

Feed 500 for Thanksgiving

By Kay Poeth

Volunteers work in the kitchen to prepare meals for Feed 500 for Thanksgiving.

The outreach began in 2021 when 14-year-old Nathan Apple shared with his parents that some of his friends were not going to have a Thanksgiving meal. He asked his mother about helping their community and feeding people for the holiday. That began the Feed 50 for Thanksgiving outreach. The Apples and friends prepared the meal in their kitchen with donations from many Facebook friends. The plea to Feed 50 for Christmas followed a month later.

Each holiday the need to feed people continues to grow. The outreach meals were prepared for Thanksgiving and Christmas in 2022, 2023 and 2024. In 2024, an Easter meal was also served. In 2023, the operations moved to the commercial kitchen of Richfield Life Ministries in Richfield to meet the growing need. Thanks to the generosity of many businesses and individuals who donated the goods to make this event so successful.

Wendy gave a huge shout out of appreciation to all those who helped with the Feed 500 for Thanksgiving on Facebook (Wendy's Wonders). "There are so many that have donated. I want to thank all my delivery drivers and all my wonderful people that helped in the kitchen my husband Scott, Nathan Apple, and Sekota Stotz, Connie Burge, Cathy Nicodemus, Kathy Bettis, Dave Eia, Lee Zechman and Toni Nornhold-Longer you guys are truly a god-send."

Local businesses also contributed to the cause including donations from Empire- 50 turkeys, Bread of Life-500 butter packets, Hilsher's General Store - 28 cans of corn, Whispering Pines- 500 fruit cups, Dynamic Wings- plasticware and food containers, County Line Restaurant- gravy and David Eia- bags.

"But above all, we'd like to thank God for guiding us through this adventure and allowing us to serve Him!"

Feed500 for Thanksgiving spearheaded by Wendy Apple, her family, and volunteers were delivered in time for the holiday. Now Wendy Apple is focused on Feed 500 for Christmas. The Apple family and volunteers will be preparing free ham dinners to those in need in Snyder, Juniata, Union and Northumberland Counties. Donations are needed. Items needed include 50 hams 42 boxes of mashed potatoes, 15 gallons of ham gravy, 25 large #10 cans of corn, 500 applesauce singles, 500 dinner rolls. 500 butter pkts, 500 take-out containers, 500 forks, knives, spoons and napkins. If you are in need or a loved one is interested in receiving a meal, call 570-554-5359. Please call if you wish to donate as well.

Mifflinburg Resident Charged with Arson

West Buffalo Township, Union County- On 12/2/25 at approximately 1239 am, PSP Milton responded to 980 Walbash Road, West Buffalo Township for a report of an intentional house fire. It was determined that Benjamin Houdeshell - 65 yoa, Mifflinburg, PA intentionally set fire to his cabin. Houdeshell admitted to Trooper's that he poured gasoline on the floor and lit the cabin on fire. He immediately contacted 911, advising them of what he did. Sunbury City Band to Host Holiday Concerts

Edited by Kay Poeth

The Sunbury City Band will be performing two holiday concerts for the community this year. The first performance will be on Monday, December 15 at 7 pm at St. John's Lutheran Church, located at 3rd and Queen Street in Northumberland. The main concert will take place on Sunday, December 21 at 3 pm at the Zion Lutheran Church, located at the corner of Market and Fifth Streets in Sunbury. Admission is free.

The concert will include arrangements of traditional Christmas carols, including the most frequently recorded Christmas song, "Silent Night," and a celebratory rendition of "O Come All Ye Faithful." There will be plenty of familiar holiday songs like "Over the River and Through the Woods" and "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year." The arrangement, "Christmas in a Nutshell" is a sampler of no less than 17 popular holiday tunes. Some tunes will be woven into unlikely genres such as "The Nutcracker Suite" will be featured in a New Orleans swing version and "Carol of the Bells" will be played as a light waltz. Finally, the popular "Christmas Sing-a-Long" is certain to put everyone in the Christmas spirit.

Formed in 1895, The Sunbury City Band is composed of residents of the Central Susquehanna Valley. The City Band performs a spring concert and concerts at retirement villages and other community venues throughout the year. The organization's mission is to provide and promote musical excellence in a community setting. New players are always welcome. You can learn more about the Sunbury City Band at: www.sunburycityband.org or follow them on Facebook.

Lewisburg Children's Museum Offers Free Admission for Families on December 5

Lewisburg, PA – The Lewisburg Children's Museum (LCM) invites families to enjoy a full day of free fun, learning, and hands-on exploration during Free Friday on Friday, December 5, from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM. Thanks to the generous sponsorship of UPMC and UPMC Health Plan, admission to the museum will be completely free for all visitors.

LCM is honored to welcome Patti Jackson-Gehris, Market President of UPMC North Central Pa., president of UPMC Williamsport, who will be visiting the museum along with UPMC Health Plan mascots, Will and Gabi, to meet families and experience the playful learning happening throughout the exhibits. Families are encouraged to join a special Storytime with UPMC at 11:00 AM, where children can enjoy an engaging read-aloud inside the museum.

"Free Friday is one of our favorite ways to welcome new families and reconnect with our community," said Natalie Bond, Experience and Engagement Director at LCM. "We are grateful to UPMC for helping us make this day accessible to everyone and for joining us in celebrating the power of play." LCM's hands-on exhibits are designed for children ages 2–10 and their families to learn through play.

During their visit, children can explore many of the museum's most beloved experiences, including:

- BodyWorks, featuring a kid-sized doctor's office, a walk-through digestive system, and a life-size ambulance for pretend medical play
- Weis Markets & PlayCafé, where little shoppers and chefs can practice role-play and build social-emotional skills
- Creation Station, filled with large-scale building materials for collaborative construction
- Playtime Theatre, offering costumes, props, and stage space for imaginative storytelling
- STEM and Engineering exhibits, including our BRAND NEW Dig It! Mineral Exhibit and the always loved Rigamajig

No registration is required—just come ready to play, learn, and explore.

Susquehanna Valley Chorale Continues Cherished Holiday Tradition with Annual Candlelight Christmas

One of the region's most cherished holiday traditions, the Susquehanna Valley Chorale's Candlelight Christmas, under the direction of William Payn, will take place on Sunday, December 14 at 3 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church in Sunbury.

The SVC ensemble includes over 80 members. The performance will be accompanied by orchestra and organ, as well as a traditional candlelighting to conclude the performance.

Special highlights: SVC Limited will perform a piece as part of the program, and three soloists will be featured – Brian Crane, Josh Dearing, and Rob Speece.

The concert will include nine readings, as has been presented annually for over 100 years during the Nine Lessons and Carols service at Kings College in Cambridge, England.

Traditional Rutter carols will be presented, including "Candlelight Carol" and three arrangements by Dan Forrest: "See, Amid the Winter's Snow", "Festival First Nowell", and "Angels We Have Heard on High". The Chorale will also perform "So Many Hopes" by William Payn, "Sleep, Little Baby, Sleep" by Robert Cohen, and several other familiar favorites such as "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing", "Silent Night", "O Come All Ye Faithful", "Joy to the World" and "Still, Still, Still".

Robert S. Cohen is well known to members and friends of the Susquehanna Valley Chorale as the composer of Alzheimer Stories, which the Chorale commissioned and premiered in 2009. "Sleep, Little Baby, Sleep" is Cohen's setting of a Christina Georgina Rossetti Christmastide poem, which he composed in 2010.

Sponsors for the performance include: Martha and Alan Barrick/Coldwell Banker Penn One Real Estate, Co-sponsors include: Bernadine Richard, Central Penn Bank and Trust and Margaret Weirick and Underwriters are: Gloria Karchner, Kessey Kieselhorst and William Vandenheuvel.

Tickets are available online at SVCMusic.org, by calling 570-547-0455 or at the door.

"Milk Matters: Practical Steps to Better Milk Quality" Workshop

Dairy farmers and industry representatives invited to "Milk Matters: Practical Steps to Better Milk Quality" workshop.

LEWISBURG, PA- Dairy farmers and industry representatives are invited to attend "Milk Matters: Practical Steps to Better Milk Quality" workshop hosted by Penn State Extension this winter. The event will run from 10 AM to 2 PM on December 16 and will be hosted at The Rail Center, 184 Young Road, Lewisburg, PA.

During this in person workshop learn about why milk quality matters, best practices for reducing somatic cell count, and how to interpret culture results and take milk samples effectively. Participants will also learn to use DHIA records to track milk quality and guide culling decisions. In addition, the extension dairy team will share findings from a Northeast SARE sponsored project that identified the most common milk quality issues on Pennsylvania dairy farms.

Register as a group! $10 registration fee for the first person and $5 for any additional person. Lunch included.

This event is sponsored by Northeast SARE and JBZ Dairy Advantage.

Registration required, call Emily Fread at 704-301-3441

SUMMIT Early Learning Fosters Creative Play in Outdoor Nature Playgrounds

By Kay Poeth

The Outdoor Learning Environment offers many different ways to engage the children.

No matter what the season, for children “playing outside builds confidence, teaches teamwork, and reduces challenging behaviors. Overall, it helps children grow, learn, and feel connected to the world around them.”

Children collaborate and discover how to move a mini-boulder in the nature play area at the Lewisburg Center.

On brisk November morning, the Outdoor Nature Playground at SUMMIT Early Learning was filled with laughter, engagement, collaboration, and learning. Two girls carried a long stick together up the hill and over a bridge. Then they switched who was in the lead. Others were playing in the mud kitchen at one end of the play area. A boy was busy analyzing how to move a mini-boulder in the yard. Soon, he was joined by five other children. Together, they engineered a way to lift the heavy stone using a stick. They moved it several feet away. Teachers were observing as the children were actively engaged in a number of activities.

Doug Bertanzetti, SUMMIT Executive Director was enthusiastic about the Outdoor Learning Environment (OLE). “Children need to spend less time on screens and more time experiencing the natural world around them. Nature-based play helps children focus better, think creatively, and solve problems. It keeps them active and healthy, improves their motor skills, and lowers stress. Playing outside also builds confidence, teaches teamwork, and reduces challenging behaviors. Overall, it helps children grow, learn, and feel connected to the world around them.”

Natural playgrounds are designed to encourage creativity, problem-solving, and collaboration. Features like loose parts – sticks, stones, leaves, and other open-ended materials – give children the freedom to invent, explore, and imagine. Whether it’s climbing, digging, swinging, or building, children are learning through movement and experimentation. As the seasons change, the opportunities for new exploration unveils.

With a generous grant from the Charles B. Degenstein Foundation, SUMMIT Early Learning began to develop a nature play area at their Lewisburg Center. It encompasses a 7,000 square-foot wooded area with trees, benches, a mud kitchen, sand table, stepping stones in a dry creek bed, a hill for running and rolling (and soon snowman-making), sticks, leaves, insects, tree stump seating, heavy rocks for climbing, cut logs, buckets, water table, rock sorting station, binoculars and more. And, the children love it!

According to Bertanzetti, next year, “We have plans for raised vegetable and flower beds and a butterfly garden with butterfly bushes and bee loving plants.” A music wall is in the plans as well.

By using the nature play areas during both the morning and afternoon sessions, SUMMIT teachers say that they have fewer behavior problems in the classroom and children nap better when they spend time outdoors, especially in our nature-based spaces. By incorporating spaces for gardening, dramatic play, music, art, and exploration, a nature playground becomes a living classroom where children can explore science, math, language, and the arts in meaningful and memorable ways. In natural settings, children engage all their senses, move their bodies in new ways, and build the foundation for lifelong healthy habits.

During Staff Training in August, Elizabeth Marcello, STARS Technical Assistance Coach, Outdoor Play-Based Learning, Community Connections for Children, provided the SUMMIT team with information about outdoor learning and natural playgrounds. Elizabeth explained the importance of outdoor learning for children. Spending time outdoors provides time for exploration, creativity, social emotional development, time with the natural environment, and fun with friends. The staff learned ways to incorporate nature into their lessons inside the classroom as well as ways to take their math, science, and reading lessons outside in nature.

“Our Lewisburg Center’s OLE is the furthest along but we have some really interesting plans under way for our Susquehanna Children’s Center including a local Eagle Scout working on a project with us,” said Bertanzetti.

At the Outdoor Nature Playground at Mifflinburg, there are paths for riding their tricycles, benches, a rock-climbing apparatus, a mud kitchen, and more. SUMMIT has also been working with Bucknell University. One of their Management 101 classes selected Summit to participate with them this semester! Management 101 Company B built the Mifflinburg Children’s Center two raised deck for the infants so that they can be outside. They built a music wall for the toddlers. They built two raised garden beds for the preschool playground and had a local builder build a mud kitchen for the preschool playground and the toddler playground.

Additional and future grants will contribute to the creation of nature spaces at SUMMIT Centers in Selinsgrove, Middleburg, and Lewistown thanks to the Selinsgrove Moose Lodge and The Community Giving Foundation. SUMMIT is thrilled to have such great community partners and be able to offer these new play and exploration opportunities for children and teachers alike!
