Lemonade Stand Profits Donated to Journey to Justice

By Kay Poeth

Malena, Alorah, and Lianna Fiedler set up a lemonade stand with the profits benefiting Journey to Justice. They had an elaborate set up with information sheets, a handmade menu, snacks and even fresh flowers on the table.

Lynn Fiedler founded Journey to Justice, a 501(c)(3) non-profit based in Selinsgrove, in memory of her mother, Alice Longenberger, who endured horrific elder abuse while living in a Union County personal care facility. Journey to Justice's mission is to protect older adults through advocacy, education, and awareness.

Lynn's young granddaughters Malena, Alorah, and Lianna Fiedler, daughters of Brandon and Carrie Fiedler of Lewisburg, are acutely aware of the reason Journey to Justice exists. The girls also know how much Journey to Justice helps people. They have learned and believe that older Pennsylvanians deserve to live with dignity, safety and respect, and everyone has a role in helping protect those who may be vulnerable.

Malena, Alorah, and Lianne Fiedler present a check for 516.24 to Kim Rigel, treasurer of Journey to Justice. Thanks to all their neighbors for supporting their fundraiser.

According to Lynn, "They've been bugging their mom to let them do a lemonade stand. They finally did it. It was quite the stand I must say! Freshly squeezed lemonade, snacks, etc…" Lynn and her husband, Nevin. were invited to visit the lemonade stand. They were stunned by the whole operation. Of course, they each bought a refreshing glass of lemonade and made a donation… and then found out the grand surprise!

Here's the twist. The parents agreed to the lemonade stand with one stipulation- all profits needed to be donated to any place that helps the community.

Guess which organization the siblings chose? Journey to Justice!

The girls earned $258.12 in 3 afternoons!

"When they started, their dad said he'd match what they made, thinking they'd make $50 or so! When the neighbors heard what the Fiedler girls were doing and the cause, people really donated, and kept coming back every day…all ages!" exclaimed Lynn.Their dad kept his promise and matched their earnings. "A promise is a promise!"chuckled Lynn.

The grand total in donations was $516.24! They presented a check to Kim Rigel, treasurer of Journey to Journey on August 23.

"This is a heartwarming story showing empathy, great parenting, and the wonderful community support neighborhoods provide. We, at Journey to Justice, think it's just awesome. Thank you to these girls, parents, and your wonderful neighbors, in Lewisburg!" said Lynn gratefully.

DANNY DIETRICH FINALLY HAS A SOLID WEEKEND CLINTON COUNTY CROWNS ONE CHAMPION

Since a March 21st win at Port Royal and July 10th win at Clinton County, Danny's season has been pretty slow and not living up to his standards that he set for himself for the 410-sprint driver out of Gettysburg Pa. That all changed last weekend as Danny drove to a $8,000 win Friday night at Williams Grove in the 44th annual Jack Gunn Memorial race and then on Saturday night made a late race pass for the lead for the win at Port Royal. It was on the living legends night, so he collected $20,000 for his second win of the season at Port. Friday, Dietrich started in the eighth spot in the feature, slowly working his way towards the front. After a restart with five laps to go, Danny made an outside pass of the nation's winningest driver, Chase Dietz, to score his first Grove win of the season. It was the fourth time in his career he had won the Gunn Memorial at Williams Grove, and his second in a row. Dietz held on for second with Logan Rumsey, Cameron Smith and Freddie Rahmer in the top five. Saturday at Port Royal Danny again had to battle Chase Dietz for the top spot at different times during the race. In the end, he would pick up the 30-lap feature win, while Ryan Smith in the Kreitz #69K slipped by Dietz on the last lap for second with Dietz third, Cameron Smith and Ryan Newton in the top five. 39 drivers were on hand for the living legends night which honored Donnie Kreitz, Davey Brown and late model driver Tom Peck.

Drake Troutman completed a good weekend with a second place run on Friday night at Selinsgrove and leading all 25-laps at Port Royal on Saturday. Gregg Satterlee made a late race charge at Drake using the high side of the track to get close late in the race, but Troutman moved his car up the track just enough to take some air off the front of Satterlee's #22. He was slowing his run to the front. Troutman scored his second win in eight races since he has teamed up with Jerry Foster Racing. He scored a win at Lernerville two weeks ago collecting $4,000; the race at Port paid $5,000. Satterlee settled for second with Rick Eckert, Ross Robinson and Levi Yetter in the top five. With all the weather problems at Port Royal, this was only the fifth complete super late model race of the season. Satterlee, Troutman and Max Blair single wins and Trevor Feathers two wins. This weekend the Lucas Oil series will be at Port Royal for two nights of late model racing with the limited late models also in action both nights. The Friday night show for the series will pay the winner $10,000 with the Saturday night which is part of a Crown Jewel event paying $50,000 to win. In last year's event, the race drew a field of 45 drivers on Friday and 42 on Saturday with Ricky Thornton Jr winning both nights of racing. Jonathan Davenport, Brandon Sheppard, Devin Moran and Mike Marlar were in the top five on Friday with Chris Madden, Moran, Sheppard and Davenport in the top five on Saturday. Coming into this weekend Brandon Sheppard leads the series with 5940 points and has a 95-point lead over Hudson O'Neal, with Defending champion Devin Moran back 180, Brandon Overton and Max Blair in the top five.

A tight point's battle was happening Friday night at Clinton County in the limited late model division, with Joe Lusk and George Dixon Jr only separated by ten points. The race was to honor the memory of Len Stroud Jr with the feature paying $1,200 to win, with the extra money some extra talent of drivers were in the field. Jaxton Garman, who has only raced at the track three times, was in the field for the second time this year and did drive off for the feature win, while Dixon did make one daring move late in the race for the lead. George tried to go low between a lapped car and Garman but ran out of room. He hung on to place second in the feature. "I was going for the win, figured if I won the points things would take care of themselves. We still got the title thanks to the tie breaker that is in their rules. We did not plan to run for points, and glad we did this is my first point title ever. I am glad for my car owner Chris Miller who lives only five miles from the track, so it was great to win it for him also". Joe Lusk, who was leading by ten going placed third in the feature, which only ten points separating the two positions he and George finished in, the tie breaker who has the most wins. Dixon had three and Lusk none. This Friday night will be the final night of points for four more divisions with the IMCA 305-sprints with Jeff Weaver holding a oone-point lead over Jim Pattock, and 24 points over Matt Tebbs, 25 over Dale Schweikart, 32 behind is three-time winner Timmy Bittner. In the 270-micro-sprints defending champion Mac Wert is leading Jillian Maurer by 195 and is the only other driver with a shot at the title. Cory Long of Selinsgrove is leading AY Schilling by 140 going into the final race. The only two drivers are in the hunt for the title. Zak Kline leads the four-cylinders by 240 over Jimmy Moyer with Coty Maines back 265, these three drives have a shot for the title

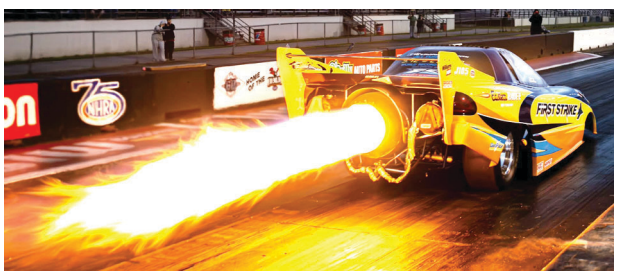

Lincoln Speedway will be back in action for the first time since Wednesday night July 30th sprint car show. They were rained out on August 8th and had a big paying four-cylinder race cancelled by the series which was set the first weekend in August. Last Saturday the track had a moto-cross event at the speedway. With five more shows left at Lincoln they will be running the 410-sprint and 358-sprints on those nights of racing. This includes a race this Saturday, then a two-day show over Labor Day weekend on Saturday and Sunday. Saturday September 26 and Wednesday September 30th, and wrap up the season on Saturday October 17th. Freddie Rahmer is leading the point's standings by 385 over Chase Dietz, with Dietz the leading feature winner with eight wins, but Chase does not run all the races sat Lincoln. He does a lot of traveling during the season. Cameron Smith, Tyler Ross and Danny Dietrich in the top five. Cody Fletcher who started the season winning the four features leads the 358-sprint points by 310 over Jayden Wolf with Eli Tuckey third.

In only his second ever start at Selinsgrove Speedway, Clay Harris of Jupiter FL drove to the 25-lap super late model feature win. He got a little help when leader Lane Snook had to stop on the track for a small problem. Clay, a Lucas Oil series regular for the second season, just wanted to get some races in before this weekend. Harris and the series had just raced the other weekend in Batesville AR for the topless 100, so instead of going home they came north to race in central PA, which paid off for Clay and his team. Talking to Clay it was discovered that about eleven years earlier, when he was around 13-14 years old, Clay raced at Raceway Park the 1/5-mile track inside the bigger track. "It was a MAX-Daddy series event that paid the top class $10,000 to win and I was in the junior class running for $2,000 to win". Clay now age 25 was not sure how he finished that day, but he remembers racing on the little track and now has won a race on the big ½ mile oval.

Shannon Slaughter of Lititz PA has driven a bunch of divisions this season, but her focus is with her 602 crate sportsman modified which is raced at Grandview speedway most of the time and Big Diamond also. She ran a 358-sprint car at Lincoln Speedway back in July and last Friday ran a limited late model #03 at Clinton County. She placed tenth in the feature first time in the car.

Major League baseball has added some great events and rules over the last fifteen years to make the long season more exciting. The wild card single-elimination game was created in 2012 and the current format of three wild card teams began in 2022. More fans are involved with their teams deep into September as the playoffs are still a possibility.

The Sunday Little League Classic started in 2017 and has been a huge success. This year the Milwaukee Brewers played the Atlanta Braves last Sunday. It took me a while to figure out why all the Brewer players were wearing a T-shirt at Lamade stadium with the number 44 on the back. This year's game was honoring Hank Aaron, one of the greatest baseball players of all time.¨Hammerin Hank¨ played his entire career for the Milwaukee/Atlanta Braves.

The MLB Little League classic was a fitting tribute to Aaron. The current big league players with the Brewers and Braves were actually grateful to be with all the little leaguers from around the world that gathered in Williamsport. You could sense their enthusiasm to give autographs and take selfies with their young fans was genuine and not forced. It was a great day for all levels of baseball.

Contrast that with the lack of awareness happening in NFL preseason camps where wide receivers used to be the divas of the game. The Cleveland Browns QB Deshaun Watson has yet to take accountability for anything he has done in the NFL. More than twenty women have accused him of sexual misconduct and Watson has yet to express any remorse. He has also said he feels more love on the road from fans than he does at home games.

Last weekend the Cleveland fans booed him on his return to Cleveland for his first Brown´s game since he tore his achilles tendon in October of 2024. His response after the game ¨I think the whole world knows it has nothing to do about performance. It's a little bit more personal than that. I think that´s a disrespectful thing.¨ Watson's lack of awareness and contrition is what's disrespectful.

When you sign a five year contract that cost the Browns $230M and three first round draft picks, expectations are high. Watson has played only nineteen games since 2022 due to injuries and suspensions and his record is 9 and 10. Despite all this, after his disastrous press conference and play, Cleveland's new coach Todd Monken named Watson his starting QB.

Earlier this month Washington Commander´s QB Jayden Daniels told LSU they can no longer use his name, image and likeness because they didn't retire his #5 jersey. I thought Daniels was one of the good guys but clearly I was wrong. Daniels won the Heisman trophy and led LSU to a 10-3 record in 2023 and played only one year at LSU.

There is only one team in the history of sport that retired a jersey number of a player that played only one year for that team. That is Pele´s #10 for the New York Cosmos in 1977 where the legendary Brazilian soccer star transcended American soccer.

Teams have retired jerseys as a memorial of a tragic situation where the athlete's life was cut short. The fact that Jayden Daniels wants his jersey retired after one year at LSU is preposterous.

There must be something in the water in Baton Rouge,LA. Lane Kiffin has yet to coach his first game at LSU and already is making waves and bringing attention onto himself. Kiffin is the one that gave Daniel´s #5 jersey to a top defensive back recruit. No one else has worn the jersey since Daniels was drafted after the 2023 season.

Kiffin is also the only coach that is publicly recruiting NFL players that were cut from their professional teams. This issue is currently a hot topic in college and changes daily. My weekly article cannot keep you updated properly.

Kiffin is the most polarizing coach in football and gets way too much credit as a coach for never having won any championships. He was hired as the youngest (31) head coach in the NFL by the Oakland Raiders and fired the next year. Kiffin coached the Tennessee Volunteers for one year that resulted in recruiting sanctions before bolting to USC. He lasted a little more than two years at USC before being fired on the airport tarmac in Tempe,AZ.

Kiffin was an assistant under Nick Saban for three years at Alabama trying to rebuild his reputation. The Bama rehab stint got Kiffin the head job at Florida Atlantic for three years before he came back to the SEC to coach Ole Miss. Lane probably did his best coaching at Mississippi for just shy of six years. He left Ole Miss for LSU last year just before the Rebels were to play in their first college football playoff game.

Kiffin has been consistently controversial and by far has the most football jerseys burned by fans of teams he has coached. I´m very much looking forward to 9/19/26 when Kiffin takes LSU to Ole Miss.

I think we are all interested in seeing how James Franklin fares at Virginia Tech. Like him or not, Franklin did leave Penn State better than when he arrived. He got Penn State to the height of his coaching ability before the ceiling he touched in 2024 came crashing down on him last year.

Franklin could always recruit but maximizing that talent and gameday management were his biggest issues. Three of his former recruits that played forty games at Penn State will be starting QB´s this fall at different schools.

Ethan Grunkemeyer followed Franklin to VA Tech and Beau Tribula will be starting for Virginia in the ACC. Oddly enough, Temple and Penn State will be led by quarterbacks from the state of Iowa. Rocco Becht came to Penn State from Iowa State with new coach Matt Campbell and Temple has former Nittany Lion and Iowa prep star Jaxon Smolik at QB.

I believe the Dallas Cowboys are going to have a really good season this year. They might even get close to a Super Bowl berth if owner Jerry Jones stays out of the headlines. That might be difficult for Jer as a couple of other owners of sports teams are currently grabbing the headlines and we all know Jer doesn't like that.

Mark Walter just sold the LA Lakers after buying them last year for $10B. The speed of the Lakers sale, that was completed in less than a week without a bidding process, suggests Walter needed to raise money quickly because he's facing a liquidity crunch. Walter sold the Lakers for $12.5B, a very nice profit.

Walter has owned the LA Dodgers since 2012 and there are no signs yet of him selling the baseball team. The Dodgers owe more than $1B to eight players in deferred payments, this is how the Dodgers have become the dynasty they currently are.

Per baseball´s CBA rules, deferred payments are put into an account two years after they are signed. To use Shohei Ohtani´s $680M 2024 contract as an example, the $68M deferred payment is required to be in a trackable account this summer to be collected in 2034.

It might be that these deferred payments to Ohtani, Mookie Betts $115M, Blake Snell $66M, Freddie Freeman $57M and Will Smith $50M are the reason Walter sold the Lakers…? Walter also has the Federal government looking at the finance and insurance companies he owns for illegal loans.

There´s another owner that is in a different kind of trouble. San Francisco 49er's owner Jed York was arrested in East Palestine, OH Sunday morning on misdemeanor charges of disorderly conduct and possessing criminal tools. That is ´rich people´ terminology for the laws they break to remain vague to the public. Keep a low profile Jerry Jones.

The high school fall sports season has started and hopefully I will be able to talk to some of the coaches for a preview in next week's paper. Comments and questions are encouraged @theviewfromhear or theviewfromhear74@gmail.com

A River Rat's Ramblings: August 1957

Edited by K By Jim Charles; Vol. 6, Story 9 ay Poeth

Its mid-August and I'm wondering, "Where did the summer go?" We were so busy digging coal, playing baseball or crick chase, swimming, fishing or trading comic books on Earl Hollenbach's back porch.There were no new kids on our block, just Tim and I, Earl and John Kinney. Today, Earl lives in the house he was raised in, John built a house on 2ndStreet on land that was his family's strawberry patch.Brother Tim built a house where Wayne Gemberling lived on North Front Steet and I became the rebel and moved to South Front Street on the island.

It's said that parents are to give their children roots and wings.For the four of us, we had very short flights off the Isle of Que. Our roots are so deep they've grown into the bedrock under the island.

Next week The Selinsgrove Times will publish the room assignments for the Pine Street School.I hate to think that it's time to go back to school again.Brother Tim will be in fourth grade, John in fifth grade and Earl and I will be in sixth grade.

When Tim and I came in for lunch, mom informed us that instead of going to the playground this afternoon, Tim and I were to spend the afternoon cleaning our back porch of a summer's worth of rare and fine collectibles that the river and fields had provided.

When we were done with lunch, Tim and I went out, stood in our yard and surveyed the situation...where to start? We agreed we would start putting it back in an orderly manner.There was a metal cabinet that we left on the porch that had a multitude of items in, some lived there for years.There was an empty ash tub so we emptied the cabinet into the tub and cleaned the shelves in the cabinet.The tub was full of treasures, Indian artifacts, fishing items we had found in the river, two propellers from outboard motors, toys we found in the river and an assortment of stuff we didn't want to throw away and didn't know just what to do with it.The cabinet became our time capsule.We got most of our stuff put back on the porch in an orderly manner, except a wheel barrow, full of stuff we should save but not on the porch.Our ace in the hole was our two story, two bay barn that held such stuff and mom never came to the barn.

That was over 60 years ago.My nephew, Shane, now owns the barn and I'm sure some of the treasures Tim and I put there still remain.

Union-Snyder Agency on Aging Hosted Retirement Open House to Honor Holly Kyle

By Kay Poeth

Pennsylvania Secretary of Aging Jason Kavulich, retiring Executive Director of the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging Holly Kyle, and newly hired Director of the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging Susie Weller are pictured here at Holly Kyle's Retirement Open House.

Holly Kyle was presented a Senate Citation recognizing her dedication to the Agency on Aging. Picture here are Wendy Dombroskie, Constituent Relations Specialist for Sen. Culver; Holly Kyle, retiring Executive Director of the of the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging; Terri Campbell, District Director for Sen. Culver; and District Director Matt Wise for Sen. Gene Yaw.

Three Executive Directors of the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging: former Executive DirectorFarida Zaid, retiring Executive Director Holly Kyle, and newly hired Executive Director Susie Welle.

On June 24, the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging, Inc. hosted a Retirement Open House honoring its Executive Director, Holly Kyle. Holly warmly greeted family, friends, former and current employees, board members, and community partners. The celebration recognized Holly's remarkable career and nearly 39 years of dedicated service to older adults living in Union and Snyder counties.

Throughout the afternoon, guests gathered to share memories, express their gratitude, and celebrate Holly's extraordinary legacy of leadership, compassion, and service. Wendy Dombroskie and Terri Campbell representing Senator Lynda Culver's office along with District Director Matt Wise from Senator Gene Yaw's office presented Holly with a Senate Citation recognizing her nearly four decades of outstanding public service and her many contributions to older adults throughout the region.

The citation reads in part, "Ms. Kyle began her career with the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging in November 1987 as a Protective Services Caseworker and advanced to Supervisor in 1990, Deputy Director in 2003, and Executive Director, the position from which she is retiring in 2006. Over the years, she has impacted many of the agency's work from case management to protective services, and she has guided the agency through a period of tremendous growth, innovation, and service to older adults across Union and Snyder Counties."

In addition, Snyder County Commissioner Adam Ewig, Union County Commissioner Stacy Richards, and former Snyder County Commissioner Richard Bickhart also attended the Retirement Open House.

"Holly's vision and commitment have shaped this Agency into what it is today," said Union County Commissioner, Stacy Richards, Chair of the USAA Board of Directors. "Her leadership has ensured that thousands of older adults in our community can live withdignity, independence, and security. She leaves behind a legacy of innovation, compassion, and service."

Another esteemed guest was the Secretary of Aging, Jason Kavulich, who noted that Holly "has been an incredible influence on my career."

Under Holly's leadership, the Agency expanded its senior center services and adult day care services, developed innovative housing initiatives including the Elder Cottage Housing Opportunity and Shared Housing programs, and played a critical role in protecting older adults during the COVID-19 pandemic by coordinating mobile vaccination clinics that brought vaccines directly into communities. She also led regional collaborations, expanded in-home services, and championed cultural competency initiatives that strengthened support for thousands of older adults and their families.

Holly reflected on her career saying, "It has been an extraordinary privilege to spend my career serving older adults and their families. Few people have the opportunity to devote their life's work to something so meaningful, and I have never taken that privilege for granted."

Continuing Holly noted, "The relationships I have built, the challenges we have faced together, and the countless opportunities to make a difference in the lives of seniors will forever remain my most treasured memories… I have been blessed to work alongside dedicated staff, committed board members, community partners, and volunteers who have shared a common purpose: ensuring that every older adult is treated with dignity, respect, and compassion."

Holly will also be remembered for her genuine compassion, thoughtful leadership, and unwavering dedication to those she served. She has mentored countless staff members, built lasting partnerships throughout the region, and fostered a culture centered on dignity and respect.

"If there is one legacy I hope to leave behind, it is that I lived those words—that I served with compassion, led with integrity, and always sought to put people first," said Holly.

"Holly Kyle has been an exemplary public servant and a compassionate advocate for seniors throughout our region and across Pennsylvania. She is respected by her colleagues, loved by those she has served and admired for her professionalism, dedication and heart. I wish Holly all the best in her well-earned retirement," said Sen. Culver.

While Holly's retirement marks the end of an extraordinary chapter in the Agency's history, her legacy will continue through Susie Weller, who assumed the role of Executive Director on July 6. According to Holly, "The Agency is entering an exciting new era under the leadership of Susie Weller, who has been onboarding with us for the past month. Susie is no stranger to human services, and I have every confidence that she will continue to lead the Agency with dedication, vision, and a deep commitment to its mission. I know she will build upon the strong foundation that has been established and guide the Agency as it continues to serve the older adults of Union and Snyder Counties for many years to come."

The Union-Snyder Agency on Aging, Inc. is a nonprofit organization dedicated to serving older adults in Union and Snyder counties. SV Mediation to Host Annual Fall Fundraise at Fero Vineyard & Winery

Susquehanna Valley Mediation (SVM) will host its seventh annual fall fundraiser, themed "Strengthening Ties," from 5:30—8:00 p.m. on Thursday, September 10, at965 JPM Road, Lewisburg.

SVM cordially invites community members to join us for an evening of live bluegrass music byAxe & Fiddle, heavy hors d'oeuvres catered by Isabella's, and a silent auction featuring items ranging from a Coffee Crawl to a weekend cabin-by-the-creek getaway.

Since 2010, SVM has been providing conflict mediation, facilitation, and education services throughout Snyder, Union, and Northumberland counties. SVM has grown significantly in that time, expanding its work to support people in recovery and reentry, families affected by a loved one's addiction, and people returning to the community after involvement in the justice system. SVM also serves as an extension of the Family Engagement Initiative by coordinating and facilitating Crisis Rapid Response Family Meetings. In addition, SVM facilitates regular civic conversations, story circles, and support groups to give people a chance to build connections and develop the skills to navigate difficult conversations.

All proceeds from the fundraiser will support SVM's programs and help fulfill its mission of building a stronger and more connected community through mediation, facilitation, and education. In 2025, SVM served roughly 1,500 people with the help of 54 volunteers who dedicated more than 3,400 hours to helping their community.

"The theme for this year's fundraiser is 'Strengthening Ties.' Strong ties help families weather hardships, help a person in recovery find the courage to keep going, and help a community stand together in a crisis. Ties build trust, create opportunities for people to reach out for help, and repair relationships when something is broken. We hope people will join us for a fun evening to support our work," said Susan Jordan, SVM's Executive Director. "When we strengthen a relationship or build a new connection, we are helping to create a safer, stronger community."

Tickets for the fundraiser are currently on sale. Those interested in purchasing tickets can do so by visiting the SVM website, www.svmediation.org. Tickets are $65 per person before September 1 ($70 per person after September 1) or $500 for a table of eight. If you have questions about SVM's programs or the annual fall fundraiser, you can contact SVM at (570) 374-1718.

Pennsylvania Department of Health Confirms Two Measles-Associated Deaths

The deaths mark the first losses related to the highly contagious virus in Pennsylvania in 35 years.

Getting vaccinated is the best protection against measles, providing 97% lifetime protection after two doses.

The Pennsylvania Department of Health (DOH) confirmed two measles-associated deaths in Pennsylvania on August 25. Both individuals were unvaccinated. These mark the first deaths related to measles within the Commonwealth in 35 years.The best protection against measles is getting fully vaccinated. The MMR vaccine, administered over two doses, boosts a person's immune system and provides 97% lifetime protection.

"My deepest sympathies are with the loved ones who are facing this unimaginable loss," said Secretary of Health Dr. Debra Bogen. "Because measles was largely eliminated in the Commonwealth for more than three decades, people are not familiar with this disease and don't fully understand the potential severity of the illness. We want to ensure every Pennsylvanian has the information they need to protect themselves, their loved ones and their communities. As a physician, I want to make sure that people understand that the MMR vaccine is safe and provides the best protection we have against measles."

DOH confirmed both individuals were unvaccinated residents of Lancaster County. To protect the privacy of the individuals and their families, DOH will not release any additional details that could personally identify these individuals and their families. Protecting Pennsylvanian's privacy is a core responsibility of DOH. DOH has confirmed 393 cases in 29 counties thus far in 2026.

Measles is a highly contagious virus that can cause serious short- and long-term health problems, including pneumonia and brain swelling, with nearly 20% of people who contract measles being hospitalized. Death related to measles, though rare, occurs in one to three patients per 1,000 cases.

Measles spreads when a person who is infected breathes, coughs, or sneezes. The virus remains infectious in the air and on surfaces for up to two hours after the person with infection leaves the area.

Early symptoms of measles include fever, cough, runny nose, and red, watery eyes (conjunctivitis). The measles rash follows a few days later, starting on the head and spreading downward. Because early symptoms look similar to other respiratory viral infections, it is important to contact a health care provider early if someone has these symptoms or may have been exposed to measles. Symptoms can start 7 to 21 days after exposure. Without proper protection or supportive care, measles can be deadly.

People who believe they were exposed to measles, and are experiencing symptoms, should contact their health care provider or call the Department's toll-free hotline at 877-PA-HEALTH (877-724-3258).

Governor Shapiro Urges Fruit Growers Impacted by Devastating Spring Freeze to Apply for Disaster Relief Grants

Governor Shapiro secured $10 million to create a grant program for Pennsylvania farmers impacted by the April freeze to help recover losses this year and rebound in future seasons.

The Shapiro Administration's continued calls for urgent federal action has also resulted in additional federal relief to growers in 58 counties.

Impacted farmers should visit www.pa.gov/cropfreeze and can apply beginning Monday, August 24th.

Menallen Township, PA – Today, Governor Josh Shapiro and Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture (PDA) Secretary Russell Redding visited Three Springs Fruit Farm in Adams County to encourage Pennsylvania fruit growers who lost crops during a devastating late-April freeze to apply for relief through Pennsylvania's new Fruit Grower Freeze Disaster Assistance Recovery Grant Program, beginning on August 24. The grant program was created with a $10 million investment secured by the Governor in the 2026-27 budget, making Pennsylvania the only state in the mid-Atlantic with dedicated funding to support fruit growers impacted by this freeze.

These grants build on the Shapiro Administration's strong support for impacted growers – Governor Shapiro sent a letter calling on the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to expedite damage assessment reports and to issue a secretarial disaster declaration in May. The USDA has since granted 58 Pennsylvania counties disaster designations, which allow growers to seek low-interest loans to restore operations and get faster damage assessments to finalize crop insurance claims.

PDA will begin accepting Freeze Disaster Assistance Recovery Grant applications from Pennsylvania growers whose pome or stone fruits (such as apples, pears, peaches, and cherries) or grape or berry crops were affected by freezing temperatures between April 1, 2026, and April 21, 2026. Growers who experienced losses of at least 30 percent of expected production of eligible crops may apply. Detailed instructions will be published in the August 22, 2026 issue of the Pennsylvania Bulletin and on the PDA website. Applications will be accepted by mail or email which began on August 24, through September 21, 2026.

Pennsylvania growers reported their worst losses in several generations due to the freeze, with many reporting a near 100 percent crop loss in apples, and serious impacts to peach, cherry, strawberry, and grape yields. PDA has estimated the Commonwealth's specialty crop industry could face between $150 million to $200 million in economic losses.

Lewisburg YMCA Offers Free Fall-Prevention Program for Older Adults

A Matter of Balance Helps Participants Manage Concerns About Falling

Lewisburg, PA – The Lewisburg YMCA, in cooperation with the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging, Inc., will offer A Matter of Balance, a program for local residents aged 60 and up who are interested in improving flexibility, balance, and strength, and have restricted their activities because of concerns about falling. The program will be offered free of charge thanks to funds made available by the Pennsylvania Department of Aging.

The program will be led by A Matter of Balance certified instructor and Lewisburg YMCA personal trainer, Sara Iannelli. Participants will meet at the Lewisburg YMCA every Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 to 3:00 PM September 3 through September 29, 2026. Eligible participants should be ambulatory, able to problem solve, and have concerns about falling. After completing the program, which includes classroom instruction, group participation, and physical exercises, participants can hope to regain independence and restore confidence when it comes to physical activity. Iannelli stated, "A Matter of Balance gives older adults the tools and confidence they need to stay active and independent. By addressing both the physical and emotional aspects of falling, participants learn practical skills that help them move through daily life with greater strength, balance, and peace of mind."

Registration is required for all participants at GSVYMCA.org, by calling 570.556.4191, or in person at the Lewisburg YMCA front desk at 120 Hardwood Drive, Lewisburg.

Drop Your Drawers Campaign Collects Essential Clothing Items at West End Library

The West End Library in Laurelton is inviting the community to join its annual Drop Your Drawers campaign, a month-long effort to collect essential clothing items for local children.

Throughout September, the library will collect new, unopened packages of children's underwear, undershirts, and socks in sizes 4–16. All donations will benefit local families through the Mazeppa Manna Food Pantry.

This annual Drop Your Drawers campaign has become a valued community tradition at the West End Library. The initiative is inspired by the popular Captain Underpants character created by author and illustrator Dav Pilkey, using a lighthearted theme to highlight an important community need. Every donation from the community makes a meaningful difference for a child in need.

Donations may be dropped off at the West End Library, located at 45 Ball Park Road, Laurelton, PA 17835, during regular business hours throughout September. For more information, contact the West End Library at (570) 922-4773 or visit the library at 45 Ball Park Road, Laurelton, PA 17835.
