Mifflinburg's Music in the Park

By Kay Poeth

Mifflinburg Community Park was filled with the sound of music this summer. As the season wrapped up, Patsy Cline & Friends performed at the gazebo on August 17. People kept coming and coming. Over 130 people attended the concert.

Lawn chairs were scattered across the lawn. The audience members were smiling, clapping their hands, nodding their heads, and tapping their toes to the music. A mother rocked her baby in her arms. Children played on the equipment nearby.

"We saw the group in Fremont so we decided to come here," said William Baker. "We love the fellowship of the people and the music (at these outdoor concerts)."

"My brother Terry (Hoffman) and sister-in-law Ginny are performing here tonight. We were here last year and enjoyed the show. It's local and easy to get to," said Shirley Snyder. Ginny and Terry just celebrated their 53rd anniversary.

Patsy Cline & Friends Tribute Show consists of the Evans sisters Joy, Gracie, and Ginny who have been singing together since childhood, Ginny's husband Terry, and Joy's husband Bill who assisted on the soundboard. They performed a variety of songs made famous by the Lennon Sisters, the McGuire Sisters, the Andrew Sisters, Connie Francis, Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, Andy Williams, and more.

When the trio stepped off stage and out into the audience, Chester Eisenhower lamented, "I wanted them to sing to me. I would have danced with them but what would my wife say?"

His wife, Wanda, quickly retorted, "I wouldn't care."

"Your wife would expect it!" chuckled Lori Damelio.

Segue numbers were seamless from mini-set to mini-set with numerous costume changes and singer "friends" represented. The sets featured solos, duets, and the amazing voices of the trio. Of course, Patsy Cline performed several of her hits including "He's Got You." Loretta Lynn arrived on stage all the way from Butcher Holler performing her sassy hits—"Coal Miner's Daughter" and "You Ain't Woman Enough to Take My Man."

The show concluded with the Patsy Cline classics, "Sweet Dreams" and "Crazy" while the fireflies flickered across the grass.

Before and during the concert, the Tri County Obedience Dog Club provided food for hungry concert-goers. "The funds will benefit the Precious Paws Dog Program that visits various organizations such as nursing homes, hospice, first responders, prisons, and other groups," explained Cindy Yoder. "Our dogs put paw prints on people's hearts."

This year's Summer Concert series at Mifflinburg Community Park concluded with the West Branch Barbershop Chorus. There was an array of musical entertainment throughout the summer. Can't wait until next year!

Kepner Wins his First At Selinsgrove Speedway

By Debbie Gastelu

Although Kreamers very own, Kruz Kepner has won at other tracks this year, Selinsgrove Speedway was the one that he mostly wanted. He did that in convincing style as he dueled side by side with Logan Spahr, swapping leads early in the race. Kruz was able to finally make it stick and cruised to a 5.5 seconds over Austin Reed who finished second with Zach Rhodes, Ken Duke, Jr and Tim Iulj rounding out the top 5.

It was just two years ago that Kruz took the checkered flag, but was found light at the scales and had to forfeit the win. It was such a heartbreaker, especially at my home track. To be able to say I finally got a win at my home track is something I will cherish for a lifetime! Especially in front of my family and friends will be a night I will never forget. "said Kruz."

Kepner, started his racing career winning six championships in a go kart at Selinsgrove Raceway Park, the venue's fifth-mile inner oval. He joins a list of many drivers that started their racing career competing in the go karts on the small track and now winning on the fast 1/2 mile track.

Piper Wins Limited Lates at Clinton County Speedway

Winning the Limited Late Model event was Jakob Piper of Mercersburg. (Photo supplied by Track)

Jakob Piper of Mercersburg drove from the eighth starting spot to win the Limited Late Model feature on Friday night at the Clinton County Speedway. Johnny Bouse won his 6th feature of the season in the Pro Stocks. Mac Wert won his second career 270 feature while Hunter Flook was victorious in the 4 Cylinders.

LUCAS OIL LATE MODELS ON TAP THIS WEEKEND AT PORT ROYAL, DREAM RACE LAST SATURDAY

The National traveling series Lucas Oil late models will be in our area this Friday and Saturday night at the Port Royal for two-days of super late model racing. Last year when they came to town 51-drivers were on hand for two-nights of racing, with Brandon Sheppard and Jonathan Davenport winning the Friday night preliminary features of $5,000 to win, with Earl Person Jr., winning the $50,000 50-lap feature on Saturday night over Ricky Thornton Jr. Gregg Satterlee, Davenport, and Daulton Wilson. Not sure how many cars will be on hand this time, where last year the WOO series drivers had an off weekend and some of them were on hand. This year the WOO series drivers will be having their own three-day show at Davenport speedway for two $10,000 to win shows and a $30,000 to win show on Saturday. The WOO series was scheduled to be at Port back in May but was rained out. Judging by last Saturday's 33 car field, along with some other hit or miss drivers it still be a super good car count for this weekend's races. Current point's leader Ricky Thornton leads all drivers with 25 overall wins in 87 races he has run this year with 15 of them with the Lucas Series. Hudson O'Neal is second in points 350 back with Jonathan Davenport the defending series champ third another 655 back. Tim McCreadie and Brandon Overton who is running a series for the first time in years sits fifth. Last Saturday at Port Brandon's younger brother Cody Overton drove the Bruce Kane #15K to prepare for this weekend's action, so a pair of brothers will be racing. The Series has about fifteen drivers that have been to most of the series races this year, with Centerville Max Blair leading the series rookie of the year standings. Boom Briggs his teammate from Bear Lake Pa., will be on hand along with Devin Moran, last year's rookie Garrett Alberson, Georgetown Del., driver Ross Robinson, Spencer Hughes, Tyler Bruening, Tyler Erb, with a good chance that former Pa Resident Kyle Stricker will also be racing at Port. The UMP open wheel Modifieds will also be in action for two nights with those winners getting $2,000 to win. Last year 31 drivers were on hand with Eathan Dotson and Mike Altobelli getting the feature wins.

Last weekend at Port Royal Gregg Satterlee scored his second win of the year at Port and seventh of the season so far. Matt Cosner made a last lap move to second place, with Andrew Yoder in the Larry Bear #0 third. The 18-year-old driver out of Hyneman, Pa who has been traveling all over the place should be on hand, he scored a win at Port and Bedford earlier this year. There will be a good field of local talented drivers that will also be on hand. Rick Eckert is the track current point's leader by 125 over Jeff Rine, with Dillan Stake another 185 back, Trevor Feathers 200 back and Hayes Mattern fifth 215 back. This weekend's racing will be non-point shows, but there is still two point shows left this season for the division, which so far has had 78-different drivers racing at least once this year. Saturday for the 410-sprints was the 17th annual Dream race that was rained out back in July along with the Gregg Hodnett Classis which was also a make-up event. In the first feature a repeat of an early season race Devon Borden made a last lap pass of Lance Dewease to score his fourth win of the season there. In the second feature Brett Marks scored that feature win over Danny Dietrich, both feature winners collected $10,000 for their feature wins. It was announced by Mike Cleck of paving and Sealcoating that next year's dream race will pay the twin 25 winners $15,000 to win. When the sprints get back to Port over Labor Day weekend it will kick off a five-race event in eight days, with the Saturday September 2nd part of the 169th annual Juniata County Fair, they will also race on Monday the 4th, then have three nights of racing for the ALL-STAR sprints for the 56th annual Tuscarora 50 weekend. Thursday September 7th a $10,000 to win show, Friday another $10,000 to win show with the Saturday night show paying the winner $56,000 to win. Heading into all the racing coming up, Devon Borden leads the tracks point standing by 170 over Mike Wagner, Jeff Halligan is 355 back, with Dylan Cisney 605 back and Gerard McIntyre 700 back.

For the second year in a row Coleby Frye drove the Cameron Benyou #3B to the win in the Carl Billet Memorial race at BAPS speedway for the limited late models, with Frye collecting close to $2,000 for the win. Coleby does have three super late model wins this season. The event drew a nice field of 35-drivers for the event down five from last year's race. Shawn Shoemaker was second, with Devin Frey, Matt Adams, and Chad Smith next. The track has at least four more points show left.

Clinton County last Friday night finally got a limited late model show in which was the third of the season four other events getting rained out, with two left this season. Jakob Piper of Mercersburg, Pa. scored his first ever feature win at the 1/3-mile oval, at the track he has raced maybe eight time over the last few years. Piper then went to Winchester Va., speedway on Saturday night and ran with the super to an eight-place finish. Taylor Farling of Carlisle made a rare visit to Clinton on Friday with a second-place finish, it was also his first time at the track this year like winner Piper. The next race for the division at Clinton will be on Friday September 8th for the Lenny Stroud memorial race which will have some extra money added to the purse. This Friday night the Laurel Highlands 305-sprints series will be racing seventh race of the season. Timmy Bittner the points leader has three wins, with Jacob Gomola two wins and Matt Tebbs one. The series will also race on September 1st and September 15th. We are winding down the racing season get out can catch some racing before it is over.

Susquehanna Valley Mediation to Host Fall Fundraiser

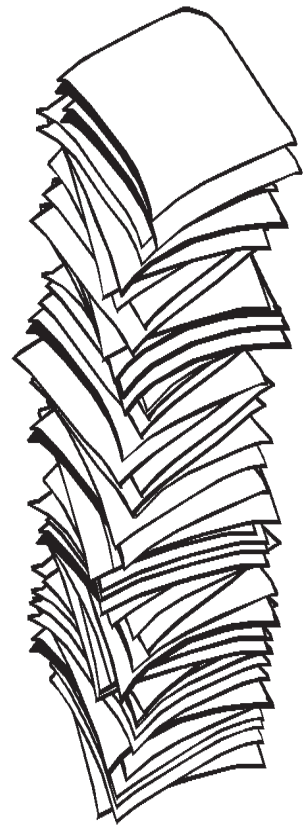

Susquehanna Valley Mediation (SVM) will host its annual fall fundraiser on September 9, 2023 from 6:30-9:30 pm. SVM invites community members to join them for a relaxing night of food, fun, and live music at Fero Vineyards and Winery in Union County.

SVM provides conflict mediation, facilitation, and education services in Union, Snyder, and Northumberland Counties, and offers specific programs for families in crisis, people involved in custody disputes, landlords and tenants, individuals returning home to the community from prison, and groups wanting to improve communication and collaboration.

All proceeds from the evening will directly contribute to Susquehanna Valley Mediation's programs and its mission to build a stronger, more connected community by "supporting constructive responses to conflict." Last year, SVM served over 1,650 people in the Valley through its programs and services. SVM volunteers gave over 2,000 hours to help their neighbors.

"We are excited to welcome everyone to our annual fall fundraiser as we come together to celebrate our accomplishments and support SVM's work ahead to help people deal with difficult conflict and prevent future harm," said Susan Jordan, executive director of Susquehanna Valley Mediation. "This event not only helps us to raise essential funds but also lets us share with people more about what we do."

Tickets for the fundraiser are already on sale. Anyone interested in purchasing tickets can do so by visiting the SVM website, www.svmediation.org. Tickets are $30 per person, or $240 for a table of eight, and the event includes a complimentary drink, hors d'oeuvres, a silent auction, and live music from the Folk Justice Band.

Evangelical Community Hospital Opens Orthopaedic and Imaging Services at Mall Location

The entrance at of Selinsgrove Imaging Center and SUN Orthopaedics of Evangelical-Selinsgrove at the new mall location.

A CT/CTA scanner at the location is a newly purchased model that is state-of-the art and offers shorter scan times, reduced patient dose of radiation, and has improved image quality. The larger bore model improves comfort for patients of larger size or who can experience anxiety while being in tight spaces. For orthopaedic patients the CT CTA technology at the new location offers a metal artifact reduction technique that creates unobscured images during orthopaedic imaging.

Beginning Monday, August 14, patients of the area can take advantage of greater accessibility to SUN Orthopaedics of Evangelical-Selinsgrove and the Selinsgrove Imaging Center. Both service offerings, previously located at 21 Susquehanna Mall Drive will now be open in their new location at the former Sears location of the Susquehanna Valley Mall.

"We are invested in providing Snyder County residents and those in the Sunbury and surrounding areas with services that are close and accessible," said Kendra Aucker, President and CEO of Evangelical Community Hospital. "This is the start of expanding the reach of the exceptional services that have traditionally been offered at or closer to the Hospital."

The new Mall location of orthopaedics and imaging at 191 Roosevelt Avenue is designed for optimized coordination and care between imaging and orthopaedic services but is also near other healthcare organization offerings at the mall whose patients can benefit from having imaging services and or seeing an orthopaedic specialist.

Puttering Around Herr Memorial Library

By Kay Poeth

The Godshall family were eager to begin their golfing adventure! Connor, 9, was ready to master Hole #1. The fun-filled Library Mini Golf was the perfect outing for a Saturday!

Mia Pietropola, 9, and Adalyn Trutt, 9, had a grand time puttering around the library during the Library Mini Golf fundraiser at Herr Memorial Library.

On the weekend of August 18-19, families puttered around the Herr Memorial Library in Mifflinburg in support of the Library Mini Golf fundraiser. The library was transformed into an 18-hole miniature golf course. The course twisted and turned through the nooks and crannies of all three floors of the library.

Each hole was decorated with a different theme. Some of the holes were easy while others were challenging. The library staff created an unforgettable event while promoting literacy and fostering a love for reading. The event was a "hole lot of fun!"

3-year old James Lawson, age 3, declared all of the holes as his favorite! His father, also named James, commented, "It was well set-up and provided an enjoyable family activity to do for the morning."

"It's a great activity to do rain or shine or whatever the temperature may be," said Pam Steele, chair of the library's fundraising committee. "Library Mini Golf is always fun! It is the fourth time that we have hosted this event. There has been a great response."

The library team sets up the entire mini-golf course using creativity and imagination. "We tried to incorporate books into the obstacles to promote the library," added Steele.

The mini-golf course included an array of themes. Construction trucks offered the warm-up challenge at Hole #1. Other holes featured dinosaur, tipped over grocery cart leading to a teepee, a gardening course, and a loop de loop in the DVD room featuring a popcorn theme and a DVD display.

"Several obstacles in our course came from the Mini Golf that was located in Mifflinburg Community Park. Those obstacles as well as all the balls and clubs were donated to the library by the Mifflinburg Borough," explained Steele.

Kurt Ilgen painted the "Read" character on Hole #6. Other holes featured a beach theme, colorful pom-poms, and a giant white bridge. Computer equipment was the basis of the Technology room's theme. No rules. Move your ball. Try again. Fun time as you get the ball in.

"I like coming here because it is a fun activity to do at the end of summer," said Adalyn Trutt.

Rusty Rail generously sponsored this year's Herr Memorial Mini Golf event. In honor of the generosity, Hole #7 featured a train theme.

"Everything at Hole #11 is gigantic especially the beach chair," exclaimed Gia Pietropola.

"I love how each hole has a theme. A lot of thought went into the design of each hole," noted Gia's mother, Kim Pietropola. "I like how they pair the library books to coordinate with the theme of the hole. It's a lot of fun!"

Hole #14 was another exciting spot as the tube weaved its way down the staircase. Anthony Pietropola and Mason Trutt used their rods like pool sticks to tap their ball. Then, the children excitedly learned over the banister to watch their ball pop out into a well of books.

"It has a loop that goes all the way downstairs!" said Mason Trutt before he raced down the steps.

Down in the teen's section, patrons tried their luck at weaving around bean bag chairs in the teen gaming room, maneuvering around bowling pins, and the grand finale of a camping scene.

Steve Solomon came out to play in support of the library. He chuckled, "It sure not like playing on the Shade Mountain Golf Course!"

Suzanne Stackhouse and Brody, 5, and Beau, 9, were ready to tackle the course. "It's a fun way to get the kids in the library. We knew we could hold this event rain or shine. It's a great fundraiser."

Priya Hartman, 7, and her mother, Brandi Arnold loaded with an armful of books and DVDs, were eager for a fun day at the library.

Library Mini Golf was a fun time for families to explore all the three levels and to see what the library has to offer. Many current patrons updated their library cards while new patrons registered for theirs. Library cards may be obtain online or in-person at the library.

"Everyone seems to like it and no one has broken a window... yet," quipped Library Director Corrie Post.

The Herr Memorial Library also hosted a successful Summer Reading Program with over 300,000 minutes read with a record number of participants.

Upcoming fundraisers include a Peach Fundraiser with order due by September 1 and pick-up on September 6. There will be a Designer Bag Bingo on Sunday, October 29. An ongoing fundraiser offers limited edition prints of the Herr Memorial Library painted by local artist, Valerie Moyer, available at the library.

Herr Memorial Library hours are: Monday-Thursday from 10 am-6 pm, Friday from 10 am- 4 pm, and Saturday from 9 am- 4 pm.

Fund Established for Woman Killed at West End County Fair

By Kay Poeth

On Friday, August 11, 2023, during the tractor pull event 33-year old Brandy Horner of Johnstown PA was killed in a freak accident at the Union County West End Fair. During the tractor pull event, there was an equipment malfunction. A piece of machinery was ejected into the crowd. A piece of the wheel struck Horner, a spectator at the event, in the neck.

The Union County West End Fair Association expressed their deepest sympathy to the family and friends of Brandy Horner on their Facebook page. "The unexpected and tragic events that took place on the evening of August 11th have left a void in the lives of those who loved and knew Brandy."

A fund has been established for the Horner Family through their church. Donations may be sent to: Saint David's Learning Center, 401 N. Main Street, Davidsville, PA 15928. Please write "Horner" in the memo line.

The Union County West End Fair also acknowledged the extensive life-saving medical efforts were made by off-duty medical personnel at the scene, Fire/EMS personnel on scene, and EMS personnel that responded to the scene. "We would like to thank the Good Samaritans who selflessly took action to help Mrs. Horner before medical personnel arrived. We would also like to thank the West End Ambulance and Life Flight for their quick response."

Just Peachy!

Edited by Kay Poeth

Everything was "Just Peachy" at the Annual Peach Festival held at Mifflinburg United Methodist Church. Stan and Diane Dippery "Can't wait to try it!"

189 guests gobbled up delicious goodies at the Peach Festival hosted by Mifflinburg United Methodist Church. All donations benefit the Mifflinburg Area Schools Weekend Backpack Food Program.

Everything was "Just Peachy" as tables filled quickly for the Annual Peach Festival recently celebrated at Mifflinburg United Methodist Church. 189 people attended this free event. Guests enjoyed hamburger BBQ, hot dogs, peach or vanilla ice cream, peach iced tea, and of course, peach pie! There were also a variety of pies, from crumbs and cobblers to classic double crust. All the food served was provided by donations.

"I saw in the paper and I love peaches. So here I am!" exclaimed Shelley Bearley.

"Can't wait to try it!" said Stan and Diane Dippery as they headed for the peach ice tea.

"All donations benefit the Weekend Backpack Food Program at the local schools," explained Pat Jordan, Administrative Assistant and Outreach Chairperson. "We feed approximately 140 students every week during the month of October. Each week the bags include 2 breakfasts, 2 lunches, 2 suppers, snacks, and drinks."

"It's been a wonderful turnout with more guests than usual," Pastor Bob Rice observed. "This outreach is for the community. One of our guests is World War II veteran, Bill Barnett."

Bill is a Navy veteran who operated in both the Atlantic Ocean and the Pacific Ocean during WWII. Bill will celebrate his 100th birthday on August 24, 2023. "I'm a peach eater," he said. "I looked forward to coming for dinner. I used to attend church here when I lived in Mifflinburg."

Betsy Robertson was enjoying her peach delights with Damaris Williard and Harper Traver. "I think it is a fantastic event that this church puts on every year for the community. As a member of this church, it is wonderful to see so many people here this year."

"Everything was delicious. I was surprised to see so many people here," added Linda Valentine.

Donations totaling $1,299.00 were received and will be used to help provide food for the Mifflinburg Area School District's Weekend Backpack Food Program during the month of October. Another outreach mission benefitting the Weekend Backpack Program is the free Community Thanksgiving Dinner.

"The community response has been overwhelming and will go a long way toward our needs for the Backpack Program," added Pat Jordan.

"Thanks to everyone who came out to support the event and to the awesome church volunteers for all you do for Mifflinburg UMC!" said Deborah Snare, Director of Christian Education and Communications.

Mifflinburg Variety Store Expands

Mifflinburg Variety Store recently purchased Keystone Housewares. The two stores are side-by-side and located at 321 Chestnut Street in the Buffalo Shopping Center.

On August 1, Mifflinburg Variety Store purchased Keystone Housewares. Mifflinburg Variety Store continues its mission to serve its customers and the community by offering a wide array of inventory. The two stores are side-by-side and located at 321 Chestnut Street in the Buffalo Shopping Center.

According to store manager, Jeff Kauffman, the two stores are combining into one. Everything is going to stay the same. The only thing changing is name, from Keystone Housewares to Mifflinburg Variety Store, and the owner. "We want to run it like the previous ownership. The only change is the ownership and the name."

Customers will still receive the same friendly service. "We want to serve the community the way we always have," adds Kauffman. He has managed Mifflinburg Variety for the past 6 years. "I will now be manager of the combined stores."

In July 2022, Mifflinburg Variety moved next to Keystone Housewares. The location offered a larger space. When Tim Yoder, owner of Keystone Housewares, decided to move his family to Virginia, the opportunity arose to purchase the business. "We recognized that the purchase of Keystone Housewares would complement the inventory of Mifflinburg Variety Store," explained Kauffman.

Mifflinburg Variety Store features shoes, work boots, sporting goods, clothing, and fabric. By adding the kitchen, housewares, and décor products, their inventory would be enhanced and provide a more options for their customers in one convenient location.

Mifflinburg Variety looks forward to serving their customers and the community for many years to come. Hours of operation are: Monday-Thursday from 8:30 am-5:00 pm, Friday from 8:30 am-7 pm, and Saturday from 8:30 am-4 pm. Closed Sundays. For more information, call 570-966-0225 for shoes, clothing, sporting goods, and fabric. Call 570-966-4100 for housewares and décor.

America's Newest Community College

Leaders from the Central Susquehanna Valley toured America's newest community college located in Erie, PA on August 9, 2023. Erie County Community College (EC3) was chartered on July 8, 2020, and held its first commencement for 28 students in June 2023. Cheryl Rush Dix, Chair of the Board of Trustees, welcomed the group.

Erie County Executive Brenton Davis recounted his staunch opposition to the establishment of Erie County Community College and used personal funds to sue Erie County to prevent the founding. As Erie County's top leader, Davis converted his position to strongest advocate for EC3 that included county funding. He witnessed that EC3 positively changed the economic trajectory of learners who were dependent on county assistance and those in ALICE households - Asset Limited Income Constrained but Employed and prepared students in skills and trades needed by Erie County employers.

Union County Commissioner, Stacy Richards inquired about the supportiveness of the Northwest PA Workforce Development Board. Rebecca Walker Dean of Workforce Development, said their area workforce investment board was supportive of EC3 and a resource for Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) funds for the community college. EC3 offers credit for certificate courses through stackable credentials, a movement by community colleges across the nation to award college credit for courses taken to acquire short term certificates in skills and trades.

Kelly O'Brien Gavin, Executive Director of the Berwick Industrial Development Association (BIDA) commented that the visit to Erie County Community College was an excellent opportunity to learn how others within our Commonwealth are addressing the workforce shortages in the vocational trades, from welding to surgical technician. "The enthusiasm and those that told their stories from having the vision, to fighting the launch and the first graduating class was enough to convince myself and others that this is not a project to be taken lightly. The end result and the product the programs will deliver are more valuable than the overall community can see at this time"

EC3 representatives confirmed that the jobs that a community college training program leads to are those sustainable wage jobs that: reduce recidivism, reduce the need for social services, reduce the number of depressed individuals in our communities, and increase pride, increase a desire to make a difference, increase support from the private sector and increase the population of a region as there are now more sustainable wage jobs and more that want to grow here, because they know WE will meet their needs.

Dr. Lenaire Ahlum, Executive Director of the Susquehanna Valley Community Education Project described EC3 as a standalone startup community college with anticipated candidacy for independent accreditation by Middle States Commission for Higher Education beginning in spring 2024. The Susquehanna Valley Community Education Project (SVCEP) has secured a university partner, Marywood University that will provide accreditation to students prior to Susquehanna Valley Community College's candidate status.

To establish a public community college in Pennsylvania, state statute requires that there be a local sponsor that is a taxing authority. The most stable local sponsors are counties with 13 of Pennsylvania's 15 community colleges sponsored by counties. The financial formula to sponsor Susquehanna Valley Community College would be $1.2 Million by the local sponsor, and equal matches from the state and student tuition. The projected economic return after 10 years is $78.5 Million and hundreds of graduates employed in our valley.
