Fire Destroys Couple's Home of 40 Years

On Monday, March 25, 2013, at 11 p.m. firefighters were called to a home on 1895 Penn Creek Road near its intersection with Boop Road, in Lewis Township, in Union County. The home belongs to Miles and Catherine Maxfield, who have lived there for 40 years.

Catherine spotted the flames and called to her husband to come out. He attempted to put out the fire but when he opened the door smoke just poured out of the enclosed side porch. A State Police Fire Marshall said the damage was too extensive to determine what caused the fire but he believes the fire originated on the side porch. The couple were able to escape their burning home without harm.

The Maxfields have insurance and plan to rebuild their home. They are currently staying with family members.

PA Dutch Life & Culture

In the days when folks made their own fabric, if they wanted a color, it was necessary to dye the fabric. So here are a few of the ways to do it.

Receipt to Colour Yellow

Take half pound of black oak bark to every pound of woollen goods, boil 1 hour in water and then take your bark out and put 1/4 pound of alum for every pound of woollen goods in the bark water, stir it well then put your goods in and work it, always keep it near boiling for 1/2 hour or more till it suits. This is the easiest receipt I know for a bright yellow it requires Solution of tin or BiChromate of Pottash Cream of Tartar &c I expect the above will answer

Receipt for Black

Take 1/2 pound Kroom to 6 pounds woollen goods boil it together very good then take it out. Take clear water, boil 3 pounds blue wood in a course bag very good then take the bag out and put the woollen goods in and boil it, take your goods in water before you dry it then it is done.

And to color your Easter eggs:

Remove and save the brown papery skins from onions. Layer these in a kettle with raw eggs. Cover with water and simmer for about 1/2 hour. Let stand until somewhat cool. Remove eggs and rub with lard. They will be of a dark mahogany color if enough onion skins are used, less will produce a rust color.

(Used with permission, from the Boyertown Area Cookbook.)

I know some folks do still use spinning wheels to make strands of wool and then weave it into fabric, and perhaps dye it also. I'd love to hear from someone who does this. Please explain the process you use.

Is the alum used to stabilize the color? What is the solution of tin or Bichromate of Pottash and/or cream of tartar used for? And what is Kroom and blue wood?

Coloring the Easter eggs this way I understand... I used to do it, even with our children. I may try it again. Can you suggest other ways to color eggs, using common items we might have around the house?

Have a wonderful Resurrection Day... Jean Markley Keiser, 1133 Carolina Ave., West Chester, PA 19380 bjkeiser@cheerful.com

Flashback

A rare interior from circa 1895 shows Jesse Cornelius on the left with an assistant. Tire shrinkers, the anvil and hand tools, along with many horseshoes, are seen. Though horse shoeing and wheel wrighting would compose the bulk of a rural blacksmith's work, it is Cornelius' distinctively marked household utensils—forged wrought-iron flesh forks, ladles, skimmers, tasting spoons, spatulas as well as brass and iron skimmers, ladles, and small spatulas that are sought by collectors today.

Three Buffalo Creek Kayak Trips Span Navigable Length Of Waterway

In April, the Buffalo Creek Watershed Alliance (BCWA) will offer kayakers and canoeists an opportunity to traverse three different sections of Buffalo Creek with stops at historic mills along the way. "BCWA is hosting three canoe and kayak adventures this spring, each focusing on separate lengths of the creek," says BCWA board member Edwena Eger. "Paddlers who sign up for all three trips will experience nearly the entire navigable length of Buffalo Creek."

On Saturday, April 6, beginning at 1 p.m., the BCWA's first excursion will cover the upper section of Buffalo Creek from Cowan to Mazeppa with a stop to tour historic Johnson Mill. On Sunday, April 14, the watershed group's second excursion will travel the lower portion of Buffalo Creek from Strawbridge Rd. to St. George St. in Lewisburg beginning at 1 p.m. This outing will include a stop at Hubler Covered Bridge near the U.S. Penitentiary.

The middle section of Buffalo Creek from Mazeppa to Strawbridge Rd., with a stop to tour Grove's Mill, the nation's oldest gristmill still in operation, will be held on Sunday, April 28 beginning at 1 p.m. Canoe Susquehanna, which will lead the excursion, will provide safety instruction and paddling techniques before putting in. A reservation and fee is required for each trip. For complete details and to register online, visit (www.canoesusquehanna.com) or call 524-7692.

Here is it... March. I wonder if it will come in like a lion and go out like a lamb. With the current weather forecast, it sure looks like it's going to be rainy and blustery for the first part of the month. And even though spring doesn't seem like it can get here quick enough, the SUN Area Dairy Promotion is already planning our pageant in May. We are putting together a wonderful weekend of events in conjunction with the Middlecreek Valley Antique Association's Spring Show May 17th through the 19th. Additionally, we are recruiting young ladies between the ages of 8 and 23 to serve in the promotion as Dairy Misses, Maids, Ambassadors and a newly crowned Princess. Anyone that is interested in representing and promoting the dairy industry from Snyder, Union, Northumberland and Montour counties should contact Michelle Shearer at (570) 568-2244 or mlshearer2002@yahoo.com.

As I was researching what I would write about this month, I found a lot of information that wasn't correct on the internet. Now, I know there is a very popular commercial on the airwaves about how they can't put something on the internet that isn't true but I have checked it out on SNOPEs and yes indeed, there are stories out there that just don't have any truth in them at all. When I was younger, my mom always told me, "Drink your milk, it's good for you". I always did, for a variety of reasons, but drinking that glass of milk was so much more appealing than the implied option of what would happen if I didn't. But in this confusing world of what should we do to put in our bodies and how much of a good thing is too much, I thought I could shed some light on when children should drink milk and how much they should have.

First, let's start with whole milk versus low-fat milk. Toddlers who are over 1 year old up to 2 years of age should be drinking whole milk. A toddler needs the fat for their brain and nerve development. After age 2, you can switch them to fat-free or 1 percent milk. While children are still under 12 months old, they should remain on breast milk or formula.

Next, how much is enough? Choosemyplate.gov recommends a child that is 2-3 years old should have 2 cups of milk. 4 to 8 years old should drink 2 1/2 servings of milk and everyone else should have 3 servings of milk every day. What counts as a cup? 8 ounces of low-fat milk or yogurt, 1 1/2 ounces of hard cheeses like cheddar, parmesan and swiss, 2 ounces of American cheese or 1 cup of pudding made from fat free or low-fat milk, frozen yogurt or 1 1/2 cups of ice cream.

So, can you have too much of a good thing? Of course you can. Dairy products are part of a nutritious diet and it's important to make smart choices from every food group. The best way to give your body the balanced nutrition it needs is by eating a variety of nutrient-packed foods every day such as fruits, vegetables, whole grains, and fat-free or low-fat milk products, lean meats, poultry, fish, beans, eggs, and nuts.

My mother is a wonderful cook and has scores of cookbooks that she has acquired throughout her life. Among her most treasured and used are those from the Pennsylvania State Grange. This is a recipe that has graced our table many times and is absolutely delicious!

Poppy Seed Chicken

- 2 pounds chicken breast
- 1 1/2 cups Ritz cracker crumbs
- 8 ounces SOUR CREAM
- 1 TBSP. poppy seed
- 1 10 3/4 ounce can cream of chicken soup
- 1/2 stick melted BUTTER

Cook and chunk chicken breasts. Place in a flat 9 x 13 dish. Mix SOUR CREAM and soup together in a bowl. Pour over chicken. Prepare topping by combining cracker crumbs, poppy seeds and melted butter in a bowl. Sprinkle topping over chicken mixture. Bake for 30 to 40 minutes at 350°F until hot and bubbly.

With Easter just around the corner, this is a recipe that my Great Grandmother handed down to my mother. With 10 children of various ages, money was scarce and Grammy Confer would make candies for her brood from this recipe during the holidays.

Easter Eggs (or Buckeyes)

Cream together: 8 ounces of CREAM CHEESE and 1/2 pound of BUTTER. Add 1 tsp. vanilla, 2 1/2 pounds of confectioners' sugar and 16 ounces of Creamy Peanut Butter OR 8 ounces of fine shredded coconut (depending on the type of eggs you want). Put bowl in the freezer for 15 minutes. Dip your hands in flour then roll the candy into egg or ball shapes. Place in freezer again for 3 to 4 hours. Melt milk or dark chocolate in a double boiler. Dip the candy in the chocolate. Set on waxed paper until hardened.

If you are looking for a low calorie dessert to serve this holiday season, try this. Its low fat, low sodium and only 66 calories per serving! Best of all, it fulfills that need for something sweet and chocolaty!

Chocolate Raspberry Mousse

- 1 package reduced calorie Raspberry gelatin
- 1 cup orange juice
- 2 TBSP. Unsweetened cocoa powder
- 2 tsp. grated orange peel
- 1 1/2 TBSP. granulated sugar
- 1 1/2 cup WHIPPED CREAM
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1 1/2 c fresh raspberries

In a medium bowl, combine gelatin, cocoa and sugar. Add boiling water. Stir until dissolved. Stir in orange juice and peel. Refrigerate 30 to 40 minutes or until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. With an electric mixer, beat gelatin mixture 3 minutes. Gently fold in WHIPPED CREAM. Divide into 8 dishes. Refrigerate 2 hours or until firm. Garnish with raspberries.

SUN TECH Students Hold Blood Drive

Phylcia Salsman, from Lewisburg, is seen donating blood at SUN Area Technical Institute's blood drive.

In February, the SUN Area Technical Institute's Health Occupation Students of America and Criminal Justice classes hosted a blood drive to benefit the American Red Cross. There were 71 participants and 60 pints of blood were collected. SUN Area Technical Institute holds blood drives every year to help promote student participation in community activities. Out of the 60 pints collected, there were 33 new 1st time donors.

"Rowdy" Busch Clean Sweeps California

By Gerald Hodges/the Racing Reporter

FONTANA, Calif.—Sunday's Sprint Cup race at Fontana was reminiscent of some of the great NASCAR races in the days of old: real racing, wrecking, fighting and cussin'.
 The first 175 laps of the 200 lap race were like many of the other boring races held at California Speedway. But after the last restart on lap 189, it was an entirely different race.

Kyle Busch, the winner of Saturday's Nationwide race led 119 laps up to that point. He was lined up on the outside, with Joey Logano on the inside, followed by Kurt Busch and Tony Stewart.
 Busch did not get a good start. Logano blocked Stewart and briefly gained the lead. Within less than a lap Kyle Busch had re-taken the lead, while Logano, Stewart, Denny Hamlin, and Kurt Busch battled it out behind him.
 Logano kept moving up until he was able to get by Busch, but right behind Logano came polesitter, Denny Hamlin. Both drivers passed Busch with about five-to-go, and battled between themselves; sometimes one going high, while the other went low, each seeking an advantage over the other.
 After the white flag was given, signifying the final lap, the racing really heated up between Hamlin and Logano. As the two cars exited turn-4, Logano drifted up the track and brushed Hamlin's No. 11.

While these two were battling each other, here comes Kyle Busch around them on the outside. Right after he cleared the 11 of Hamlin and 22 of Logano, there was a mixup between them. Hamlin's car hit the outside wall and slid down and slammed into the inside wall, while Logano hit the outside wall.

Hamlin collapsed after exiting his car and after initial examinations in the infield care center was taken to a local hospital, after complaining of back pain.

Doctors said he suffered a compression fracture in his lower spine.

Joe Gibbs Racing said Hamlin was expected to be released soon from a Southern California hospital to return home.

There was no immediate word on how long his recovery would take. JGR said he will be evaluated by Dr. Jerry Petty of Carolina Neurosurgery and Spine Associates later this week.

While Busch was driving to victory lane, Tony Stewart came flying up, and slid to a stop in front of Logano and his pit crew. Jumping out of his car, he walked briskly over to Logano's wrecked car, and started throwing punches at Logano before his pit crew intervened.

Stewart was angry and cursing afterwards to television reporters, saying, "What the hell do you think I am mad about? That little $&@!+ blocked me and kept me from winning the race."
 "For a guy that has been complaining about how everybody else is driving here and then (for) him to do that, it's a double standard. He makes the choice. He makes the decision to run us down there, and when you run a driver down there, then you take responsibility for what happens after that."

Meanwhile Logano admitted that he blocked Stewart on the restart, and said, "I had to put a block on Tony, because I couldn't let him get ahead of me. But I don't know why he's so sore, it was just racing."

While the shenanigans continued on pit road, Kyle Busch was celebrating not only his first Cup win at the California track, but car owner Joe Gibbs' first also.

"They (Logano and Hamlin) were so busy racing each other that they forgot about me," said Busch. "It was really good to come back and win like that. I knew when they both went to the inside of the track there was going to be trouble. I just put my foot down and stayed up on the outside, and hoped that I could get by the wreck, which I knew was coming."

Dale Earnhardt Jr. finished second, followed by Joey Logano, Carl Edwards, Kurt Busch, and Greg Biffle.

Matt Kenseth, the seventh place finisher jumped out to the lead early, leading the first 10 laps of Sunday's race but it was his Joe Gibbs Racing teammate, Kyle Busch, who quickly took control.

Paul Menard, Kasey Kahne, and Ryan Newman rounded out the top-10.
 Stewart wound up 22nd, while his other teammate, Danica Patrick was 26th.

Top-10 leaders after 5 of 36: 1. Earnhardt-199, 2. Keselowski-187, 3. Johnson-183, 4. Biffle-165, 5. Edwards-164, 6. Kyle Busch-163, 7. Kahne-159, 8. Menard-154, 9. Hamlin-145, 10. Logano-143.
BUSCH GETS ANOTHER NATIONWIDE WIN

Kyle Busch finished .834 seconds ahead of Sam Hornish Jr. in Saturday's Nationwide race to claim his third win in five starts this season.

"I think it's pretty cool that you can see a team go to a race track and dominate like that in a series," Busch said, "Although it's really, really awkward, because we've got nine in a row here in the Nationwide Series, and we have yet to win a Cup race here."
 Busch also extended his own record for career wins in the series, pushing that number to 54. The six wins at a single track ties his personal best; Busch also has six NNS victories at Charlotte.

 Regan Smith rallied from a lap down -- the result of an early flat tire -- to claim third, with Parker Kligerman running fourth in a Toyota owned by Busch. Austin Dillon came home fifth, followed by rookie Kyle Larson.
 Elliott Sadler, Brian Scott, Trevor Bayne and rookie Kevin Swindell completed the top 10.
 Top-10 points leaders after 5 of 33: 1. Hornish-210, 2. Smith-182, 3. Scott-179, 4. Allgaier-178, 5. Dillon-172, 6. Bayne-163, 7. Larson-156, 8. Kligerman-154, 9. Sadler-154, 10. Bowman-152.

Corbett Urge to Stay the Course on Decision to Reject Medicaid Expansion

Several PA House Republicans signed on to the following open letter today to encourage Gov. Tom Corbett not to reverse his decision to reject the expansion of Medicaid under ObamaCare for the mutual benefit of patients, doctors and taxpayers.
 "Many voices have been raised in recent days urging Governor Tom Corbett to reverse his sound decision to reject the ObamaCare Medicaid expansion. Unfortunately, some of those voices have come from Republicans lured, once again, by the promise of "free" money.
 "What we are seeing is the same old Susquehanna two-step, where public officials support policies that funnel tax dollars into private hands, and where corporate interests urge spending to supposedly help the poor; spending that, not coincidentally, puts money into their own pockets.
 "Not surprisingly, what the proponents don't talk about are the unpleasant facts about the Medicaid expansion; for example, that the federal government's promise to pay for the expansion population will last only two years.
 "Federal promises to defray costs of the expansion after that are dubious at best, especially considering the condition of the federal government's finances. Given that the Obama Administration blames budget constraints for its decisions to withdraw the deployment of an aircraft carrier group to the Persian Gulf, to release illegal aliens, and to cut homeland security; how can anyone believe it can pay for a massive new expansion of an already out-of-control federal entitlement program?
 "Regardless of one's capacity to suspend reality and believe the federal government's promise to make the payments, the money to pay for all of this still comes out of the same pocket, the taxpayer's.
 "We again congratulate Governor Corbett on his decision to reject the ill-advised Medicaid expansion and encourage him to remain strong. If Governor Corbett doesn't stand up for Pennsylvania's silent majority, the men and women who work to support their families and pay taxes, who will?
 The open letter is attached and can also be viewed at Rep-

13th Annual Hoopie Bar Crawl Benefits PACFI

The Selinsgrove Hotel is aiming to win the 13th Annual Hoopie Bar Crawl trophy for the fifth year in a row. The Hotel competes against BJ's Steak & Sea House and Bot's Tavern for fundraising supremacy. Registration for the event begins Saturday, March 16th, at 7:00 PM at the Selinsgrove Moose. All proceeds will benefit Pennsylvania Cystic Fibrosis, Inc. (PACFI).

Each participant pays a $35 fee which entitles them to a unique Hoopie Bar Crawl t-shirt, a wristband for free beer and giveaways, and the rocking sound of Y-106.5's Chad Evans from 11 PM to 1:00 AM.

Participants leave the Moose and go to Bot's Tavern from 8-9:00 PM; BJ's from 9-10; and the Selinsgrove Hotel from 10-11. Everyone returns to the Moose at 11 PM to end the evening with the sound of Chad Evans from Y-106.5 radio. Advance registration and t-shirt sales will be held at the Selinsgrove Hotel on Wednesday, March 13th from 7-8 PM and again at Bot's Café on Thursday, March 14th, from 7-8 PM.

The Hoopie Bar Crawl was begun in memory of Selinsgrove native Sarah Rathfon who died due to cystic fibrosis (CF) in 2000. Her friends and classmates wanted to honor her memory by starting an event that would help families affected by CF and also provide some monies for CF research. This year, due to the February passing of Selinsgrove native Todd Eisenhauer who also had CF, PACFI will donate a portion of the funds raised to Eisenhauer's family to help pay funeral expenses. Future Bar Crawls will be in honor/memory of both Rathfon and Eisenhauer.

The event always benefits PACFI, an independent, nonprofit, all volunteer 501(c)(3) organization that provides supports and services for families and annually funds some of the best CF research projects in the nation. More information is available on the organization's website at www.pacfi.org.

Union County Farm Bureau Celebrates Rural Roads Safety Week

With spring's arrival, warmer temperatures and longer days, farmers are heading to the fields to plant their crop across Pennsylvania. As a result, residents in rural areas will be seeing more tractors and large planting equipment on local roads. The Union County Farm Bureau is encouraging all motorists to be aware of farm equipment as they travel in rural area this spring, and all year long during Rural Roads Safety Week, April 15-21.

"As we travel back roads in spring, we often marvel at nature's beauty and we sometimes forget about potential hazards," said LeVeer Hook, Union County Farm Bureau President. "While a common sight on the roads in springtime, farm tractors, truck, wagons and large pieces of equipment can present a threat to the distracted driver. "When driving on rural roads, motorists must remain alert for large and often slow-moving equipment."

Hook added that a few simple steps can help drivers stay safe when operating vehicles on rural roads:

Don't rush - If you drive on rural roads, chances are good that you will encounter farm equipment at some point on your route. Avoid rushing and allow plenty of time to reach your destination safely. This is especially important while traveling during the months between April and November.

Pass with care - If you feel you must pass the farmer, do so with caution. Be observant of your view of other vehicles that may try to pass. Never pass on curves or hills block your view of oncoming vehicles, you are in a "No Passing Zone" or within 100 feet of any intersection, railroad grade crossing, bridge, elevated structure or tunnel. Also be careful that the farmer is not pulling to the right to make a wide left turn.

Be Patient - farmers are not operating equipment on rural roads to slow you down intentionally - instead farmers are working to provide a safe food supply. Whenever possible, farmers will pull off the road at the first safe opportunity so you can pass.

SMV = Brake Immediately - The orange triangular Slow Moving Vehicle (SMV) emblem warns drivers of a slow vehicle speed. All farm equipment traveling at speeds of 25 miles per hour or less are required to be marked with a SMV emblem. Once you see it, slow down immediately.

Remain Visible - Don't assume that the farmer knows that you are driving near his vehicle. While most farmers will check behind them whenever possible, they are concentrating on keeping their equipment on the road and avoiding oncoming traffic. Before you pass, use your car's horn to let the driver know where you are. Farmers may not be able to hear you over their equipment noise.

#Yield to Wide Vehicles - Sometimes farm equipment is wider than travel lanes. If you approach wide equipment and cannot pass safely, stop. Then pull off the road, turn around or back away safely so the equipment can pass you. Watch for pilot or escort cars which help to indicate an oversized vehicle - if you see one, pull off so the vehicle can pass you.

"Many of us feel frustration when we have to slow down behind a tractor, but consider that it only takes six minutes - the equivalent of waiting at two red lights = to slow down to 20 miles per hour when following a tractor for two miles. Use caution and drive safely on rural roads," said President Hook.

His favorite subject is Math and he is also active in basketball, baseball and soccer. Alec hopes to someday become a truck driver.

His favorite class is Math and he plays soccer for the O2 Cannons soccer team. He would like to become a professional soccer player.

The fifth grade recipient is Tiffany Heidler, daughter of Bobbie and Nate Heidler. She has a younger brother and likes to play games with her Gram.

Her favorite class is Math and she hopes to someday become a veterinarian.

Oral Cancer Month: A Survivor's Story

By: Pamela Dixon

My name is Pamela. I am a 35-year-old wife, mother of 2, a medical assistant by trade, and I am one of the 57%.

That is, I am one of ONLY 57% of Oral Cancer Survivors ALIVE five years after receiving the diagnosis. Oral cancer is cancer of the mouth or throat and it has one of the LOWEST survival rates among all cancers. It is also one of the most debilitating. For the 57% who do survive, we are often left disfigured. We have difficulty eating, some have permanent feeding tubes. It is hard for us to speak clearly and there are those who will never speak again. Tracheostomies, airways cut directly into the neck, may be necessary for us to breathe. Oral cancer is deadly and crippling. And sadly, the number of cases continues to climb each year.

"You can get cancer of the TONGUE???" This is usually the initial response when I tell people what type of cancer I had. Yes, you can get cancer of the tongue and for the record, you can get cancer in ANY part of your body. I was 28 when I received my 1st official cancer diagnosis. There is a pop song from a few years ago where the guy sings "I've been spending way too long checking my tongue in the mirror and bending over backwards just to try to see it clearer." That was me. I had intermittent pain in my tongue for months, maybe a year before I discovered the lesion. In fact, I looked at my tongue in the mirror so frequently that on the night I found the lesion, I told myself that if nothing was there this time, I was never looking again. And there it was. After months of looking and having other people look to no avail, there was finally something to see. It was a small white area with a dark "hole" in the center. It hadn't been there when I had last checked about 2-3 weeks before. I immediately scheduled an appointment with an oral surgeon and 2 weeks to the day after I found that spot, my husband and I received the news that I had cancer of the tongue. I had the left lengthwise quarter of my tongue removed surgically and went for radiation treatments five days a week for almost two months. Ten months after I finished radiation, I woke up with a swollen neck and was again told that I had cancer. The tongue cancer had spread to my neck. I underwent another surgery to remove the cancer. After being told that I had a "50/50 chance of keeping it at bay for a year" I sought a 2nd opinion and began chemotherapy and a drug called Erbitux for head and neck cancer. The 2nd surgery combined with the effects of the radiation left me with a leaking hole from my mouth to my neck and a portion of my jawbone was dead. After chemo, I needed hyperbaric oxygen treatments to try and heal the jawbone but it did not help. I then underwent a 14 hour surgery where they removed the dead jawbone and replaced it with part of my fibia, one of the two bones in the lower leg. They took tissue along with the bone from my leg and closed the hole. That was three and a half years ago.

I am not without long-term effects. I am told I speak clearly, though at times it is more of a challenge to do so. Once I was asked if I was from England because the person who asked said I sound like I have an English accent. When I yell or try to talk loudly, I spit. The look on my children's faces when I am yelling and accidentally spit on them is priceless! I am sensitive to spicy and acidic foods. I have difficulty swallowing and cannot open my mouth very far. Waiters have taken my food because I have it pulled apart and they think something is wrong with it. I have a scar the length of my calf and nerve damage to my leg, my neck, and face. My smile is a little crooked and I have a large, visible scar on my neck. Some people ask about "that nasty scar." I do not mind when they do because it is an opportunity to educate and bring awareness to oral cancer. These are battle scars. They have made me who I am today.

So how did I get lucky enough to be one of the 57%? I don't know. I don't care. I do know I could not have done it without the exceptional support of my family.

Five years and three months after my most recent diagnosis, I am NED. My surgeon recently dared to utter the word "CURED," I prefer NED. NED is "No Evidence of Disease," a term that is the "all clear" for every one of the more than 13 million cancer survivors in the US who long to hear it. Unfortunately, people with my type of cancer very often never get to hear those words or do not get to bask in their glory for long. Just slightly under 50% or very close to HALF of all those diagnosed with Oral Cancer do NOT make it to their 5 year canceriversary. They pass away at some point before they make it to the five year mark after the diagnosis. Sure, we all associate cancer with death, but the truth is that survival rates for most cancers have increased greatly over the years...MOST cancers. The survival rate for Oral Cancer is one of the LOWEST survival rates and has not changed in over 30 years. Why? What it is about oral cancer that makes it so deadly?

Oral Cancer is deadly because it is often not discovered until it is in its later stages. The reason for this is that it may go unnoticed until it becomes larger and starts to spread. I was lucky because my tongue hurt, at times a lot, so I kept checking my tongue in the mirror. Make sure that your dentist does an oral cancer screening at your regular check up. ASK them if they do this. If they tell you it is not necessary, especially if you are a nonsmoker and/or a younger person, tell them you would like them to do it anyway or find a dentist who will do it. It only takes about two minutes to have an oral cancer screening. Your dentist will look at and feel your mouth and neck. Historically, oral cancer was caused by smoking, chewing tobacco, and drinking alcohol. That is changing. The rate of diagnosis continues to RISE despite the use of tobacco declining. HPV, the virus that causes cervical cancer, is on course to cause more cases of oral cancer than cervical cancer by 2020. This is affecting young people and nonsmokers. If your dentist tells you that you do not need to worry because you are young or a nonsmoker, tell them otherwise. If you have children, ask your physician about HPV vaccinations for them. This vaccine is recommended for both females and males, starting at about age 12.

Signs of oral cancer include red and/or white patches in the soft tissues of the mouth, a sore that lasts for more than two weeks, persistent hoarseness, pain or numbness in the oral region (remember, oral cancer can be and is often painless in the early stages which is why regular oral screening is so important), a lump or thickening in the mouth or neck, difficulty moving the tongue or jaw, difficulty swallowing, a sensation that something is stuck in your throat, or pain in only one ear. If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, you need to have it checked by a dentist or physician. Any problems that you are experiencing that last more than 2 weeks need to be checked out. If the problem persists, seek another opinion!

Oral Cancer can and does happen to anyone at anytime. Make informed choices about your lifestyle. Tobacco and HPV are KILLERS. Early detection SAVES LIVES. Oral cancer has a much higher survival rate (as high as 80-90%) when discovered early!

I share my story openly because my mission is to help to save lives and offer hope. When you are lucky enough to be on the surviving side of almost 50/50 odds, you want to help change those odds for the better for everyone. And I want people who may hear the words "you have cancer" to realize that when the odds are not great, there is still HOPE. Awhile back I was at the post office and the woman helping me recognized my name. She asked me if I had had cancer and I told her I did. She said, "My daughter told me about you. You're a miracle!" Maybe I am. Looking back, it's probably at least partially true. I have been to the brink and made it back alive. There's always hope.

Lou Ann Sheets, of Montandon, along with her husband, Dale, recently donated a recliner chair for total joint replacement patients of the newly opened Center for Orthopedics at Evangelical Community Hospital, Lewisburg.

In 2009, Lou Ann received a double-knee replacement through the Joint Replacement Program and wanted to make a gift to honor Pam Harpster, RN, and Deb Reichard, RN, for the care she received during her rehabilitation and treatment. Thanks to the Sheets' generous gift, future patients of the joint replacement program will benefit from the chair that resides in their room for recovery without being in bed and goes with them to therapy where exercises and stretches can be accommodated by the chair's features.

Boy Scout Troop 536 Receives Donation

In February, representatives from Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1964 in Mifflinburg presented Boy Scout Troop 536, chartered to Christ's United Lutheran Church in Millmont, with a check for $4,000. The presentation, part of the VFWs gift of funds to several local organizations that serve youth, was especially meaningful for the Troop and for Eugene Ackley, Sr. (Sr. Vice Commander, VFW Post 1964) because his son, Eugene Ackley, Jr., is one of the Troop's 25 Eagle Scouts. Troop 536, which was formed in the late 1940s in western Union County, will use the VFW's gift in part to purchase much-needed tents and other camping equipment.

2013 Dairy Days

Over 220 attended the 2013 Dairy Day held at the Country Cupboard, Lewisburg, Pa. Virginia "Ginny" Ishler dairy complex manager at Penn State covers Strategies to Improve a Dairy Farm's Cash Flow.

Area Agri businesses and Penn State teamed together for the 2013 Dairy Day held at the Country Cupboard in Lewisburg, Pa. Over 220 people attended the meeting on Thursday March 7th.

Scott Crandell from Ritter Feeds Inc is the dairy day coordinator. "Each year we have area Agri Businesses come in and display their products and services. This year we had over 27 businesses participate. We then provide speakers that specialize in topics that are important to our clients business" The meeting is sponsored by Ritter Feeds Inc, Ag Choice Farm Credit, Penns Valley Vet Clinic, Susquehanna Valley Veterinary and Sunbury Animal Hospital.

One of the main speakers was Virginia "Ginny" Ishler from Penn State. Her topic was titled "Cropping and Nutritional Strategies to Improve a Dairy Farm's Cash Flow." Ginny gave an overview on what is covered at workshops that she and her team have presented for individuals throughout Pennsylvania. Ritter Feeds Inc and Penn State will help coordinate local meetings.

The program will focus on learning how adjustments to cropping strategies can turn a farm with a cash flow deficit into one that has cash surplus exceeding $300,000. Participants will examine records of a real farm, looking at how adjustments to cropping strategies and the resulting ration program turned the farm operation around.

Often when feeding programs are evaluated and changes made to reduce feed costs for lactating cows, the reduction is not enough to improve the margin between milk income and feed costs. The solution involves examining the big picture, from feed inventory, feed quality, cropping strategies and different ration approaches to optimize the use of home-raised feeds.

Participants will record key information from various cropping strategies to study how each change impacts the cash flow plan. Summary data from farms that have completed a cash flow plan and income over feed cost analysis will be presented to show the areas impacting dairy farm profitability. Presenters will be Penn State Extension Dairy Team members Tim Beck, Rob Goodling, Rebecca White and Virginia Ishler. Ginny and her Penn State team along with Ritter Feeds Inc will be offering workshops where individuals can meet with leaders, enter the information, and work through different scenarios to see which ones impact the dairy's bottom line the most. For more information in these workshops call 570-336-6947

Buffalo Creek Watershed Alliance Publishes Water Trail Brochure

Community volunteers associated with the Buffalo Creek Watershed Alliance, of the Merrill W. Linn Land and Waterways Conservancy, are dedicated to increasing people's understanding and use of Buffalo Creek, a watershed that occupies 40 percent of Union County.

After exploring the legal and insurance ramifications of increasing and formalizing access to the creek, the group saw the development of a water trail brochure on Buffalo Creek as the next logical step.

The brochure includes maps of Buffalo Creek as well as information about its natural and human history. The Buffalo Creek Watershed Alliance (BCWA) contacted landowners next to the creek for access points. Approved access points illustrated in the brochure are at Cowan, Mazeppa, the Dale Engle Walker House property on Strawbridge Road and St. George Street in Lewisburg.

BCWA was funded for a matching grant of $500 by the Susquehanna Greenway Partnership. To accept the $500 BCWA was asked to apply to the state Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR) for a state approved water trail. The attempt was futile as the BCWA request was denied because the creek was too small to meet all the state requirements. Nonetheless, DCNR approved the $500 match.

This brochure project was financed in part by a grant from the Community Conservation Partnerships Program, Environmental Stewardship Fund, under the administration of the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, Bureau of Recreation and Conservation. This project was awarded through the Susquehanna Greenway Mini-Grant program. To learn more about the Susquehanna Greenway Partnership, visit www.susquehannagreenway.org.

The brochures will be distributed to some 20 different outdoor and tourism agencies throughout Union County. BCWA and Canoe Susquehanna (888-524-7692) have organized four kayak trips down Buffalo Creek this spring as part of the Caring for Communities celebration.
