Tails to Trails 5K Run/Walk

By: Jacob Tanner

On Saturday, September 21 at 9:30 AM, families gathered together in Lewisburg right off of Rt. 45 at the Buffalo Valley Rail Trail to run the this year's rendition of the Tails to Trails 5K Fun Run/Walk. The event was held by the Buffalo Valley Recreation Authority, and is one of the few races of its kind for both humans and their four-legged companions. Parking was free and was located at Brookpark Farm. In fact, parking and registration were both simple and easy to find, with large signs pointing to the right area easily visible before turning off of RT. 45, which is always a huge benefit to participants. Online registration was free for humans, but $7 per dog, with a multiple-dog discount available. Those who didn't register until after September 12, or waited until the day of the event, were charged $12 per dog. Participants received some goodies at the end.

Since the 5K was a fun run, most runners and walkers of the event were not particularly concerned with running or walking the best times, but were looking to just have a good day with their dogs and others. Race times, I was told, would not be posted online, however first place did go to David Brungard and his dog Chester, who finished in a time of 21:21.

As the participants took to the trail with a cloudy overcast and a temperature of 64 degrees Fahrenheit, I had an opportunity to speak with Elizabeth Stuelke, who is the Program Director of the Buffalo Valley Recreation Authority. She had this to share with me, "This is the third year for the Tails to Trails 5K, and it is growing each year. It's just a fun way to get people out on the trail with their dogs. A big part of the community has dogs, and this race really encourages them to get out on the trail with their animals. It's just a whole lot of fun." She also added, "We're always interested to hear what people have to say. We want to know what else they would like to see in regard to future dog events, and even trail events. Just last Saturday we held 'Doggy Dips' at the Lewisburg Community Pool. Dogs got the chance to play, run free, and swim around a bit. That's another real fun event. Coming up we'll be holding the Flat N' Fast 4 Miler in Mifflinburg on October 26."

David Brungard, who finished in first place with his dog Chester, said that his dog was still energetic at the end and excited to see the woman they were with. I was impressed by how well behaved his dog was. A young boy named Lawson and his dog Hildey, who came to the event with his mother, were one of the first teams to finish. He said, "I liked the race and I had fun. We were in third place until Hildey had to stop." His mother was of course proud of her son for running the race and being a very good dog owner.

A woman named Angela ran with her dog Nala, and was another of one of the first teams to finish the race. She told me, "I loved the race, it was great. I did it last year too." She then pointed at her dog and said, "She sprints in the beginning, but by the end she's dragging along. But she has a lot of fun here too. I will definitely be back again, and will recommend this race to others."

Freddie Carlip of Lewisburg helped out during the race, and was the 'sweeper'. She explained, "I was the one that brought up the rear and it took a while to get back. I was the one who made sure that everyone and their dogs were okay on the course."

The event was sponsored by Brookpark Pet Supply and Warrior Run Pet Care Center, while a special thanks went to Knittle & Frey for their sponsoring. Proceeds benefitted Sun P.E.T.S. and the Buffalo Valley Rail Trail. If you are interested in running future races on the Buffalo Valley Rail Trail or you wish to make some suggestions then head on over to www.bvrec.org for further information.

Woman Involved in High Speed Chase Released From Jail

Bail was modified on Tuesday for Leslie A. Arthurs, of Shamokin, allowing her to be freed from jail. Arthurs allegedly lead police on a 34 mile high speed chase through Union County on September 7, 2013, while she was nine months pregnant. Arthurs, who had been locked up in the Union County Jail, was taken to Clinton County after giving birth last week at an undisclosed location. She will likely be released this week from the Clinton County Correctional Facility.

Arthurs waived the right to a preliminary hearing on Tuesday before District Judge Mensch. Her attorney, Brian Ulmer requested the bail modification stating that Arthurs' actions were uncharacteristic for her and that she had no prior convictions. Arthurs began taking psychotropic medication since giving birth to her child last week and has been working with her attorney on her own defense.

Mensch granted the modification with some strict stipulations which are:

- Arthurs must make weekly in-person meetings with the bail program of the Union County Adult Probation.
- She must follow all mental health and medical directions and meet weekly, at minimum, in person with those providers. Arthurs is currently under the care of the Northumberland County agency for behavior and mental health
- Notify the Union County District Attorney and Clerk of Courts within 48 hours of any address change. Arthurs clarified that she currently lives in Shamokin even though there were two other addresses listed for her.

Bucknell Receives Approval

The East Buffalo Township Planning Commission approved a plan proposed by Bucknell University officials to build a two story center for varsity wrestling. The on-campus site is east of Sojka Pavilion. Floor space for the building will cover 16,887 square feet over the two stories.

The concept is a training and practice facility which would also include a student leadership facility to be available to all Bucknell students. The wrestling matches would still be held at Davis Gym.

Bucknell Trustees will need to give their final approval at next month's meeting. The project is in the early stages and there are no approved plans to move forward with the project.

• No new arrests. If she complies with all these stipulations she will remain free.

Arthurs also decided to waive her formal arraignment in the Union County Court of Pleas which would have taken place on November 4. She will appear for a formal hearing before the end of the year.

The high speed chase resulted in at least $20,000 in damages to four police cars while speeding on Route 15, in Kelly Township allegedly causing other drivers to dodge Arthurs' SUV which led police through five Union County municipalities.

Arthurs had stopped taking prescribed medications while she was pregnant so she wouldn't harm her unborn child. She met regularly with Susan Martz, her caseworker from the Northumberland County Behavioral/Mental Health Agency. Her last meeting with Martz and her two other children was on September 4, 2013.

Mensch advised Arthurs of the chance she was being given with his bail decision and stated "don't mess up this opportunity". If she in any way violates the terms of her release, she will be taken into custody and sent back to Union County Jail "with a bill of $100,000."

Before its bankruptcy in 1943, the Mifflinburg Body Company produced thousands of automobile and truck bodies. By 1923, it had more than 300 employees. This 1954 postcard shows how much the company had expanded, but by this time the 250,000-square-foot complex had been sold to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and then in 1956 to Mifflinburg Industries, Inc. PA Dutch Life & Culture

I've heard from a few about the one (and two) room schools and would like to hear from many more... especially from those of you who had my Uncle Frank Gill as a teacher... at the Port Ann School or at Troxelville. Did he teach in both the lower and the upper grades in Troxelville? He also taught in McEwensville for two years in 1922 to 1924.

Anyone whose parents had my mother, Meriam Gill Markley as their teacher? Do let me know.

One friend shared about how Aunt Huldah would sometimes bring special goodies for a picnic and that on the last day of school there was always a celebration. (On the last day of school, our whole school in Beaver Springs—we had 6 rooms for 8 grades-- always went to a movie. Was it to the theater in Paxtonville?)

What were the "extras" you had? Was there a library? I read every book in the one we had in Beaver Springs! In first grade, we had a sand table... that was so much fun!! Did you have a picture of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln in your "room"? And the clock... the Regulator "schoolhouse" style that we now buy to decorate our homes... (Yes, I have one right by the desk where I'm typing.)

What did you wear? NOT today's styles!! The girls never wore slacks to school. Were there any rules? I can remember wearing long tan stockings to keep warm in the wintertime.

Did you have central heat? Water in the building? Indoor plumbing? When did all these modern improvements come? I assume they had come many years before I went to 1st grade in 1941. We had them all at our school in Beaver Springs.

When I think of ALL the subjects for ALL the different grade levels those teachers had to cover...well, it really makes my mind swim!! How did they do it and how do the ones who are still teaching in the one-room schools do it??!

Please do write and let me know what you've heard or what you remember, even if it's just a thought or two.

Can you tell me the names of all the one-room schools of the past, in Snyder County? Please send me the names of the ones you've heard of or remember.

I'd also love to hear again from some of you-all who have written in the past and hear your personal experiences at the one and two-room Amish and Mennonite schools in the Snyder and Union county areas (or other places if that's where you attended school.) I assume there are some there. I enjoy seeing the children playing outside when I see them in Lancaster County, but don't know about Snyder and Union Counties.

Kenseth And "Rowdy" Finish 1-2

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

LOUDON, N.H.—For the second consecutive week, Matt Kenseth and his Joe Gibbs Racing teammate, Kyle Busch finished first and second in Sunday's Sprint Cup race.

It was Kenseth's seventh win of the season, and his 500th Cup race.

"This gives us a great start in the Chase," said Kenseth. "They gave me such a good car to drive today, it seemed more like a Sunday drive than a race. All I had to do was keep out of trouble."

Kenseth took the lead on a restart during lap 243 of the 300-lap race, and led the remaining 57-laps. For most of the laps, Kenseth and Busch were way ahead of the rest of the field.

"I tried everything, but the 20-car had a little more power," said Busch. "Our team ran as hard as we could. I'm kind of glad we didn't get to him, because I don't know what would have happened."

Greg Biffle, Jimmie Johnson, Jamie McMurray, Dale Earnhardt Jr., Brian Vickers, Jeff Burton, Carl Edwards, and Martin Truex Jr. were the remaining top-10 finishers.

Truex led about one half of the early laps, but faded near the end.

"We had a good car, but that last set of tires did us in. We couldn't run up front on them," he said.

Kurt Busch's team saw their string of good finishes come to an end, as he wound up 12th, and was not able to lead any laps.

A caution with about 100 laps left, for debris on the track, was costly for Jeff Gordon. He overshot his pit box, and had to back up in the process of a four-tire change. He dropped from second to 22nd on the restart. He finished 15th.

Polesitter, Ryan Newman came in 16th.

Top-13 Chase leaders after 2 of 10: 1. Kenseth-2111, 2. Kyle Busch-2097, 3. Johnson-2093, 4. Edwards-2075, 5. Biffle-2073, 6. Harvick-2072, 7. Kurt Busch-2071, 8. Gordon-2069, 9. Newman-2064, 10. Bowyer-2063, 11. Earnhardt-2049, 12. Logano-2042, 13. Kahne-2040.

YOUNG RYAN BLANEY TAKES NATIONWIDE RACE

Young Ryan Blaney, making only his 15th start, won Saturday night's Kentucky Nationwide race.

The win didn't come easy for Blaney, a 19 year-old development driver for Penske Racing. He was nearly wrecked by teammate and points leader Sam Hornish Jr., on a restart with 15 Laps to go.

As Hornish attempted to take the lead from Blaney, Hornish's Ford broke loose on the bottom of the track and immediately slid up the race track, nearly colliding with Blaney. While Hornish faded, Blaney kept his foot on the gas and kept Austin Dillon in his rearview mirror, through one more caution.

"We had a great car all night," said a jubilant Blaney. "We kept working on it throughout the race, just little tweaks here and there. We were really strong to start out the race and just got better and better as the runs went on. It was really tough the last few restarts to really know what was going to happen. The way the restart rule is now, you never know how big of a push someone can get."

Austin Dillon finished second, followed by Matt Crafton, Sam Hornish, Alex Bowman, Drew Herring, Brian Vickers, Jeb Burton, Cole Whitt, and Michael Annett.

Top-10 leaders after 27 of 33 races: 1. Hornish-962, 2. A. Dillon-947, 3. Smith-917, 4. Sadler-908, 5. Vickers-902, 6. Allgaier-887, 7. Scott-883, 8. Bayne-868, 9. Larson-822, 10. Kligerman-783.

Note: Nationwide Insurance, sponsor of the Nationwide Series will not return after the 2014 season.

WALTRIP RACING LOSES SPONSORSHIP

NAPA Auto Parts, sponsor of the Michael Waltrip Racing's No. 56 Toyota, driven by Martin Truex is dropping their estimated $15-million sponsorship at the end of this season.

"After thorough consideration, NAPA has made the difficult decision to end its sponsorship arrangement with Michael Waltrip Racing effective December 31, 2013," said Gaylord Spencer, NAPA's Vice President. "NAPA believes in fair play and does not condone actions such as those that led to the penalties assessed by NASCAR. We remain supportive of the millions of NASCAR fans and will evaluate our future position in motorsports."

"NASCAR determined that MWR attempted to manipulate race results at Richmond, Virginia, on September 7, 2013. NASCAR assessed a large fine, deducted 50 points from each of the three MWR drivers in the race and suspended or banned other members of the MWR team.

"NAPA believes in fair play and we are very disappointed in the actions that led to the NASCAR penalties. We have made NAPA's decision known to MWR and posted a statement on our Facebook page. There will be significant media coverage and discussion among racing fans and we expect that our decision to terminate our sponsorship will generate additional attention. The decision was difficult, but we believe it is the right thing to do."

Despite the NASCAR penalties, and loss of sponsorship, Michael Waltrip still denies the cheating charge.

"To the fans and those who made their voice heard through social media, as the owner, I am responsible for all actions of MWR," said Waltrip. "I sincerely apologize for the role our team played and for the lines NASCAR has ruled were crossed by our actions at Richmond."

Despite what many racing fans considered 'bad publicity', over the Michael Waltrip racing scandal, Bruton Smith, owner of Speedway Motorsports Inc., said die-hard fans simply don't care about the accusations, and the attention from the fallout gave NASCAR the spotlight to kick off the Chase at just the right time in a crowded sports landscape.

"I think it gives the sport a tremendous amount of publicity," Smith said. "We might win more than we lose. We've had huge publicity all week, or at least since Richmond."

He also said the infractions are tame compared to some of the scandals that rock other sports leagues, such as the NFL and former New England Patriots tight end Aaron Hernandez. Hernandez is charged with murder in the shooting death of 27-year-old Odin Lloyd

"If you want to be detrimental to a sport, have your athletes going to prison," Smith said. "One of them for murder. He's still in jail for murder. That is terrible. I believe we have the cleanest sport there is. I think we are very lucky. I think NASCAR is doing a great job."

Weekend Racing: The Trucks will be out west at the 1.5-mile Las Vegas track, while the Cup and Nationwide teams will be battling it out on Dover's Monster Mile.

Sat., Sept. 28, Nationwide series, race 28 of 33; Starting time: 3:30 pm ET; TV: ESPN2.

Sat., Sept. 28, Truck series, race 17 of 22; Starting time: 8:30 pm ET; TV: FoxSports1.

Sat., Sept. 29, Sprint Cup series, race 29 of 36; Starting time: 2 pm ET; TV: ESPN.

Racing Trivia Question: Which team and series will Juan Montoya be with in 2014?

Last Week's Question: Who was the first African-American to drive in NASCAR? Answer: Charlie Scott of Atlanta drove a Chrysler for Carl Kiekhaefer in the 1956 Daytona Beach race to become the first African-American driver. He finished 19th out of 76 drivers.

Take Precaution Against Influenza

Flu seasons are unpredictable. The timing, length and severity vary each year, typically with a peak during January and February. Based on this, the Centers for Disease Control recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone six months of age and older. Receiving the flu shot as soon as it becomes available each year is ideal as the protection will continue throughout the flu season.

Evangelical Community Hospital's Health and Wellness has scheduled several flu clinics to make receiving the vaccination convenient for individuals in Snyder, Union, and Northumberland counties. Vaccinations are available to individuals 3 years of age and older at the Community Clinics. The cost for a flu shot is $30 and pneumonia vaccines are available for an additional $65.

Please bring your insurance cards to the clinic. In addition to the scheduled clinics, appointments can be made at the Evangelical Community Health and Wellness Center located at 7095 West Branch Highway, Lewisburg, on Mondays from 9 am - noon, Wednesdays from noon - 4 pm, and Friday from 9 am to noon or 1- 3 pm.

To make an appointment or for more information on flu/pneumonia vaccines and Evangelical's clinics, please call Evangelical's Community Health and Wellness at (570) 768-3200.

VOICE to host Speed-Volunteering event

You may not find your love match, but you could find your passion at the Speed-Volunteerism Event sponsored by VOICE—Volunteer Opportunities in Community Endeavors.

The event, slated for 5:30-7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 1, is held at the Mifflinburg Bank & Trust Company, 250 E. Chestnut Street, Mifflinburg. It is open to local residents of all ages who are interested in volunteering with local community organizations and agencies.

Unlike a traditional volunteer fair, this fun, fast-paced event introduces the community to the variety of volunteer opportunities available in the area and enables volunteers to find their passion. Potential volunteers meet briefly with VOICE members to exchange information on volunteer interests and skills, as well as organization needs, in hopes of making the perfect match.

Whether you are new to the community or recently retired; or maybe a student or working individual, there could be just the right volunteer spot for you.

For more information about this event, call 570-523-6410 or email VOICEforvolunteering@gmail.com. You can also visit the VOICE website, hosted by the Union County Library System at www.unioncountylibrarysystem.com/v-o-i-c-e/.

Snyder County Woman Writes And Narrates Stage Show

By: Matt Farrand

The inspiration of a Middleburg-area woman expressed through a story, familiar songs and dance will be staged next month.

Reservations for "Circle of Life," a SUN Area Power House Dinner Theater production are now being accepted, as doors are scheduled to open at 5 p.m. with dinner served at 6 on Friday, Oct. 11 and Saturday, Oct. 12 at the Silver Moon Banquet and Catering Complex, Lewisburg.

Lori Hoke, from Kissimmee, said the storyline first came to her in a dream.

"God gave me a script and I wrote it," Hoke said of her story of John and Maggie Moyer, a man and a woman reminiscing from the porch on the event of their 50th anniversary.

Producing the show was similarly inspired. "I just felt like God was leading me into doing a dinner theater, and bringing people out to experience that everyone has gifts and talents in them," Hoke said.

Hoke, a first time playwright, adapted familiar songs to give extra meaning to the drama. She also performs as Anna Moyer, the narrator for the story described as how a couple made a dream come true.

"The 'Circle of Life' is all about us being born, living, and passing on," Hoke said. "It is what we are doing when we are living; we are supposed to be living out those dreams that are inside of us and I always had a passion for writing and for drama and God has given me the opportunity to use it" Hoke added.

Hoke's father passed away during the preparation for a previous production at the Freeburg Community Center, Hoke's mother passed away during preparation for the upcoming show. "I really believe that God is showing me that this is a circle of life. My mom and dad had eight children and I remember how our family would sit on the wrap around porch and our parents would tell us stories about the days gone by. Our parents left a great legacy," Hoke added.

In addition to Hoke's appearance as narrator, the cast list includes Darrell Zechman as John Moyer, Jane Klaus as Maggie Moyer, with John and Stephanie Trojan as the young John and Maggie Moyer.

There are many more team members involved in this production. Hoke said that, "God gave me a great group of people who are wonderful to work with. They make the rehearsal and production time a joy for all of us."

Tickets are available on line at www.sunaph.com or by calling 570-541-6878, until September 27. A percentage of proceeds will be donated to Grace Covenant's Raise the Roof project, a shelter for women and children, in Middleburg.

Cover Crops

Most farmers know the benefits of cover crops, but a reminder never hurts. With corn silage harvesting in full swing, there is still a good bit of growing weather left in the season for small grains. Even though this has been a dry late summer it presents an opportunity to get in a fall crop for a late feedstock. Even if you don't need the feed that the cover crop produces, it is still helpful for fall and winter application of manure, giving those of you who need to comply with the State's Nutrient Management program adequate cover for winter applications. Don't put it off! A cover crop is a good investment. It takes up nutrients and holds them for the following year, and it's great for feed as well as a great soil builder.

This year represents the 75th year of NRCS "helping people help the land." Since its inception the NRCS conservation delivery system has advanced a unique partnership with state and local governments and private landowners to deliver conservation based on specific, local conservation needs, while accommodating state and national interests.

Evangelical Community Hospital Acquires SUN Orthopedic Group, Inc.

Evangelical Community Hospital has acquired SUN Orthopedic Group, Inc., the region's premier bone and joint specialists. Under this new partnership, SUN Ortho's surgical expertise and staff combines with Evangelical's staff, leading-edge technology and facilities including eight modern and fully equipped surgical suites to provide the region's most comprehensive level of orthopedic care.

This union represents a perfect fit for both Evangelical and SUN Ortho, ensuring patients have seamless access to Evangelical's Center for Orthopedics, where procedures for the muscular and skeletal systems are performed by a unified team dedicated solely to the care of orthopedic patients.

The acquisition moves SUN Ortho under the direction of the Evangelical Medical Services Organization (EMSO) and the transition of the practice is expected to be completed by the end of 2013.

"The demand for orthopedic surgery continues to grow as people live longer and want to stay active and healthy. By officially bringing SUN Ortho into our family, we are confident about meeting that demand and offering our orthopedic patients the continuum of care that's so vital for recovery," said Michael O'Keefe, President and CEO of Evangelical Community Hospital.

Evangelical and SUN Ortho have a long relationship of working together. SUN Orthopedic Group, Inc. is a team of eight Board Certified Orthopedic surgeons specializing in the diagnosis and treatment of bone and joint disorders, and sports injuries. They offer expertise in orthopaedic surgery, reconstruction, sports medicine, musculoskeletal injuries and physical therapy.

In 2005, a partnership was formed where Evangelical and SUN Ortho began the joint replacement program. Since the inception, the two organizations have collaborated on nearly 3,300 total hip, knee, and shoulder replacements on patients between the ages of 24 and 92 years.

In January of 2013, building on the success of the joint replacement program Evangelical opened its Center for Orthopedics expanding its orthopedic focus. The comprehensive specialty unit is also available for unplanned, emergent needs such as fractures and sports injuries for the patient who required orthopedic care and rehabilitation.

Herr Library to host Dinner & Auction Fundraiser

A Big Green Egg Grill, a mountain bike, and a Penn State wooden rocking chair are just a few of the items up for bid at Herr Memorial Library's second annual Dinner & Auction slated for Saturday, October 19 at The Cellars at Brookpark Farm, Lewisburg.

This year's event includes wine balloons, a live auction, and a buffet dinner featuring Italian crusted chicken, double smoked ham, vegetarian baked ziti, roasted potatoes and vegetables, as well as wine donated by Shade Mountain Winery and a mini desert assortment.

Social hour begins at 5:30 p.m. with dinner being served at 6:30. The live auction, with auctioneer Brian "Bucky" Glass, will follow.

Cost is $30 per person and tickets are available from any board member, advisory board member or at the circulation desk at the library at 500 Market Street, Mifflinburg.

The library is currently accepting donations of items and services for the live auction, as well as bottles of wine through October 1. Donations received after October 1 may be used in a raffle or as part of next year's event.

Those interested in donating an item, service or bottle of wine may contact Kelly Walter, library director, at 570-966-0831 or visit the library's circulation desk.

Learn About Union County History

The historic Dale/Engle/Walker House, a site on the Union County Bicentennial Passport, is open for tours on Sunday, Sept 22 and all the following Sundays through October 27. House tours focus on the history of early settlers, the architecture of the house and development of the farm, and – in a special exhibit – the history of grist mills in Union County. The Wagon Shed and Milk House have exhibits on farming and dairying.

Use the Bicentennial Passport to learn about the county's history and natural resources. Those who complete the Passport will have the chance to win some great prizes such as a bike, kayak, IPAD, Union County Bicentennial coverlet, and ticket packages for creative arts performances, thanks to these sponsors: Lewisburg American Legion Post 182, Earl's Bike Shop, MePush, Buffalo Valley Outdoors, Weis Center for the Performing Arts, and Union County Commissioners. Pick up the official Passport at the the Dale/Engle/Walker House, Union County Government Center or Courthouse in Lewisburg, Union County Government Building in Mifflinburg, all Union County public libraries, Susquehanna River Valley Visitors Bureau. The Passport in PDF format, along with a complete set of rules is available at UnionCounty200.com/Events/Passport. For additional information, contact the Union County Historical Society at 570-524-8666.

Woolly Worm Festival

You're invited to be a part of the 17th Annual Woolly Worm Festival, October 12th at Hufnagle Park in Lewisburg.

At 9:30, things will kick off with music from the hometown Green Dragon marching band and conclude with the winter weather prognostication at 4:00 by our own panel of experts, with M.C. and festival founder Mike Glazer at the helm.

You'll see a team of highly skilled worm readers' measure, weigh and analyze the little furry creatures in an attempt to predict the upcoming winter. These little guys are to winter as Punxsutawney Phil is to the spring!

There will be food, Woolly Worm races, crafts, games, live music, face painters, a magic show, a petting zoo and even PONY RIDES! This is an event full of fall fun for the young and the young at heart!

For information please call Ken Kulish (pronounced "cool-ish") at (570) 594-4691 or E-mail jakul@verizon.net

This event is coordinated by the Kiwanis Club of Buffalo Valley AM in Lewisburg and proceeds are used to benefit the charities supported by our club throughout the Susquehanna Valley.

ELCA Nationwide Service Day

The Evangelical Lutheran Church of America (ELCA) is celebrating its 25th anniversary and challenged all ELCA congregations throughout the United States to participate in service on September 8. Sharon Lutheran's Sunday school children were very active for their first day of Sunday school on September 8. The senior high classes, with assistance from adults, knotted approximately 21 blankets for Kelsey's Dream. The blankets will be given to campers at Camp Dost, a camp for children with cancer. To learn more about Kelsey's Dream visit their website at www.KelseysDream.org, or follow and like them on Twitter and Facebook.

Announcing: The opening of THE COIN COLLECTOR!!!

Formerly U.S. Collectors Advocates. We purchased "THE COIN COLLECTOR" from David Foote's heir. David was a fixture in the coin collecting community for many years. We purchased the company to obtain the domain name: www.thecoincollector.com. We had been trying to find the owner of the domain for years. Now we have changed the company name to match the domain name. The website is currently under renovation. Our policy and philosophy is not changing. We are still the only company that makes the fairness pledge. When you sell us your items, you trust us to treat you fairly. That fair treatment doesn't stop when we pay you for your items. We pledge that: if we make excess profits on a coin or a collection purchased from you, you will get a share of those excess profits.

We have paid close to 100 persons residual payments that have totaled well over $10,000.00. We also look to pay you as much as we can for your items, not as little as possible. We are still working with county and local law enforcement to stop theft and to stop fraud of our Senior Citizens. We are pleased to announce that Corinne Siebert, the owner, is full time with the company. This is allowing us to expand our hours of operation at the shop. We will be open Tuesday through Friday 10 am - 4 pm. Please call ahead as we will still occasionally close for out of town shows. Ladies can be assured that they will always be treated in a fair and respectful manner in this woman owned business.

Things to Know about Medicare Open Enrollment

Fall Open Enrollment is the time of year when you can change your Medicare coverage. You can do this by joining a new Medicare Advantage plan or by joining a new stand-alone prescription drug plan (PDP). Listed below are a few things to keep in mind while you are deciding on your Medicare coverage for 2014.

Fall Open Enrollment occurs from October 15 to December 7.

If you enroll in a plan during Fall Open Enrollment, your coverage starts January 1. In most cases, Fall Open Enrollment is the only time you can pick a new Medicare Advantage or Medicare Part D plan. To get Medicare drug coverage, you must pick a stand-alone Part D plan at this time.

Review your Annual Notice of Change (ANOC): Even if you like your current Medicare coverage and want to continue with that plan, you should carefully read your ANOC to make sure the plan still features the coverage you like. Your plan can change how they cover your care each year. This means that pharmacy and provider networks can change, costs can change and drugs covered by the plan's formulary can change. Be aware of your other benefits such as COBRA, union or retiree plans. Consider all your insurance coverage when choosing a plan for next year.

Help is out there. If you are computer savvy, you can use the Plan Finder tool on Medicare.gov. The Plan Finder tool compares plans based on the drugs you need, the pharmacy you go to and your drug costs. After you have researched a plan online, call the plan itself to confirm what you learned. Make sure your doctors, hospitals and pharmacies are in network, that the plan covers all your drugs, and includes the pharmacies you use. Write down everything about that conversation. In your notes, record the date of the conversation, with whom you spoke, and the outcome of the call.

This helps to protect you in case a plan representative gives you misinformation. Or you could call the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging AP-RISE program which is the State Health Insurance Assistance Program known as SHIP. Your PA SHIP provides free personalized health insurance counseling to help you understand all of your Medicare coverage options. You can find out if you will hit the coverage gap and when you will begin to pay more for your medications. Appointments are available at local Senior Centers, Libraries and Evangelical Community Education. To schedule an appointment to review your options and/or for help to enroll into a Prescription or Advantage Plan, call the Union-Snyder Agency on Aging at 524-2100 or 374-5558.

Local Nursing Facility Dedicates $16.2 Million Health-Care Center

Those cutting the ribbon dedicating the $16.2 million health-care center at Buffalo Valley Lutheran Village, Lewisburg, Sept. 17 are, left to right, Fred and Janice Bigelow, representatives of the senior living residents advisory council at the village; Ron Dreese and Gary Baylor, co-chairs of the Love Thy Neighbor fund-raising committee; Bishop Robert Driesen of the Upper Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; Steve Daniels, executive director, Facility Planning & Development for Diakon; Esther Nissley, representative of village personal care residents; Andrew Durako, village executive director; Mark T. Pile, Diakon president/CEO; Robert Musser, village nursing home administrator; Pennsylvania Sen. Gene Yaw of the 23rd district; Jane Troutman, president of the village nursing care center resident council; Jeanne Oski, vice president, Diakon Senior Living Services; Scott Habecker, Diakon chief operating officer; Richard Barger, Diakon chief financial officer; Brad Forrey, representative of Wohlsen Construction; and Bishop Emeritus A. Donald Main of the Upper Susquehanna Synod and a former Diakon Lutheran Social Ministries board member.

"Welcome to the neighborhood!" That was a key message presented several times Sept. 17 by speakers as Buffalo Valley Lutheran Village dedicated its new health-care and rehabilitation center.

The message arises from the neighborhood concept of accommodations and care the $16.2 million center offers.

"Our new center features a neighborhood concept, which creates a more homelike and less institutional environment," says Andrew Durako, village executive director. The 102-bed center building consists of five neighborhoods—four residential and one for short-term rehabilitation, each equipped with private country kitchen and common living area. The center features a state-of-the-art, 1,900-square-foot physical therapy suite to assist residents with short- and longer-term rehabilitation.

"Even shared suites have enhanced privacy, because the bathroom area separates the two beds," explains Robert Musser, nursing home administrator, who noted that the concept "is just a beginning. It will allow us to emphasize what is called patient-centered care."

Patient-centered care involves active participation of patients and their families in how care is provided and even individual options for treatment. Moreover, the concept is respectful of and responsive to individual preferences and values, such as when one rises and takes meals throughout the day.

Speaker Jeanne Oski, Diakon vice president for Senior Living Services, thanked Buffalo Valley staff members for "the remarkable job they did in August in relocating residents from the old nursing care center to the new health-care center—all in one morning and without a hitch."

Other speakers included state Sen. Gene Yaw (23rd district), who lauded the neighborhood concept, and Musser, who spoke of the privilege village staff members have to work in what is "residents' home."

The event included a blessing of the dwelling by Bishop Robert Driesen of the Upper Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America and invocation and benediction by the Rev. Theodore Cockley, village chaplain.

In addition, Mark Pile, Diakon president/CEO, recognized a number of individuals during the event, including the local Love Thy Neighbor fund-raising committee that, so far, has raised $400,000 toward the project. Co-chairs of the committee are Gary E. Baylor of Lewisburg and a member of the village advisory council and Ronald P. Dreese, also of Lewisburg and a Diakon Lutheran Fund board member.

The event included tours of the center, as well as of senior living accommodations on the campus.

The village's former nursing care center, built in 1968, will be demolished for parking.

For more information on Buffalo Valley Lutheran Village, people may call (570) 523-4285.
