the north side of Dietrich Road. The vehicle was removed from the ditch by the driver's father, Edwin Carl Haines, 51, of Mifflinburg. The vehicle sustained minor front and drive side bumper damage and was later driven from the crash scene by the driver's mother Tina M. Haines, 46, of Mifflinburg. Flashback

Wehr's first Dairy Store was a great place for ice cream on a hot day. In the late 1930s, Wehr's Dairy started to make ice cream, and the Wehrs opened this roadside dairy store, which also sold light lunches. They later expanded the menu to include dinners. Sunday chicken and waffle dinners were the specialty. (Courtesy of Glen Zimmerman and, Union County Historical Society.)

PA Dutch Life & Culture

OK, I really need help with the things I'm listing today! Some more "hints" from the past:

Hair Receipt:
Rum and sweet oil. Mix equal (equal) parts. Then wash the spot three times a day. Rum constantly used to wash the hair keeps it clean and free from disease and promotes its growth.

Another one:
1 half pint castor oil
1 quarter pint Jamaica Rum
1 drachm tincture cantharides
Add a little perfume.

Hair Dye No. 2:
1/2 ounce Lac Sulphur
2 Drachms sugar of lead
2 ounces Common Brandy
4 ounces Rose water
1 ounce Glycerine

Soft water enough to make a pint, let it stand a few days then filter it through filtering paper to be had at the drug store.

And an interesting old saying:
"Eating an egg on Good Friday that was laid the day before will keep serious disease from the individual throughout the year."

(Used with permission from the Boyertown Area Cookbook)
Do the barbers out there (or former barbers) know what these "receipts" are to be used for? Does the "Hair Dye #2" have any coloring in it? What is the amount in a drachm? What is cantharides?

Do I remember correctly that my Uncle Frank Gill, the Troxleville barber, used a Bay Rum tonic on the men whose hair he cut? Perhaps to massage their heads? He also cut my hair occasionally, but never used any tonic on me! Would love to hear from any of you who had him as your barber!

I was in Beaver Springs earlier this week and had breakfast with a number of my BVHS '53 fellow graduates. Really enjoyed seeing them! We're all interested in the nicknames that have been listed each week. Jean Markley Keiser, 1133 Carolina Ave., West Chester, PA 19380 bjkeiser@cheerful.com

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

BRISTOL, Tenn.—Kasey Kahne came on strong in the closing laps of Sunday's Sprint Cup race to register his first win of the season.

Jimmie Johnson slapped the wall during lap 460 to bring out the race's 10th caution.

Kahne was lined up third on the restart behind Brad Keselowski and Kyle Busch with 35 laps to go in the 500-lap race. Leader Keselowski spun his tires and Kyle Busch, followed by Kahne shot out front. Five laps later, Kahne got around Busch and held a commanding lead for the remaining 30 laps.

"This is a big win," said Kahne. "We've had good cars in the past, but something has always come up to bite us. The whole team was flawless today. Bristol has been a tough track for us, so this is a special win."

Kyle Busch, the winner of Saturday's Nationwide race came from the rear of the field to finish second, after a pit road speeding penalty.

"We were just trying to stretch our luck on pit road," said Busch. "The car was tight at the end and I wasn't able to run the lower groove."

Brad Keselowski finished third, followed by Kurt Busch, Clint Bowyer, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Ryan Newman, Brian Vickers, Paul Menard, and Jamie McMurray.

Joey Logano's temper got the best of him after an on track incident between him and Denny Hamlin. After the race he went over to where Hamlin was sitting in his parked car and tried to stick his head inside the car. He was restrained by crewmembers, but there were a few tense moments for both drivers.

"I don't mind someone just bumping me, but he practically took me out," said Logano. "We had a really fast car, and I thought we had a chance to win, until we got knocked in the rear."

After the incident on the track, Hamlin continued on, but Logano had to pit for repairs to his car.

"I didn't mean to run into him," said Hamlin. "He slid up into me. I'm sorry, but it was just racing."

Logano finished 17th, while Hamlin was 23rd. Danica Patrick finished 28th without any mishaps.

Early in the race, Tony Stewart blew a left rear tire and hit the outside wall. He finished 31st.

Jeff Gordon lost an engine in his No. 24 and slid up the track. Matt Kenseth rammed into the back of him, and both drivers were done for the day.

Gordon wound up 34th, while Kenseth was 35th. Top-10 points leaders after 4 of 36: 1. Keselowski-166, 2. Earnhardt-157, 3. Johnson-151, 4. Bowyer-128, 5. Biffle-126, 6. Hamlin-125, 7. Kahne-124, 8. Edwards-124, 9. Menard-118, 10. Kyle Busch-115

"ROWDY" BUSCH HOLDS OFF YOUNG ROOKIE

Kyle Busch held off a determined and hard charging, young rookie, Kyle Larson to win Saturday's Nationwide race at Bristol.

Larson, making his fourth NASCAR Nationwide Series start, trailed Busch by five car lengths with 10 laps to go but went high around lap traffic and traded paint with Busch as the two crossed the finish line .023 seconds apart, making it the second-closest finish ever at Bristol.

"I did everything I could to try to protect the momentum," Busch said. "A young kid like that, he's got a lot of talent. He's obviously made a name for himself. He was running hard, that's for sure. He brought a lot to the table today and brought his show to the fans."

The remaining top-10 finishers were: Brian Vickers, Sam Hornish, Kevin Harvick, Regan Smith, Chris Buescher, Justin Allgaier, Parker Kligerman, and Brian Scott.

Top-10 points leaders after 4 of 33: 1. Hornish-167, 2. Allgaier-145, 3. Scott-142, 4. Smith-141, 5. Vickers-137, 6. Dillon-133, 7. Bayne-128, 8. Bowman- 120, 9. Larson-118, 10. Sadler-116.

WHAT HAPPENED TO DENNY

What a difference one week makes.

Last week, I wrote about how Denny Hamlin said he was going to stand firm and fight NASCAR's decision to fine him for comments he made after the Phoenix race about the (lack of) passing ability from the Gen 6 cars. He insisted he was not over the line in his comments, and it was not a punishment he was going to accept, and an appeal was coming. He even said he didn't care if he ended up getting suspended for not paying the fine.

That was last week. Friday at Bristol, he announced his appeal had been dropped.

"The biggest thing is I think that we won in the judge of the people and their opinion I think some of the peers of mine -- at least the ones that have a backbone had the nerve to stick up for what they know is right and wrong -- agreed," said Hamlin. "But what was the point in going another week or so. We've got bigger fish to fry than to argue over what I said just for $25,000 and it's better just to move on and let NASCAR get its credibility back and they're going to do that and I'm going to move on and just focus on a championship."

"Ultimately, I had some conversations with Brian France (NASCAR CEO) and we had a lot of the same ideas. And I think that in hindsight I really believe they (NASCAR) overreacted and I believe that they think they overreacted once they thought about it a little bit, but now we're at a point that we're good with each other and we're just going to move on from here."

In essence, pressure from the top forced Hamlin to concede to NASCAR.

And NASCAR now has another "company man."

Despite transitioning to a new car, the early 2013 Cup Series standings bear a remarkable resemblance to the conclusion of 2012 when it was Jimmie Johnson chasing Brad Keselowski.

"I think Brad has shown that he and that team are going to be a familiar face up there (in the standings) week in and week out and year after year," said Johnson.

"We have been able to stay in and around the top spot for the 10 years, 11 years, which is staggering to me that we have had that type of staying power."

That's why it's no shock to Keselowski that Johnson is the driver he's chasing.

"You know the 48 (Johnson) is gonna be tough to beat and it's flattering to be in a league where we can compete with them week in and week out," said Keselowski, who has won two of his previous six Sprint Cup starts at Bristol and threw in a 2008 NASCAR Nationwide Series victory for good measure.

"I feel like we've been tit-for-tat each of the last three weeks. We've just got to keep pushing forward. I'm not so naive to think that we can just keep our feet still and not be caught or passed by anyone in the field."

Weekend Racing: The Cup and Nationwide teams will be at the 1.5-mile Auto Club Speedway in California. The Trucks do not race again until April 6.

Last Week's Question: Camping World Truck Series champion Ron Hornaday Jr. heads five 2013 inductees into the West Coast Stock Car Hall of Fame. How many truck titles did he win? Answer: Four; 1996, '98, '07, and '09.

Gardeners' Spring Fair

The Penn State University Extension Master Gardeners of Union and Snyder counties are hosting a Gardeners' Spring Fair on Saturday, March 23, 2013, from 10 AM to 2 PM at the Country Farm & Home Garden Center (7801 Old Turnpike Rd., 570-966-4030) on Route 45 east of Mifflinburg. The Garden Center will be filled with the signs and scents (and gifts!) of Spring. Master Gardeners will offer presentations on bluebirds, the history of plants, hydroponic garden systems (both commercial and DIY), and square foot gardening. Gardening questions are welcome at the 'Ask a Master Gardener' table where, in addition, soil testing kits will be sold. There will be imaginative and creative activities for children. Among the vendors will be a professional tool sharpener for any kind of home and garden tool, as well as a "worm guy" who raises red wiggler earthworms, the best for indoor and outdoor compost bins (and can be used for fishing, too). The Master Gardeners will sell their favorite gardening gloves, as well as homemade baked goods, hot dogs, and beverages, the proceeds of which will support their ongoing programs. Door prize drawings! Free admission and parking!

Ease the Side Effects of Cancer

A cancer diagnosis is life-changing, but the side effects do not have to be. Women currently in cancer treatment or who have completed treatment in the last six months are invited to a free "Look Good Feel Better" workshop on Monday, April 1, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m., at Evangelical Community Hospital, Lewisburg. In a group setting, women will find support from one another while trained cosmetologists teach them how to understand and care for the skin, nail and hair changes that may occur during treatment. Each woman will receive a free kit complete with brand-name beauty products, and will be able to experiment with wigs, scarves and other head coverings. Pre-registration is required. Please call 1-800-227-2345 to register. Women in need of a free, brand-new wig or head covering from the American Cancer Society should also call 1-800-227-2345.

"Look Good Feel Better" (LGFB) is a national public service program created from the concept that if someone with cancer can be helped to look good, her improved self-esteem will help her to approach the disease and treatment with greater confidence. LGFB offers suggestions and advice on dealing with the appearance-related side effects of treatment through its Web sites, brochures and group programs offered nationwide. LGFB is a free, nonmedical, product-neutral program offered as a collaborative effort of the American Cancer Society, the Professional Beauty Association | National Cosmetology Association, and Personal Care Products Council Foundation, a charitable organization supported by the cosmetic industry. For information about "look good feel better", visit www.lookgoodfeelbetter.org or call 1-800-227-2345.

Local Event to Feed the Hungry

On Saturday April 27, 2013, Faith Lutheran Church is partnering with Outreach Inc. (a national non-profit foundation) to package meals for the most vulnerable children and families in the Susquehanna Valley. This event will take place at Faith Lutheran Church, 2439 Old Turnpike Road, Lewisburg, PA on Saturday April 27, from 9 am - 3 pm. Volunteers are needed to package nutritionally enhanced macaroni and cheese dinners that will be distributed by food banks in the Susquehanna Valley.

Often we hear of "the hungry" and think of children in other countries. We believe that hungry people are too far away for us to help. Unfortunately, food insecurity (not knowing if you will have a meal every day) and hunger are obstacles that threaten the critical foundation of growth and life in the United States as well as around the world. In the United States, more than 1 in 6 children do not know where their next meal is coming from and often go to bed hungry. The likelihood is that you, personally, know someone who is food instable or hungry. And you can do something that is easy and inexpensive to make all the difference in the life of someone who is hungry...right here...right now...in our Valley.

Outreach Inc., from Union, Iowa, has been partnering with groups since 2004 to provide meals to the most vulnerable children, adults and older adults in local communities, as well as around the world. Each nutritionally enhanced meal costs $0.25 to make. Anyone can make 100 meals available to the hungry in the Susquehanna Valley for $25.

But we need your help! Volunteers are needed to make and pack these meals. All work is done in an assembly line fashion. Training is provided on the day of the event. The work is easy, but essential. We work in 2 hour shifts. Our goal is to make 20,000 meals, which will all be distributed locally. Volunteers are asked to contribute $10 towards the cost of making and packing the meals. The total cost to make 20,000 meals is $5000. Every contribution towards this goal, whether monetary or giving of your time, is critical to making a difference. If you would like to make a contribution, please send a check to: Faith Lutheran Church, 2439 Old Turnpike Road, Lewisburg, PA 17837. Please note "Feed the Hungry" in the memo section of your check.

We welcome individuals, families and/or groups to help us Feed the Hungry. Please contact Phyllis Marquette or Nancy Ard at beatinghunger@gmail.com if you have questions, or to sign up for this event. Please contact us to sign up by April 12, 2013. By volunteering your time and giving a donation, you can be part of the team that works together to relieve hunger in the Susquehanna Valley.

Evangelical Holds Medication Reviews at Local Adult Resource/Senior Centers

It is recommended that individuals, especially those with multiple conditions requiring numerous medications, get a "medication check-up" at least once a year.

Alan Griswold, Registered Pharmacist of Evangelical Community Hospital, will be holding several brown bag medication reviews at local senior centers to meet one-on-one with individuals to look closely at their current medications. The session will evaluate prescribed medications along with over-the-counter medications, vitamins, and herbal remedies to determine whether all are needed, if there is the potential for drug interactions, or if dosage adjustments are required.

Individuals taking part in the review should bring all prescribed medications, over-the-counter medications taken on a regular basis, vitamins, and supplements and be prepared to talk about medication taking habits or concerns. No appointment is needed.

The medication reviews are being held at the following locations in April from 9:30 am until noon: Thursday, April 11th at the West End Senior Center on Route 235 in Laurelton. Thursday, April 18th at the Beaver Springs Senior Center, 5 Elm Street, Beaver Springs. Friday, April 19th at the Penns Creek Adult Resource Center, 3559 Richard Road, Penns Creek.

This event, done in partnership with the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging, Inc., includes a general question and answer session to talk about the various drug interactions people live with every day.

Weis Markets sponsors 'Green Screens' film 'Black Gold'

The Bucknell University Environmental Center's spring "Green Screens" documentary film series continues with a showing of "Black Gold" on Tuesday, April 2, in the Campus Theatre. A special tasting reception featuring fair-trade coffees and chocolates will take place in the theatre's lobby at 7 p.m. before the film screening. Attendees will be invited to taste a variety of fair-trade coffees generously donated by Weis Markets as well as coffee from a cooperative in Nicaragua that partners with the "Bucknell Brigade," a university-based service organization. Also on hand will be several flavors of fair-trade-certified chocolate from Seattle-based Theo and U.K.-based Green & Black, generously donated by The Natural Food and Garden Store, just west of Lewisburg. The film showing, sponsored by Weis Markets, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Directed by Marc and Nick Francis, the 2006 documentary "Black Gold" explores the international coffee trade and its ramifications for growers. It focuses on the coffee growers of the Oromia Region of southern and western Ethiopia, and follows Tadesse Meskela, the General Manager of the Oromia Coffee Farmers Cooperative Union, as he visits coffee-growing regions in Sidamo and Oromia, as well as a coffee processing center, a coffee auction house, and his union's headquarters in Addis Ababa. He also travels to England and the United States in an effort to promote Ethiopian coffee by eliminating the numerous middlemen.

The film also includes footage of the New York Board of Trade, a commodity trading floor in New York City, where the "C" international benchmark price of coffee is set each business day based on supply and demand; and it explores the effects that these international prices have on Ethiopian coffee growers. Other footage was shot at the first Starbucks and the World Barista Championship at the 2005 Specialty Coffee Association of America conference in Seattle; and at a cafe and the Illy coffee company in Trieste, Italy. These scenes stand in stark contrast to the footage of the impoverished conditions faced by the Ethiopian coffee farmers and their families.

The Campus Theatre is located at 413 Market Street in Lewisburg. For more information about Weis Markets' Sustainability Mission, visit: www.weismarkets.com/about-weis/sustainability/. For more information about Bucknell University's Environmental Center, visit www.bucknell.edu/x2250.xml.

Feinstein Challenge To Help Lewisburg/Milton Meals On Wheels Raise Funds

Fighting hunger and improving quality of life is the goal of the Lewisburg/Milton Meals on Wheels (MOW) program, based at RiverWoods Senior Living Community in Lewisburg, which is owned by Albright Care Services, and is a nonprofit, faith based organization.

For 41 years, the Lewisburg/Milton Meals on Wheels has been serving the Lewisburg, Milton, West Milton and Montandon areas. Currently, the organization has 75 volunteers who help deliver and pack the meals. In 2012, the program delivered 14,652 meals.

In order to continue to provide this weekday community service, the Meals on Wheels program counts on community support from individuals, local organizations, the Greater Susquehanna Valley United Way, and the Feinstein Foundation.

For the 16th straight year, Alan Shawn Feinstein from The Feinstein Foundation in Rhode Island will divide $1 million among anti-hunger fighting agencies nationwide. This is the greatest grass roots campaign to fight hunger our country has ever seen.

Any donations received between March 1st and April 30th will help Meals on Wheels receive an additional donation from the Feinstein Foundation. Join the campaign along with The Feinstein Foundation to fight hunger in our local communities. Anyone donating to Meals on Wheels will be recognized through the Partnership Giving Program at RiverWoods Senior Living Community and listed in Albright Care Services' Annual Report. Contributions may be sent to Lewisburg/Milton Meals on Wheels, Albright Care Services 90 Maple Wood Drive, Lewisburg, PA, 17837.

If you are an adult (18 years or older) in need of Meals on Wheels services and live in the Lewisburg, Montandon, West Milton or Milton area, or if you know an adult who would benefit from the service, please call Stacy Drum at (570) 522-1934. Want to help in other ways? Volunteers are always needed to deliver or pack meals to needy clients. Please call for more information.

Union County Times, March 22, 2013
USDA Announces 45th General Sign-Up for the Conservation Reserve Program

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack today announced at the National Pheasant Fest and Quail Classic that the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) will conduct a four-week general sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), beginning May 20 and ending on June 14. CRP has a 27-year legacy of protecting the nation's natural resources through voluntary participation, while providing significant economic and environmental benefits to rural communities across the United States. Under Secretary Vilsack's leadership, USDA has enrolled 11.7 million acres in various CRP efforts.

"Since the 1980s, the CRP program has established itself as a benchmark in voluntary conservation efforts, providing American producers with assets to address our most critical resource issues," said Vilsack. "Last year, during one of the worst droughts in generations, the CRP proved vital in protecting our most environmentally sensitive lands from erosion. Emergency haying and grazing on CRP lands also supplied critical feed and forage for livestock producers due to the drought. And the program continues to bring substantial returns to rural areas, attracting recreation and tourism dollars into local economies while sustaining natural and wildlife habitat for future generations."

Additional sign-ups for continuous CRP programs such as Highly Erodible Land Initiative and Initiative to Restore Grasslands, Wetlands and Wildlife will be announced in spring 2013.

Currently, about 27 million acres are enrolled in CRP, which is a voluntary program available to agricultural producers to help them safeguard environmentally sensitive land. Producers enrolled in CRP plant long-term, resource-conserving covers to improve the quality of water, control soil erosion and enhance wildlife habitat. Contracts on 3.3 million acres of CRP are set to expire on Sept. 30, 2013. Producers with expiring contracts or producers with environmentally sensitive land are encouraged to evaluate their options under CRP.

Producers that are accepted in the sign-up can receive cost-share assistance to plant long-term, resource-conserving covers and receive an annual rental payment for the length of the contract (10-15 years). Producers also are encouraged to look into CRP's other enrollment opportunities offered on a continuous, non-competitive, sign-up basis and that often provide additional financial assistance. Continuous sign-up dates will be announced at a later date.

Over the past 27 years, farmers, ranchers, conservationists, hunters, fishermen and other outdoor enthusiasts have made CRP one of the largest and most important USDA efforts. CRP continues to make major contributions to national efforts to improve water and air quality, and to prevent soil erosion by protecting the most sensitive areas including those prone to flash flooding and runoff. CRP has also helped increase populations of pheasants, quail, ducks, and rare species, like the sage grouse, the lesser prairie chicken, and other grassland birds. Highlights of CRP include:

- CRP has restored more than two million acres of wetlands and two million acres of riparian buffers;
- Each year, CRP keeps more than 600 million pounds of nitrogen and more than 100 million pounds of phosphorous from flowing into our nation's streams, rivers, and lakes.
- CRP provides $1.8 billion annually to landowners-dollars that make their way into local economies, supporting small businesses and creating jobs; and
- CRP is the largest private lands carbon sequestration program in the country. By placing vulnerable cropland into conservation, CRP sequesters carbon in plants and soil, and reduces both fuel and fertilizer usage. In 2012, CRP resulted in carbon sequestration equal to taking about nine million cars off the road.

The Obama Administration is leading a host of federal agencies in the America's Great Outdoors initiative to develop a 21st century conservation agenda and reconnect Americans to the outdoors. At the same time, USDA continues to enroll a record number of acres of private working lands in conservation programs, working with more than 500,000 farmers and ranchers to implement conservation practices that clean the air we breathe, filter the water we drink, and prevent soil erosion. Since 2009, USDA has enrolled more than 50 million acres into the Conservation Stewardship Program to incentivize the most productive, beneficial conservation practices. And USDA's work in the Chesapeake Bay watershed, the Mississippi River Basin, and Gulf of Mexico are among 19 initiatives applying the most effective conservation practices to increase agricultural and environmental returns. USDA science is also helping to focus work in areas to reduce problematic nutrients making it to rivers and streams by as much as 45 percent.

For more information on CRP and other FSA programs, visit a local FSA service center or www.fsa.usda.gov.

Emergency Heart Procedure at Evangelical Gives Area Man More Time for Family

Rick Reibsome and his wife, Stacy, of Milton (left) and Janele McKeta, Director of the Evangelical Cardiac Catheterization Lab Team (right), stand next to the catheterization equipment that McKeta and the team used to save his life with an emergency STEMI procedure.

Rick Reibsome of Milton has a history of heart attacks having experienced his first a few years ago. In July as he was getting ready for work, he recognized the symptoms - chest pain, shortness of breath, nausea - and knew he had to get to the hospital as soon as possible.

"I knew I needed care and I needed it right away," recalls Reibsome. "I immediately chose Evangelical Community Hospital."

After a brief and thorough assessment in the Emergency Department, he was wheeled the short distance to the Donehower-Eisenhower Pavilion that houses two cardiac catheterization labs and hosts a team of cardiac care professionals prepared to handle both emergent and non-emergent heart issues.

Within an hour of his arrival at Evangelical, Reibsome was in the catheterization lab where doctors could see his left anterior descending (LAD) coronary artery was completely blocked, which left untreated could result in virtually all of the heart muscle dying. This more severe type of heart attack is called a STEMI, which stands for ST segment elevation myocardial infarction. Reibsome's STEMI was the first emergent procedure performed at Evangelical Community Hospital in the new facility.

Prior to the development of Evangelical's advanced cardiovascular program, Reibsome would have been transferred to a hospital with on-site cardiac surgery, taking away minutes of valuable treatment time and risking more damage to the heart muscle - and possibly his life.

"I felt like I was drowning as I went into heart failure in the cath lab. Within seconds the doctor had the stent in place and immediately the pain was gone," said Reibsome when he recalls the moment his life could have ended.

Reibsome's experience is an example of vision come to life for Evangelical Community Hospital. The same week of Reibsome's heart attack, the Hospital opened the Donehower-Eisenhower Pavilion for patient care with an entire floor dedicated to cardiovascular procedures to meet the needs of patients with heart issues. The expertise of the cardiovascular team of professionals, combined with a facility that includes two catheterization labs equipped with the most advanced equipment and technology, allows the Hospital to be prepared to handle both preventative and emergency cardiac cases. In addition, with state-of-the-art imaging technology, physicians and caregivers can see what is happening with the heart and surrounding arteries.

In 2010, Evangelical was selected to participate in a prominent national study to determine if heart catheterization procedures could be performed safely at a hospital without on-site cardiac surgery. In order to participate in the study, Evangelical needed to partner with a hospital that offered on-site cardiac surgery -- Evangelical chose Geisinger Medical Center, a Reuter's Top 100 Heart Hospital that offers open heart surgery. As a result Evangelical was given permission to begin offering vital catheterization services to its patients. Participation in the study was the only way for a hospital in Pennsylvania without on-site heart surgery to provide these vital catheterization services.

In 2012, the national study was completed and the positive patient outcomes proved that it was just as safe to perform interventional heart catheterization procedures at Evangelical and other hospitals without on-site cardiac surgery, as it is at hospitals with on-site cardiac surgery. Evangelical has continued its partnership with Geisinger for the purpose of developing and expanding its cardiac program. As a result, Evangelical has performed over 718 procedures both planned and emergent since the program's inception in 2010. For Reibsome, the difference meant life or death.

Dr. J. Lawrence Ginsburg, Vice President of Medical Affairs at Evangelical Community Hospital said, "Instituting the cardiovascular program at Evangelical Community Hospital shows our dedication and commitment to answering the community's heart needs. We've had consistent successful outcomes since the program's inception, allowing patients to receive cardiac care at the hospital of their choice, where patient-centered and individualized treatment is a priority."

Following Reibsome's catheterization, he enrolled in Evangelical's Cardiac Rehabilitation program. Through careful monitoring by the staff, he was told that he needed more than just cardiac rehab. His cardiologist completed another non-emergent heart catheterization to get his heart to work even more efficiently, and when he returned to rehab, he made consistent progress.

"Through the work with rehab and evaluation of my lifestyle, I knew things had to change. I had to eat better, exercise more, and assess stress in my life. I started working part-time and now I feel well and can enjoy what I could have missed if Evangelical's professionals didn't step in during and after the attack," said Reibsome. "The cardiac catheterization team worked quickly to open my artery which gave me a second chance and more time with my wife and children."

Evangelical Community Hospital is a non-profit organization that employs approximately 1,300 people and has more than 170 employed and non-employed physicians on staff. The Hospital is licensed to accommodate 127 overnight patients, 12 acute rehab patients and 18 bassinets. The Hospital serves residents throughout the Central Susquehanna Valley, including those living in Snyder, Union, Northumberland and Lycoming Counties.

Lewisburg Lions Club Contributions to Community

Lionism is made up of members throughout the world. It is the largest of all service clubs. Shortly after Lions International was organized Helen Keller challenged the Lions to become "Knights of the Blind", and today service to the blind is the unifying theme of the organization. That is also true with Lewisburg Lions.

Yet more than half the money raised is used in the local community. Lions seek community spirited men and women to their ranks to advance these goals. The by-laws of Lionism require that 100% of all donations from non-Lions be given to charitable causes. All costs of operation must be borne by members. Thus any Lion your see is contributing from his or her own pocket for the privilege of serving others Hence, the motto: "We Serve".

During the past year Lewisburg Lions contributed nearly $1,100 to people in the area needing help with glasses. Community members contributed over 600 used eyeglasses to the Lions collection box at The Evangelical Community Hospital. Many of the sun glasses were given to people in Guatamula, and the remainder were presented to a regional Lions Eyebank center and reconditioned and used throughout the world. Additional amounts were contributed to Boy Scout Troop 509 (#100); to the Lewisburg Shade Tree Commission ($450), plus the labor for planting; Northeast Pa. Lions Eye Bank($100). The Eye Bank works with over 60 hospitals covering a 37 county wide area, and is considered the 5th largest Eye Bank by volume in the US.

Contact the Lewisburg Lions for an application to make a Cornea donation.

Other donations were made to the Donald Heiter Community Center ($100); Leader Dog for the Blind ($200). Leader Dogs for the Blind has over 1500 people using Leader Dogs. Some might be in your community. Or, you might have a community member who will need a Leader Dog in the future and because of the Lions support they can receive a Leader Dog free of charge. Other donations went to Beacon Lodge for the Blind ($200); and Camp Victory ($200). An additional $1700 was presented to the Lewisburg Community 4th of July Parade.

For any men or women who like to join this "We Serve" group and would like to have a membership application call Lion President Matt Hepner at 524-4877.

Chili Cookoff & Auction Nets Over $12,500 for PACFI

It was a great day at the Scarlet D in Mifflinburg on Saturday as the Annual Pennsylvania Cystic Fibrosis, Inc. (PACFI) Chili Cookoff & Auction raised over $12,500 for the organization. The event drew over 300 people to the Scarlet D in Mifflinburg.

"We were really surprised to see the large check from the VFW," PACFI President Betty Hollenbach said. Mifflinburg VFW members Tim Brinkley and Terry Walls presented the PACFI with a $2000 check from their community fund.

Bethany Umholtz opened the event by singing "Wind Beneath My Wings," and it's the trademark song for the annual event. Umholtz, who has cystic fibrosis (CF) and diabetes, sang the song a cappella and got an ovation from the crowd.

Logan Roush, who also has CF and diabetes, followed by telling the bidders about living with CF and how PACFI helps a lot of families in Pennsylvania in addition to funding some of the nation's best CF research. He noted that the organization provided $24,000 worth of services and supports to families last year and allocated $30,000 to research.

The top bid items were a sofa and chair combo that sold for 600; two hand carved swans by Monty and Seth Hixon went for $400; and a signed Brad Shoemaker print also sold for $400. Clint Rocky, of Rocky Auctions in Lewisburg, auctioneered the entire event that saw over 300 people participating.

Greg Martin from York, who won four awards for his chili last year, won three again this year. In the Hot category, Corey Emery and Adam Umbel placed first, Mark Dale was second, Luke Flickinger was third, and Honorable Mention went to Martin. Emery won Most Unique in the Hot category. Tammy Rayne won first place honors in the Other category followed by Martin who placed second. Third place went to Amber Sanders and Heather Walter. Donny Poeth won Honorable Mention and Most Unique went to Michelle Sanders. Martin won the award for Best Presentation.
