SPCA Receives Proceeds

On Saturday October 20, 2012 Shady Brook Campground, 275 Campground Beavertown, spon-Lane. sored a Chinese auction that was hosted at the Beavertown Fire Company.

According to David M. Mull, owner of the Campground, the fundraiser was a huge success for the second annual event. Over 34,000 tickets were sold to approximately 235 bidders. The bidders had a selection of over 400 Items to choose from with almost all of the items donated from many, many local businesses, and a few from members of the community. In addition to the auction, the event included an Apple Butter Boil Event.

When the auction concluded, the Shady Brook Campground and its volunteers had collected over $2,000.00 to be donated to the Lycoming County SPCA to aid in the care and well being of the many animals that pass thru their doors. Just before Christmas, the SPCA was presented with a check from the proceeds of the event.

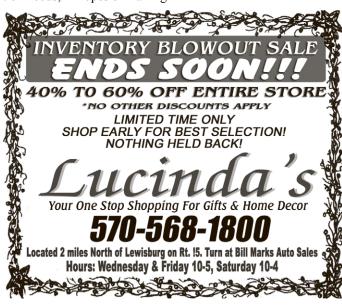

'We are pleased to have the Campground host this event on our behalf." stated John Hettinger, Director of Development for the SPCA. "Having the support of area businesses like Shady Brook is a vital part of our success. Since we have no affiliation with any other State or National organizations, we rely on the support of our local community.'

Shady Brook Campground would like to thank the campers and many volunteers for their tireless hours and money spent in gathering the many prizes and the hours worked at the event. We all would also like to thank the Many Sponsors, and outpouring of support from the public to help the homeless and abused animals served by the SPCA.

Planning for the 2013 annual event is already taking place which will include a Dog Days Carnival being held on September 7, 2013 and the Third-Annual SPCA Chinese Auction being held on October 19, 2013.

All contributions to the Lycoming County SPCA remain within the local community to provide services such as shelter, emergency treatment, investigation and prosecution of cruelty or abuse complaints; adoption and counseling; education, outreach and humane care. They are not supported by any other state or national organization.

For additional information on SPCA events and opportunities, contact John Hettinger, SPCA Director of Development at 322-4646 or via e-mail at jhettinger@lycomingspca.

More suggested remedies:

"Teething in babies:

Make a necklace of Job's tears (seeds) by stringing the seeds together. Place the necklace on a teething baby to reduce the pain.

"For sore backs or sore legs in horses:

¹/₄ cup fat (lard, opossum, goose) ¹/₄ cup turpentine, 1 cup dried comfrey root. Fry the powdered root in the lard for 20 to 30 minutes to thoroughly cook and distribute the root powder. Then add as much of the turpentine to the fat as needed to make a nice rubbing compound. And some recipes:

"For a sore mouth after a tooth extraction:

Mix: 1/4 cup hot water 4 tablespoons vinegar

1 tablespoon salt

Rinse with it.

"For chapped hands:

1 part glycerin 2 parts bay rum Juice of one lemon

1/4 bottle peroxide

Rub them daily with radish or with juice of marigold flowers. It seldom fails. Or rub the wart on a piece of raw meat.

1 tablespoon pure bees wax

2 tablespoons lard, mixed "For boils:

White of egg and good soap, mixed together."

Well, I do want to thank those of you who wrote and emailed about the ingredients mentioned last week. I learned a lot! And found that you can order boneset tea even today. Does anyone know a source for hoarhound candy?

Do any of you raise the plants that you get the Job's Tears from? Are they the seeds of the plant? I have a little necklace of them, but really don't know where they come from. And what is comfrey?

You're really helping me to learn more about their lives and how our ancestors lived. Do send me YOUR "home remedies" and those you remember from childhood or ones that you've heard of. Thanks so much!! Jean Markley Keiser, 1133 Carolina Ave., West Chester, PA 19380 bikeiser@cheerful.com

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Chip Ganassi Racing's No. 01 BMW/ Riley captured the 51st Rolex 24 on Sunday, with Juan Montoya at He crossed the finish line of the grueling 24-hour race 21.92 seconds ahead of Max Angelelli in the No. 10 Chevrolet of Wayne Taylor. Defending champion AJ Allmendinger ran third in Michael Shank's No. 60 Ford Memo Rojas and Charlie Kimball teamed with Scott Pruett and Montoya for the victory, which was owner Chip Ganassi's record fifth in 10 tries. Montova and Roias each claimed their third victories in the Rolex 24. Montoya's closing drive made a five-time overall winner of teammate Scott Pruett, who tied Hurley Haywood for the record in that category. Pruett extended his own record to 10 class wins in the Rolex 24.

"It's just an incredible day all the way around, winning with these guys, winning with Chip, with (sponsor) TELMEX, with BMW," Pruett said. "And then at the end of it, having gotten to know Hurley real well over the years by racing with him and just as a friend, and to have him there at the end was pretty special, a very special thing.'

The race was not without controversy. In a general sense, the Ganassi cars had a clear power advantage over their Chevrolet and Ford rivals. In fact, GRAND-AM officials mandated a horsepower restriction for the Chevrolets before the weekend—based in part on dynamometer comparisons--and relaxed it only slightly after Pruett and Dixon spanked the rest of the field in qualifying.

"It was a lot of pressure," Montoya said. "I thought wee have a decent lead, we're just going to go out there and ride for two and a half hours or whatever is left, and then you realize there's a caution and another caution and another caution." CAN NASCAR RETURN TO ITS ROOTS

"I really believe we're going to see some of the most competitive, intense and exciting racing we've seen in quite some time," Robin Pemberton, NASCAR's vice president of operations told reporters during last week's Charlotte Media Tour.

We've heard that almost every year prior to the start of racing. Based on driver and team comments, this year could be different. No previous new car design has received as much praise among drivers, manufacturers, or race teams as the new Gen-6 car. That is a leap forward from the Car of Tomorrow. The COT was despised by drivers and fans from the first day to the last. It was ugly, boxy-looking and hard to race on certain tracks.

The new car is closer to the look of a real car than any other since NASCAR chairman Brian France admitted it was a mistake to get away from individual looking cars. We certainly didn't intend to do that," said France, "We were looking to cut costs and increase safety, and we significantly improved that. But it would be fair to say that in doing those things, we weren't as in step with the manufacturers as we are today. Obviously, we got away from some things that historically had worked well for us. The collaborative effort between NASCAR, its teams and the auto manufacturers was unprecedented in designing this car. The entries for the three manufacturers are dramatically different from each other, just like the good old days. For the first time in a long time, the Cup cars look like a car you could drive around town. More importantly, they look like a car you would want to drive. It's a simple concept, but one that NASCAR misplaced along the

"We had a car (Gen-4) that looked really similar to the manufacturer vehicle that was in the showroom," Jeff Gordon said. "We went completely away from that in every which way, from having a splitter, we had the wing, and we just had this blocky looking car that wasn't a sexy looking car. We made the COT car a really good race car. It took a while, but we did. Now I look at this (Gen-6) race car and see where we're starting out with this car -- and it feels good. It drives good, it's forgiving, and it's got a great aerodynamic balance. So far, I'm a big fan. I love it. I like what's happening underneath the car. I like the body

That doesn't mean, however, that the transition to the new car will be

"Any time you start to get used to something and there's a change, it's a learning curve," Gordon continued. "In my opinion, the older vou get in this sport, and the more you've been around, the harder it is to switch to new things

There's going to be times. I think, that we're going to be challenged. But it seems like this car is

Dairy News

The holidays are behind us and it looks like the snow has found us this year. My family and I were thankful for the white Christmas we had as my brother had never experienced one and it was at the top of his Christmas wish list for Santa. The New Year was brought in with the traditional festivities and feast. We reminisced about 2012 and loved ones lost throughout the years. I never get tired of listening to Mom tell us about growing up on a modest farm in Western New York and watching her parents dance in the new year with Lawrence Welk playing his big band songs in their living room or Dad telling us about his extended family getting together to make a French Canadian meat pie called Tuche'. We watched the ball drop in Times Square. Resolutions made, my family stepped boldly into 2013. But it will be business as usual as we start back to school and my sister and I find our way to Farm Show in Harrisburg to show our livestock.

January 1st is a time of new beginnings, a fresh start to the year and a time where we vow to change our habits. For many people, that means going on a diet. But many diets are extreme - promising fast results with minimal effort. Others have us eating only certain foods, often cutting dairy, proteins or certain fruits and vegetables. These types of diets can lead to weight gain when you reach your goal and start eating to maintain, eating disorders and bone loss. When you cut dairy from your diet, you are also cutting calcium and other nutrients that are important to maintaining bone density. Research has shown that small modifications in your eating habits can lead to a healthier lifestyle. Those changes start with using low fat and fat free milk and dairy products, adding more fruits and vegetables and lowering your intake of fats, saturated fats and cholesterol.

The good news is that you an 8 ounce serving of fat free milk has only 80 calories and the same nine essential nutrients that whole milk has. As adults, we are required to have at least three 8 ounce servings of milk a day. Other ways to get the recommended servings of dairy would be low fat yogurt and cheese or using a fat free version of cream cheese or sour cream in recipes such as dips or sauces.

So join me in making a commitment to have at least 3 servings of dairy every day in 2013 and to living a healthier lifestyle. With our new resolve for a healthier lifestyle and flu and cold season upon us, I thought this smoothie would do the trick of warding off unwanted illness with its all natural ingredients and antioxidant kick.

Blueberry Peach Smoothie

1 ½ Cups Blueberries (fresh or frozen)

¼ Cup honey (or more to taste)

1 Cup frozen sliced peaches, thawed

½ tsp. ground cinnamon 1 Cup MILK

½ tsp. ground nutmeg

Combine blueberries, peaches and MILK in a blender; cover and process on high. Add YOGURT, honey, cinnamon and nutmeg and blend well. Pour into glasses and serve immediately. Serves 4.

Every year during the fair, I look forward to Idella Zimmerman's (who is also the Vice President of the fair association) Chicken Lasagna. It has become a tradition for her to make it either Sunday or Monday for everyone to enjoy since we are all so busy during those first few days grooming animals, entering exhibits or making the buildings look great. This recipe is sure to hit the spot with you and your family as well.

1-pound pack lasagna noodles, cooked 3 Cups roasted, deboned and cubed chicken

1 Cup (or more) Shredded Mozzarella CHEESE

1 Cup (or more) Shredded Cheddar CHEESE

Parsley flakes (optional)

3 (10 3/4 ounce) cans of cream of chicken or cream of mushroom soup ½ Cup chopped green peppers (optional)

1 ½ Cup SOUR CREAM

1 Cup Velveeta CHEESE, chunked

Combine all sauce ingredients in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Place layer of noodles on bottom of a greased 9 x 13 inch pan. Spoon about $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of the sauce over the noodles. Layer $\frac{3}{4}$ cup chicken over the sauce. Sprinkle mozzarella and cheddar CHEESES over the top of the chicken. Repeat noodles and continue to layer. Sprinkle with parsley, if desired. Cover with foil and bake at 350° F for 40 minutes. Remove foil and bake an additional 10 minutes. Serves 6-8 people

Union-Snyder Agency on Aging Sets appointments for Rebates

The Property Tax/Rent Rebate program benefits eligible Pennsylvanians age 65 and older; widows and widowers age 50 and older; and people with disabilities age 18 and older. This program is offered by the Department of Revenue and funded by the PA Lottery and slots gaming. The income limit is $35,000 for homeowners and $15,000 for renters. It is important to note this calculation includes one-half of your Social Security benefits, Supplemental Security Income and Railroad retirement benefits when calculating total household eligibility income. The maximum standard rebate is $650.

Homeowners must produce copies of receipted tax bills for the year being claimed. Cancelled checks alone are not acceptable. However, the Department will accept a tax bill with a copy of the cancelled check. Renters must have Form PA-1000 RC completed by their landlord to provide proof of the rent paid. Look for the brochure on the Property Tax/Rent Rebate program that can be downloaded from the web site. The following is the link for the brochure: http://www.revenue.state.pa.us/portal/server. pt/document/693697/rev-573_pdf

The deadline to apply for the 2012 program is June 30, 2013. Distribution of the Rebate benefit will begin the first week in July. You may check the status of your Property Tax/Rent Rebate Claim online through the Revenue e-Services center or by calling the automated toll-free number, 1-888-PA TAXES (728-2937). Please be prepared to provide your Social Security number, the amount of rebate you're expecting and your birth date. Please wait 8-10 weeks from the date you mailed your claim to check its status. February 1, 2013, Union County Times -5 Every Woman Deserves to Look & Feel Beautiful This Valentine's Day

Having cancer is hard, looking and feeling beautiful this Valentine's Day is not.

Women with cancer are invited to treat themselves to a makeover for the body and mind by attending an upcoming "look good feel better" session on Feb. 11, 2013, from 1:30-3:30 p.m., at Geisinger Medical Center, Knapper Clinic, Danville.

"Look good feel better" is a free workshop for women with cancer where trained cosmetology professionals teach attendees how to care for the physical side effects of treatment like the loss of eyebrows, skin pigmentation, and the loss of hair.

"Although almost all of the appearance-related side effects of cancer treatment are temporary, they can be very distressing particularly so at Valentine's Day, when every advertisement screams beauty and romance. Cancer treatments and their very visible side effects can adversely affect even the most confident woman's self-image. We hope that by giving these LGFB participants tools to improve the way they look, we can help them to feel better... maybe even beautiful and romantic," said Dawn Spuesens, Health Initiatives Representative, American Cancer

All attendees will receive a free gift bag complete with brandname beauty products and learn a 12-step process to address skin changes, nail changes, and hair loss.

Pre-registration is required. Please call 1-800-227-2345 to reg-

"Look good feel better" (LGFB) is a national public service program created from the concept that if someone with cancer can be helped to look good, her improved self-esteem will help her to approach the disease and treatment with greater confidence. LGFB offers suggestions and advice on dealing with the appearance-related side effects of treatment through its Web sites, brochures and group programs offered nationwide. LGFB is a free, nonmedical, product-neutral program offered as a collaborative effort of the American Cancer Society, the Professional Beauty Association | National Cosmetology Association, and Personal Care Products Council Foundation, a charitable organization supported by the cosmetic industry.

Packwood Is Accepting Items for Attic Tag Sale

The Packwood House Museum is now accepting donations in preparation for its annual Attic Tag Sale, which will be held February 26 – March 9, 2013. The sale, held in the Museum's Tour Center, is one of the museum's most popular and successful fund-raisers. All proceeds benefit Packwood House Museum. Items that can be sold include books, jewelry, glass, china, kitchenware, furniture, toys, lamps, postcards, sporting equipment, craft items, holiday decorations - anything except for televisions, computers, and clothing, although the Museum does accept vintage accessories. Electronics and appliances will be accepted but must be in working order. Please pass the word along to anyone who is moving – we can take all the items you decide not to take with you. All donations are tax-deductible.

Until February 12, the museum is closed for winter break, but appointments to drop off items can be made by calling (570) 524-0323. The Tour Center is located at 15 N. Water St., Lewisburg. For more information concerning the Packwood House Museum or the Attic Tag Sale, visit www.packwoodhousemuseum.com or call the Museum at (570) 524-0323.
